BRITAIN'S FOOT ON M'ANDREW'S NECK: GORMAN

Says Tyrant George Is His Boss.

The crown of George III., tyrant king of England during the American revolution, is still venerated at Columbia university, and from this comes the guilt of William McAndrew, superintendent of schools, according to the testimony given before the school board yesterday by John J. Gorman, former congressman.

For, at that university there is a professor, David Saville Muzzey, whose book, "The History of America," was approved by Mr. McAndrew for use by Chicago's school children.

Propaganda for Britain.

And under the influence of King George's tyrant diadem, Muzzey wrote into his history of America, said Gorman, "an insidious, vile lot of pro-British propaganda, which scorned the high motives of the American colonists, insulted their achievements in battle, and presented the British side of the controversy."

It was written, said Mr. Gorman, just a year after Lord Northcliffe, addressing the English Speaking union in London, made this statement:

"We must subsidize the best American writers, speakers and editors, so that from books and from the rostrum the American mind very soon will absorb it all, and have the British view clearly before them. We must distribute the books free if necessary."

Disobedience Is Charged.

Mr. McAndrew is on trial before the members of the board of education, charged with insubordination because he refused to accept the version of the school board lawyer in a lawsuit filed by teachers against the board, and with unseemly conduct because he permitted the use of unpatriotic textbooks.

The trial is being conducted under the direction of J. Lewis Coath, president of the board of education, elevated to that post after he publicly promised Mayor William Hale Thompson that he would discharge McAndrew because the educator was a tool of the king of England.

Muzzey's history was banned from the schools of New York while Mr. McAndrew was in charge of the textbook division there, and after a public complaint had been lodged against it, Mr. Gorman testified.

O. K.'s Objectionable Histories.

Nevertheless, when McAndrew came here to head Chicago's school system, he twice gave his approval to Muzzey's textbooks, and permitted them to be used widely in the high schools, Gorman said.

Among some of the most striking things the witness said he found while perusing the textbooks at the request of Mayor Thompson were these:

"The capital of Massachusetts was the center of vulgar sedition, where King George's enemies went about in homespun and his friends in tar and feathers."

"The Boston Tea Party was the last straw. The colonists had added insult to injury."

"The Continental congress was a group of quarrelsome pettifogging lawyers and mechanics."

George Washington was termed by Muzzey a dictator, a tyrant, and a despot, and was called in the book the "Stepfather of his country," Gorman testified.

"The Muzzey textbook is utterly unfit," the witness said, "to be put into the hands of our school children, unless we would have them grow into British subjects. Three states, Washington, Wisconsin, and California, have passed legislation directed against it. Supt. McAndrew not only approved it, but defended it under fire."

Heroes Are Omitted.

Omissions were as bad as the distortions in the text, Gorman testified. There was little or no mention of such heroes as Commodore Perry, "Light Horse Harry" Lee, Baron de Kalb and Baron von Steuben, Kosciosko, Pulaski, and others, he declared. John Paul Jones and his brilliant sea victories were dismissed with one short sentence. It does not tell, said Gorman, how the British general, Hamilton, ordered Indians not to bring in colonist prisoners; that he wanted scalps, not prisoners. It ignored the fact that Washington's bodyguard was composed entirely of Germans, the witness said.

Trustee Charles Vopicka said he was much concerned by Mr. Gorman's testimony, and he demanded to know if Supt. McAndrew was responsible, or whether the principals who had recommended the books to the superintendent were to blame.

"It makes me warm to hear these things," said Vopicka.

The trial will be resumed next Wednesday at 2 p. m.

ALDERMEN TAKE UP MATTER OF M'CUTCHEON COW

John T. McCutcheon's cartoon in last Sunday's TRIBUNE suggesting a huge statue of Mrs. O'Leary's cow as a memorial to the fire of 1871 drew official attention at the city hall yesterday. Ald. Guy Guernsey [5th] proposed that it be built.

The city council's finance committee was discussing the feasibility of buying the old O'Leary property at Jefferson and DeKoven streets when Ald. Guernsey cited the advantages of Mr. McCutcheon's monument.

"A brilliant, public spirited idea, that," he told the committee. "Aircraft beacon, mooring mast, and everything. Let's put it up. It would only cost $30,000,000, at most $60,000,000 and what's $60,000,000 to us?"

The committee, however, did not choose to spend the money at the moment, despite Ald. Guernsey's plea, and solemnly referred his suggestion to the 1928 budget. It asked its real estate subcommittee to look into the matter of purchasing the O'Leary property. Ald. A. J. Prignano [20th], sponsor for the purchase, said he thought it would take only $15,000 or $20,000. A two story apartment occupies the site now.

INVENTS DEVICE TO TEST LIQUOR BEFORE DRINKING

New York, Oct. 13.—[Special.]—A device by means of which a drinker can determine quickly and unerringly whether he is about to imbibe good liquor, synthetic liquor, wood alcohol or other adulterant, is attracting a great deal of attention at the Electrical and Industrial exposition.

The apparatus is a new development of the application of ultra-violet light announced by Dr. Herman Goodman of the Illuminating Engineering society. No drinker who owns and understands the operation of one of these detectors, according to Dr. Goodman, need ever drink anything but the best of liquors, if any, unless he is unable to overcome a faith in the synthetic brands, born of numerous experiences without deadly effect.

What's a Cab in a Cheese Expert's Life

Ingols Sigvid, who describes himself as a Norwegian cheese expert supervising the erection of a cheese factory in Waukesha, Wis., arrived at the Union station yesterday.

His baggage consisted of two large suitcases, so heavy that they might have been filled with cheeses wholly without holes. He lugged them across the station to the cab stand. There he chose a Yellow because, he afterward explained, that was his favorite color in cabs as well as cheese.

"Drive me to the Stevens hotel," he said.

It was done. In front of the hotel he left the cab with his suitcases. There was a certain peculiarity in the way he left. He ran through the front door and he failed to pay what the taximeter called for.

In, Out, and Away Again.

Instead of registering, he went out another door while the cab driveer was following him. A second cab stood at the second door and Mr. Sigvid stepped in.

"Drive me to the Otis building," he said.

On the way the cheese expert argued with the driver that red lights should be disregarded. Finding he was losing the argument, he swung the door open and leaped into another Yellow. Again he had failed to pay the meter charges.

"Drive me to the Hotel Sherman," he said.

If Mr. Sigvid looked behind—it is uncertain whether he did—he would have seen that the driver of cab No. 2 had been joined by the pilot of cab No. 1 and surmised there was to be a concerted effort to collect. He must have realized something of the sort, because when he left the third cab he left at a sprint.

Three Drivers in Pursuit.

With three cab drivers pursuing now, he went in one door of the Sherman and out another, barely escaping capture, and entered a fourth cab. Guests of the hotel were surprised at the odd sight of a Norwegian cheese expert leading three chauffeurs in what was apparently a game of tag.

"Drive me to the Stevens hotel," said Mr. Sigvid to driver No. 4.

So, with three cabs in pursuit, he went back to the Stevens. He did not pay and four cab drivers pursued him this time. They were close behind.

Mr. Sigvid was equal to the emergency. He maneuvered the man hunters into an elevator going to the basement while he took one going up. A few seconds later he dashed downstairs, out of a door and into a fifth cab.

"Drive me to the Union Bank of Chicago," he said.

Four cabs followed. At the bank he ran up to the desk of John Gullickson, a vice president.

"Lend me $250 quick," he begged. "I have to pay some taxicab bills."

The banker shook his head and Mr. Sigvid ran out—by another door. Then, with five taxicab chauffeurs and six mounted policemen following, he took his sixth cab and ordered that it proceed to the Union station.

"I don't like this town and I am going to leave it," he said.

Boys and girls and men and women followed as the chase dashed through Madison street. At the bridge, with a crowd of several hundred looking on, the cheese expert was surrounded and captured.

In the Suitcases Were—

He still had his suitcases. At the central station they were opened. The contents were bricks and telephone directories. Mr. Sigvid called Mr. Gullickson and asked him to furnish bail. Mr. Gullickson asked the police to keep the cheese expert away from the bank. Three of the cab drivers, Arthur Hirsch, Paul Rosen, and John Guzor, signed complaints. The police, after hearing the story, decided to send Sigvid to the psychopathic hospital for examination.

Report Ileana Elopes with Navy Officer

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
[Copyright: 1927: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Oct. 13.—A dispatch from Bucharest, sent by way of Vienna, says the Roumanian capital is agog over a rumor that Princess Ileana, 19 year old daughter of Queen Marie of Roumania, has eloped with a young naval lieutenant, who formerly was an aide-de-camp to her father, the late King Ferdinand.

It is said that the princess, who accompanied her mother on the tour to the United States last year, and the young lieutenant have been in love for some time. The princess recently was rumored betrothed to King Boris of Bulgaria.

Ministry's Statement.

The dispatch says the Roumanian ministry of interior told newspaper correspondents it had no informatioin that Princess Ileana had gone on any trip.

(Associated Press dispatches said that the minister of the royal household had issued a decree forbidding Roumanian newspapers to publish news concerning the whereabouts of members of the royal family or of any trips taken by them. This might indicate that the ministry of interior was withholding something concerning the young princess.)

Reports Princess Missing Two Days.

New York, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The New York Evening Post late today printed a special dispatch from Bucharest saying rumors were prevalent in the Roumanian capital that Princess Ileana had eloped with a young naval lieutenant. The princess has been missing for two days from her usual haunts, the dispatch said, and is thought to be on a yacht in the Black Sea.

The cable to the Evening Post read:

"Prince Carol's youngest sister, Princess Ileana, has been the cause of worry in governmental circles and the subject of gossip in society circles.

"Rumor has it that Princess Ileana, following Carol's example and in defiance of all court etitquette and custom, has thrown overboard the Bulgarian King Boris and all other suitors for her hand and has eloped with a young naval lieutenant whose beauty and courtly manner caused him to be selected among thousands of eligible officers as the late King Ferdinand's aid de camp.

Won Princess, Report Says.

"The lieutenant didn't have much to do around the palace, so he improved his time by cultivating Princess Ileana and succeeded in winning her hand.

"For many days Ileana hadn't been seen in Bucharest and every one was wondering what had happened to her until the story leaked out. The government did its utmost to prevent the elopement becoming known."

(Only about three weeks ago Princess Ileana was reported rescued after being tossed about in a small boat during a storm on the Black sea. She had gone out for a moonlight sail when a sudden squall struck the open boat and nearly swamped it. Those on board were rescued by a German steamer. Before her visit to America, during which she was in Chicago for some time, Princess Ileana had been reported engaged to Prince Humbert of Italy, King Boris of Bulgaria, the Prince of Wales, and other royal personages.)

Effort to Steal Gas Is Almost Fatal to Thief

Efforts of an unidentified man to steal gas, presumably to cook moonshine or "alky" at the expense of the gas company, last night almost cost him his life. A fire department squad, called to the spot, found the victim lying beside a gas main that he had opened in front of 2311 West 25th street. They revived the victim, and while the firemen and police were making inquiries as his identity among residents of the neighborhood he managed to slip away.

SHIP RESCUES GIRL AND PILOT; PLANE IS BURNED

On Way to Azores; Land Tomorrow.

BULLETIN.

DAKAR, Senegal, Oct. 14.—(AP)—Dieudonne Costes and Lieut. Joseph Le Brix, French aviators, hopped off at 6:23 o'clock this (Friday) morning on the trans-Atlantic section of their flight from Paris to Buenos Aires. Their immediate destination is Port Natal, Brazil, a distance of about 2,000 miles.

BY CAPT. GOOS.
[Commander of S. S. Barendrecht.]

Aboard Dutch Tanker Barendrecht, Oct. 13.—(By radio to the United Press. Copyright, 1927, by United Press.)—Miss Ruth Elder and her navigator, Capt. George Haldeman, landed alongside our tanker at 10:30 a. m. today after flying for five hours with no oil pressure in their motor.

Their monoplane American Girl had encountered a severe storm during Wednesday night. Heavy winds buffetted them from 7 p. m. Wednesday until 2 a. m. today.

The storm caused the plane to be blown off its course.

Both Miss Elder and Capt. Haldeman were extremely fatigued by the arduous journey but escaped injury when their plane landed on the water.

While we were trying to take the American Girl plane aboard one of its gasoline tanks exploded twice and the plane burned up.

The whole plane burned up and nothing was saved.

We intend to land the crew of the airplane at the Azores on Saturday morning.

WHIPPED BY STORM.

The foregoing dispatch clears up the mystery of the rescue of Miss Elder and Capt. Haldeman.

For twenty-six hours, from the time they left Roosevelt field at 5:04 p. m. Tuesday until 7 p. m. Wednesday, the 23 year old girl and her pilot encountered almost perfect flying weather. Their engine was working smoothly.

But all that the world knew was that the plane American Girl had been sighted by the steamer American Banker at 10:35 p. m. Tuesday, some 560 miles off the Atlantic coast. About fifteen and a half hours later they hit the sea alongside the Dutch craft.

When they were rescued by the Barendrecht they had been in the air 41 hours and 26 minutes. They had flown about 2,700 miles at an average speed of 72 miles an hour.

The difference between 72 miles an hour and the 100 mile an hour average they had expected to make tells its own graphic story of their battle. For seven hours—from 7 p. m. Wednesday to 2 a. m. Thursday—Miss Elder and Capt. Haldeman, with all their consummate skill, fought their way against that storm.

SET SEA FLYING RECORD

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
[Copyright: 1927: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, Oct. 13.—Ruth Elder and her companion, despite their failure to reach Paris, broke all records for all-water flights by flying 2,574 miles.

The twelve hour vigil at Le Bourget airdrome, where a small crowd waited for Miss Elder's plane, the American Girl, was ended shortly after 5 p. m. today when Commandant Le Renvoise of the airdrome received a radio message reading:

"Landed by S. S. Barendrecht with broken oil line. Both Haldeman and I O. K. (Signed) Ruth Elder."

A message from the captain of the Barendrecht, which is a Dutch oil tanker, said the plane was destroyed by fire today while the ship's crew were trying to salvage it. The ship gave its position at 43.34 north latitude, 21.39 west longitude, which would place it between 300 and 350 miles northeast of the Azores and within about 800 miles of Europe's mainland. The plane American Girl, therefore, had covered about 2,700 miles of its scheduled flight from New York to Paris, a distance of more than 3,800 miles.

Due in Azores Tomorrow.

The Barendrecht, which is bound for Baytown, Tex., is due at the Azores on Saturday and it will land the girl aviator and her companion there then. Miss Elder and Capt. Haldeman probably will come to France by boat, according to a message received at Le Bourget tonight. The French officials are eager to lend the plucky American girl and her co-pilot any plane they want. It is believed they may fly from Bordeaux to Paris. The capital is elated over the news of the rescue and is eager for the sight of the woman who attempted such a feat.

While repeated efforts have been made to get in direct touch with the Barendrecht again to learn more of the rescue of the two flyers, these attempts had failed here up to a late hour tonight. This is explained by the fact that the tanker's radio sending set has a range of only about 150 miles, making it necessary for the ship to relay its messages through other vessels in the vicinity. The message announcing the rescue early today were relayed through the steamship Bayano to the Devizes wireless station.

French military aviators, French, English, Dutch, and German commercial pilots, and a handful of Americans waited through the long, misty, chilly day for the American Girl.

A few newspapermen and photographers arrived at Le Bourget before dawn, but it was around 5 a. m. when the spectators began arriving, as the newspaper accounts estimated that the plane could not reach Paris before 5 o'clock this morning.

Americans Wait for Plane.

The French showed little interest their business preoccupations requiring them to go to work. The Americans included the leisure class of the American colony, tourists, and a few leftovers from the American Legion convention, with their brilliant orange colored caps.

Capt. Richard D. White, naval attaché, and Maj. Barton K. Yount, assistant military attaché at the American embassy, came to the field at 8 a. m., and Dr. Hipwell, representing the America Aero club, and Clifford Harmon of the International League of Aviators arrived later.

The crowd grew restive as the thick haze, obscuring the ground from above, made it seem impossible that the flyers would ever find Le Bourget, even if they succeeded in crossing the Atlantic and flying over France.

The airdrome lunchroom did a thriving business in whiskies, brandies sweet cocktails and beer, and worked hard serving several hundred lunches for the famished spectators.

Pilots from the incoming airline planes from Berlin, Cologne, Strassburg, London, and Rotterdam asked for news of the American Girl, and airdrome attachés rushed to question them about weather conditions over the channel and over England.

Fear for Flyers.

As soon as the big passenger planes rose into the air and circled the field they were lost to sight in the haze. When noon approached the feeling was general that if the American Girl reached France it would be forced to land somewhere between the coast and Paris, as the thick weather made accurate piloting impossible, except for an aviator with a full knowledge of the terrain.

The newspaper correspondents and photographers immediately began arranging to charter special airplanes to fly wherever the plane was reported landed, and the airdrome officials started telephoning the various government ministers, demanding that they instruct all branches of the services to telephone immediately if the plane was discovered.

THE TRIBUNE had a big blue Farman machine tuned up and ready to jump in whichever direction the flyers were reported, but as the afternoon wore on and the weather became thicker, the pilots and director of the airdrome began worrying whether any plane could take off in the dense mist and try to make a landing in an unfamiliar spot.

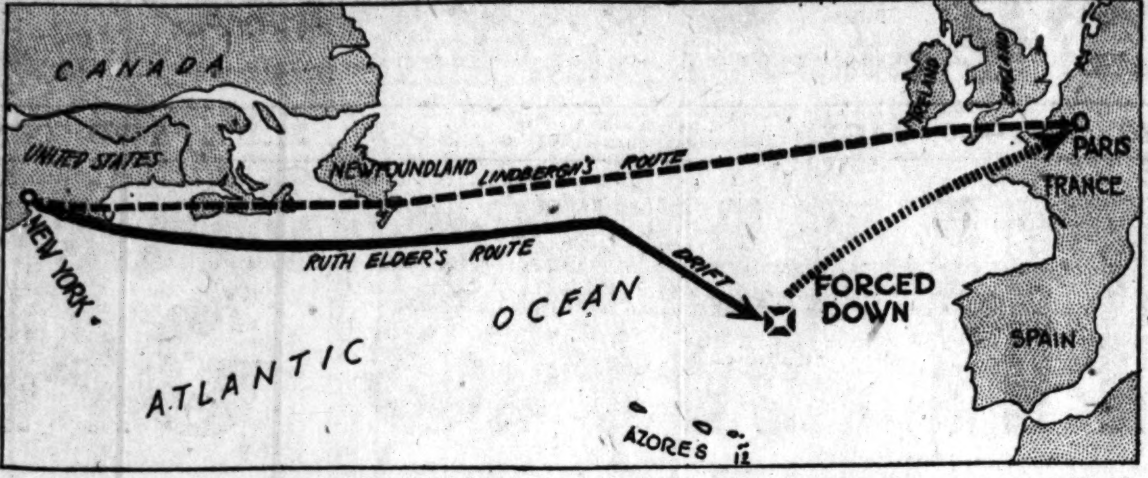
Crowd Dwindles.

The crowd, which numbered 1,000 about 9 a. m., at 10 a. m. had dwindled down to 600, and by the middle of the afternoon only 200 were left.

As nightfall approacned the airdrome officials had aerial rockets and giant flares brought to the field for signals, as the American reports insisted the plane had sufficient gasoline for a flight of forty-eight hours if necessary.

Then came the report that the American Girl had landed in the ocean and the flyers had been picked up early today. The Barendrecht had to relay the radio message, which was sent early today. This accounted for the delay in its receipt here.

GIRL FLYER RESCUED AT SEA AS PLANE BURNS



The cross marks the approximate location of the spot at sea where Ruth Elder and Capt. Haldeman of the airplane American Girl were picked up by the tanker Barendrecht. They were probably less than 1,000 miles from their goal, Paris, when forced down by a broken oil line. The rescue ship is taking them to the Azores.

AVIATION LEADERS PRAISE RUTH ELDER'S FEAT IN SEA FLIGHT

New York, Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Leaders in aviation, including some who themselves have been closely connected with trans-Atlantic flights, joined today in paying tribute to Ruth Elder and her co-pilot, George Haldeman, who were forced down when within a few hundred miles of the European coast.

Clarence Chamberlin, who flew to Germany with Charles A. Levine, said: "It was a remarkable flight, considering the time of year. The Atlantic abounds with storms and dangerous winds and fog during the fall. The girl had good nerve and George Haldeman deserves immense credit for accomplishing what he did. They would have been better off if they had used a seaplane."

Guiseppe M. Bellanca, designer of the trans-Atlantic plane used by Chamberlin, said: "If they had got all the way over it would not have accomplished much for aviation. The first planes found out about all that there was to be learned. This flight is more important than those that followed the first flight, however, because it was over a course new to airplanes."

Some women characterized the undertaking as "foolhardy" and a "waste." Dr. Katherine B. Davis, social and welfare worker, called it "a mistaken thing for a young girl to do."

Mrs. Winifred Sackville Stoner, founder of the League for Fostering Genius, declared a "good typist is of much more service to humanity."

SHIP'S MESSAGE

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

[Copyright: 1927: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Oct. 13.—A message announcing that the Dutch oil tanker Barendrecht had picked up Ruth Elder and Capt. George Haldeman of the plane American Girl, reached London late this afternoon.

The message, which was relayed, read:

"Saved crew of the flying engine NX 1384 from New York to Paris. Both well. Engine destroyed by fire while saving. Trying to land both at the Azores. Position 43.34 north 21.39 west."

The Barendrecht's ship brokers in London said the tanker left Rotterdam for Houston on Oct. 8 and should now be 1,000 miles out at sea, which would mean that the American Girl came down somewhere between the Azores and Land's End, England.

Ship Passengers Rejoice.

New York, Oct. 13.—[Special.]—The following message was received here early tonight:

"S. S. Leviathan, via Wireless.—Relayed from several ships, including the Olympic, the message from the rescuing steamer Barendrecht was received by the Leviathan at 3:35 p. m., ship's time.

"Commodore Hartley reports everything is being done to raise the steamer or the Azores, but he has failed so far. The islands are 400 miles from the Leviathan now and it is 10 o'clock. Lipton, Ambassador Houghton, Levine, and all the passengers were glad to hear of the rescue. A strong northeast wind is blowing and the day's run is 596 miles."

RUTH'S MESSAGE LIKE ONE FROM DEAD, HUBBY SAYS

Tells How He Tried to Stop Flight.

[Copyright: 1927: By the New York Times.]

BALBOA, Canal Zone, Oct. 13.—"If Ruth had been lying dead in a casket and then got up to put her arms around me I wouldn't feel any different than I do now," said Lyle Womack this afternoon when he received a message from his wife, Ruth Elder, saying:

"Landed by steamship Barendrecht. Both safe, uninjured. Wire later. Love. [Signed] RUTH."

Mr. Womack immediately sent the following reply via Paris:

"With love for the bravest girl in the world. Anxiously waiting your return. [Signed] LYLE."

"Of course, I am sorry she did not succeed, but I am so glad she is safe," Mr. Womack said. "I wouldn't have cared if she had landed at Sandy Hook."

Tried to Stop Flight.

He explained that he had done everything possible to prevent the flight and had come to Panama expecting his wife would join him here soon. He had prevented her taking off on Sept. 23, when the weather was reported only fair, and exacted a promise that she would not go unless the meteorological conditions were favorable. When he received notice that the special Atlantic weather reports for aviators would be discontinued on Oct. 10 he considered his troubles ended. Then on Oct. 11 he received the following cable:

"So long, sweetheart. See you soon. Please help me to make it. Have faith. I'll return to you. I love you. "[Signed] RUTH."

"Lived at Cable Office."

"Since she took off, sleep has been only a matter of minutes with me," he said. "I have lived at the cable office."

Asked if he would urge his wife to give up flying, he replied:

"That depends on her. She loves it. Reporters in New York tried to kid her about flying and she showed them she could do it. I have flown with her many times and know. Haldeman is a wonderful aviator, too."

Replying to a question as to whether he would approve of another trans-Atlantic attempt, he said:

"Of course I would not. That's a thing a man can't become accustomed to."

Mr. Womack and Ruth Elder were married at Birmingham, Ala., on Sept. 28, 1925. Miss Elder is well known here.

PROMOTERS OF GIRL'S FLIGHT RUSH TO CASH IN ON THE VENTURE

New York, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Promoters of Ruth Elder's attempted flight to Paris are attempting to "cash in" on the venture.

H. E. Cornell of Lakeland, Fla., one of the promoters, declined to cable Miss Elder instructing her to send a dispatch to American newspapers describing her flight. The story of the flight, Cornell said, had been sold to a syndicate, and anything that Miss Elder might send to any other newspapers would ruin the commercial value of her story.

"We're going to keep this thing bottled up until we sell it," T. H. McArdle, another of the promoters, told newspaper men who were seeking information. "I don't mind telling you that the fliers were instructed to talk to no one until they heard from us. Any one would be dumb not to know there is money in this, and we would be dumb if we didn't take it."

The New York Herald-Tribune will say that McArdle's refusal to consider anything less than an offer that amounted to about $150,000 for "Ruth Elder's Story," with an immediate payment of $25,000 was met with an offer to pay $1,500. The dickering continued with waning interest, last market quotations reporting the promoters willing to listen to bids involving a total profit to them of considerably less than $20,000.

BOYISH COURTESY WINS CRONBERG A $100,000 BEQUEST

"I can't tell you," said Alfred Cronberg of 4320 North Francisco avenue, yesterday when asked whether he knew what it was about his personality and friendship that caused Robert Forsyth, late millionaire consulting enginee, to leave him $100,000 in his will.

Mr. Forsyth met Cronberg, now assistant manager of the Racquet club, fifteen years ago when the latter was a boy employed at the Chicago club. He was impressed with Cronberg's courtesy and they became friends.

"It's just a manner, I suppose," Mr. Cronberg continued. "Mr. Forsyth took a liking to me. I often went on trips with him and we were frequently together. But I certainly never expected anything like this."

GAS DEATH FOUND ACCIDENTAL.

A coroner's jury yesterday decided that Frederick Kull, 32 years old, had turned on the gas plate in the home when he brushed against it, and returned a verdict of accidental death. The body was found seated at the kitchen table.

M. E. Vasan Elected State Building and Loan Chief

M. E. Vasan of Quincy, Ill., was elected president of the Building and Loan Associations of Illinois yesterday at the final session of the annual meeting in the Oak Park Arms hotel. J. S. Ryzicki, Chicago, was elected vice president; W. B. Whitlock of Springfield, secretary; and O. W. Walkup of Galesburg, treasurer.

TWO PLANES DELAY FLIGHT OVER ATLANTIC

LISBON, Portugal, Oct. 13.—The scheduled flight to New York of the Junkers plane D-1230, piloted by Fritz Loose and carrying Lillie Dillenz, was postponed again today when engine trouble developed after the flyers hopped off intending to fly to the Azores.

Plane Down for Repairs.

WILHELMSHAVEN, Germany, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The Heinkel hydro-airplane D-1220 rested on the waters of the inner harbor here tonight after another start on its flight across the Atlantic to the United States by way of the Azores.

The plane took off yesterday from Warnemuende bight, but radiator trouble caused it to make a forced descent at Brunsbuettel on the Elbe river. This morning Chief Pilot Hort Merz took the plane for a cruise over the North sea, but after three hours of flying brought the plane down here. Minor repairs were made and it is expected the flight will be resumed tomorrow.

NEWS OF OCEAN RESCUE CHEERS MRS. GRAYSON

Old Orchard, Me., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—"Thank God; it's wonderful," were the words with which Mrs. Frances Grayson greeted the news of Ruth Elder's safety.

She was sitting in an automobile, soaking wet from the rain and the waves that broke over her as she inspected her plane, when the news came over the hangar telephone. Mrs. Grayson had just hurried to the hangar a mile from her hotel, upon hearing that her plane was being dashed by the heaviest waves in ten years along the Maine coast.

Mrs. Grayson's arrival put new life into the workers trying to save the plane. She waded and inspected, giving a hand here and there. The peak of the tide found a tired crew, but they set to work with hammer and saw to build a wooden runway, so that the heavy ship might be transported to a point of safety. Late at night it was completed.

UTH'S PARENTS N PARADE OF JOY VER HER RESCUE

Mother Leaves Sickbed as She Receives News.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Pleasure was expressed by President Coolidge here today when he was informed of the safety of Ruth Elder and Capt. George W. Haldeman.

"I am glad to hear they are safe," he said.

Anniston, Ala., Oct. 13.—"I'm here and my daughter is safe, that's all," was the simple statement of Mrs. J. Elder of this city, mother of Ruth Elder, when told today that her daughter, who started Tuesday on a nonstop flight across the Atlantic had been picked up at sea.

Mrs. Elder, who is in poor health, had been in a highly nervous state since Ruth started on her flight across the ocean. She was in bed part of the time, but did not sleep much Wednesday night, hoping to hear from Ruth. Ruth's father and her five young brothers and a sister, Mrs. James lass, had waited at the Elder home all morning for some news. Mr. Elder showed his first signs of breaking down when told that Ruth was safe.

Mrs. Elder this afternoon received a brief cablegram from Ruth, it read: "We are safe and no one any worse off. Landed by steamship Barendrecht. Wire you plans later. Love, Ruth."

Family Drags Out Map.

After members of the family had read a newspaper bulletin they dragged out a map in an effort to locate Ruth's whereabouts. Friends began to arrive at the home to offer congratulations. Mrs. Elder seemed to care little whether her daughter had reached her goal. It was enough for her to know that Ruth was safe. Ever since she learned that her daughter planned a flight to Paris, Mrs. Elder had been in constant anxiety. She tried to persuade Ruth to abandon the flight.

As soon as the news spread, Anniston joined in the rejoicing, bells were rung and factory whistles blew. A celebration tonight took the form of an automobile parade with Mr. and Mrs. Elder in the first car. Mayor idney J. Reaves announced that an official welcoming celebration would be held when Ruth returns home.

Mrs. Haldeman Cables Flyers.

New York, Oct. 13.—[Special.]—"Congratulations. Love. Finest wishes to you both. Virginia."

Mrs. Virginia Haldeman, wife of George Haldeman, navigator of the monoplane American Girl, wrote this message today for transmission by radio to her husband and Ruth Elder, rescued off the Azores.

She frankly admitted when she first heard that her husband was safe she cried for joy and relief.

"I'm thrilled with the news."

"I'm so happy I hardly can speak," she said. "Yes, I was blue this morning when no word came from George. I did not give up hope of his safety, but I did think the worst.

Demonstration at Lakeland.

Lakeland, Fla., Oct. 13.—(AP)—The home of Ruth Elder and George Haldeman outdid itself today in wild jubilee over news that the trans-Atlantic flyers had been picked up at sea.

Cables Ruth to Go on to Paris.

Wheeling, W. Va., Oct. 13.—(AP)—"Go on to Paris," was the terse message of instruction tonight from Wheeling backers of the American Girl trans-Atlantic flight to Miss Ruth Elder, Lakeland, Fla., aviatrix and her co-pilot, George W. Haldeman, now safe aboard a Dutch tanker nearing the Azores.

Capt. Haldeman requested instructions after he and Miss Elder had been snatched aboard the steamer from the ocean.

"Miss Elder wanted to go to Paris," said Joseph D. Holloway, one of her sponsors. "She tried hard to get there by plane, and to turn them back now would be cruel and indicative of a lack of appreciation for loyal service. Let her go on by steamer and reap the glory which is justly due her."

The Wheeling backers are jubilant tonight over rescue of the flyers.

5 OLIVET ELDERS CALL MINISTER PACIFIST; RESIGN

Discharge of Assistant Pastor Causes Row.

Five elders of the Olivet Institute church have resigned in a dispute which for a time divided the church into opposing factions, and which finally was settled by the presbytery of Chicago, it became known yesterday.

One of the reasons given by the elders in their formal resignation is "because of the unpatriotic utterances from the pulpit by the Rev. Norman B. Barr, the accredited minister of the Olivet Institute church."

The chief reason given, however, was the dismissal by Dr. Barr of his assistant minister, the Rev. John Charles Knox. The dissenting elders, it is revealed, appealed on Mr. Knox's behalf to the presbytery, a select committee of which, after a hearing, supported Dr. Barr's action.

Dr. Barr Pastor for 31 Years.

For 31 years Dr. Barr has been the guiding genius of Olivet institute, which is a social service and community center, located at Blackhawk and Cleveland streets. He has bulit it up until its buildings and other assets now are valued at $750,000.

The elders who resigned when the presbytery overruled their plea for Mr. Knox are W. I. Hillyer, Joseph Haas, Thomas Bennett, Walter F. Foss, and H. H. Kelow. Mr Haas said last night that Dr. Barr recently from the pulpit termed the United States Supreme court a "Court of Hell" for having sustained the courts of California in imposing a prison sentence upon a woman convicted of seditious utterances. Dr. Barr has referred to himself frequently as a bolshevik, and had announced that he never would be forced to follow the American flag, according to Mr. Haas.

The Minister's Reply.

Dr. Barr, in reply, said he had referred to the Supreme court decision as a "hellish" one, because it stirred up trouble and denied the constitutional right of free speech. He never referred to himself as a bolshevik, he said, and concerning the American flag, his statement has been that "I will follow the flag and the cross and when they separate, I will follow the cross." The clergyman said he preferred not to discuss Mr. Knox's dismissal, that he was content to rest upon the statement that the Chicago presbytery had upheld his action fully.

It was stated that the Rev. Mr. Knox, at the suggestion of the presbytery, accepted three months' salary, promised that he would not add to the controversy and would leave the city, and is now pastor of a church at Pipestone, Minn.

Charles M. Thomson, former judge of the Appellate court, chairman of the board of trustees of the institute, characterized the dispute as a tempest in a teapot, and he said the rebellious elders were a small minority. He said Mr. Knox sought to usurp the position held by Dr. Barr.

Du Pont, Delaware Senator, Undergoes an Operation

New York, Oct. 13.—[Special.]—United States Senator Coleman du Pont of Delaware has undergone an operation at the Manhattan Eye, Ear and Throat hospital, it was learned today. Hospital authorities refused to give out any information regarding the nature of the senator's illness, or the outcome of the operation. The senator's secretary said that he was "doing nicely."

Soapless Shampoo

Cheer up, you men with difficult cases of dandruff, dry and itchy scalp, and rapidly thinning hair. Complete correction of these is merely a matter of discarding old-fashioned ideas of soap shampooing, and learning the new way to hair and scalp health.

RAVOL, (triple duty), a hair wash, antiseptic and scalp tonic all in one, is the new way. It brings to the hair and scalp a degree of health and cleanliness never obtained from ordinary soap shampoos.

As Superior to Ordinary Shampoos as an Airplane to an Ox-cart!

RAVOL is soapless—it contains no alkali whatever. Hence it is 100% free from hydrolysis.* It contains no alcohol, acid, or any other injurious substance.

It is a pure plant product that unites instantly with the excess oil and greases that accumulate on the scalp. It picks up every tiny particle of dirt that lodges in the saw-tooth surfaces of the hair. It foams as it works—a sign of its tremendous cleansing power.

At the first touch of water RAVOL disappears—taking with it every last bit of impurity that dulls the richness and thwarts the full growth of your hair. It leaves a cool, exhilarating tingle that tells you your scalp is happy at last.

Take the Endorsement of Experts.

Below is printed an excerpt from a letter from Hair & Scalp Institute, Inc., America's largest light therapy institute for the prevention and elimination of Baldness and Scalp disorders. Read what they have to say of RAVOL—

What Is Hydrolysis?*

All soaps and soap products contain a certain amount of caustic soda or potash (lye). This caustic content is harmless so long as it remains in the soap itself, but the addition of water causes it to "hydrolyze" and form an alkali. It is this liberated alkali that brings that sting and itch to the skin.

RAVOL, because it is soapless and pure, can not hydrolyze. There is no alkali to be liberated. Hence there is not the slightest trace of irritation to the scalp.

RAVOL, the wonder product, is now available at an insignificant price. A 4-ounce bottle, with complete instructions for using—

Put Her Wise!

Your wife, your sister, your daughter or sweetheart will bless the day that she learned about RAVOL. Put her wise and her gratitude to you will be undying.

For RAVOL reveals the hidden beauty in woman's hair—beauty that has remained a slave to old-fashioned ideas of shampooing. With RAVOL her hair will, for the first time, be completely relieved from the dulling, dimming shroud of excessive oiliness and foreign particles. It will glow again with its natural, healthy lustre and sheen.

She'll find, too, that her hair will hold a marcel or permanent much longer if she washes her hair with RAVOL just before having it waved. Put her wise!

"Dealing with cases of hair and scalp disorders exclusively, we know that the most important thing is a thoroughly clean and disinfected scalp. We have long striven to find a shampoo or soap which would measure up to the standard requirement for all of our various types of cases. It remained for RAVOL to fill our needs in a thoroughly satisfactory manner both from the viewpoint of our patrons, as well as ourselves. We use it exclusively and do recommend it to anyone."

Fears Lowden-Thompson Feud May Break Him.

the national convention instructed by Thompson was a different matter. It not only brought threats of reprisal from the Lowden camp but threatened to split some sections of the Small camp downstate where Lowden is strong.

Political observers say that Thompson will be forced to carry out his threat and run against Lowden as soon as the former governor announces himself, and some definite Lowden statement—at least an expression of consent to have his name go on the ballot in Illinois—is looked for soon.

Men close to Lowden say that he has no desire to be a candidate but feels that a refusal to run after he has accepted leadership in the movement for agricultural relief would be a breach of faith. This also was the opinion of a Republican national committeeman from a northwestern state who passed through Chicago after attending Chairman Butler's recent conference in Washington.

Says Lowden Must Run.

"It is clear," said this committeeman, "that no man can refuse to make the race in the face of such persistent and such general pressure as Lowden has been through. His activity has put him in the leadership of agriculture and he could not refuse to run now without throwing down those who have supported him in that leadership."

Small's situation also has been complicated by the terms of peace laid down by Thompson when they met on Aug. 19. Within twenty-four hours of that meeting, Thompson, who indicated his hand was forced by newspaper conjecture, issued a statement showing he had demanded that Small publicly throw Fred Lundin overboard. The governor's close associates say this can be arranged only by Lundin's voluntary withdrawal from state power. And Lundin is "missing."

Await Lundin's Return.

The "poor Swede," as he calls himself, went to Europe last summer to leave the way open for Small to seek a reconciliation with Thompson. Lundin said he wouldn't be back until after Oct. 1. Later letters from him indicated that he would be back between Oct. 10 and Oct. 15, and yesterday, Oct. 13, the men enjoying his confidence said no word had been received from him. They said they didn't know whether he was abroad, at sea or in this country. In the meanwhile, it was said, Small is waiting to see him before he accepts or rejects the crucial part of Thompson's peace terms.

Mayor Thompson, in confirming the report that he might favor Longworth with convention votes, indicated a strong desire to see President Coolidge reverse his decision and accept the nomination.

MALT BEVERAGE DEALERS ASSAIL DRY INTOLERANCE

Reviewing the results of eight years of the Volstead law, members of the Retail Malt Beverage Dealers' Association of Illinois, closing their forty-eighth annual convention at 3102 Sheffield avenue, last night, sent resolutions to congress, calling for "immediate relief."

"A brief review of this period of intolerance shows that crime is on the increase, that our courts are clogged and that many crimes go unpunished because a criminal can buy immunity from grafters who were elected to public office as the exponents of dry intolerance," say the resolutions.

Mrs. Ruth Hanna M'Cormick to Speak at G. O. P. Picnic

The Republican Women's clubs of Du Page county will have their annual picnic tomorrow at the residence of Mrs. D. A. Raymond at Hinsdale. Among the speakers will be Mrs. Ruth Hanna-McCormick, Mrs. Lottie Holman O'Neill, Miss Helen Bennett, and Charles W. Hadley. Luncheon will be served free to all comers.

SCHOOL BOARD CLERKS ASKED TO REVEAL POLITICS

Positions of the 250 civil service clerks who recently displaced the so called "teacher clerks" employed in the public schools may depend on the caprice of precinct politicians, it was disclosed yesterday with the distribution of questionnaires among the clerks.

It was his refusal to displace the "teacher clerks" with civil service employés that led to the suspension of Supt. William McAndrew, now on trial before the board of education on charges of insubordination.

"For what precinct are you responsible?" and "What other persons in your precinct are holding political jobs?" were two of the queries in the questionnaire, which bore no indication as to its source. The recipients were requested to return it to their ward captain.

Michael Kelly, labor director of the school board, assured the clerks, on appointment, that politics was in no way responsible for their places and warned them against political activity of any kind, it was recalled yesterday.

ROUSING SPAIN PERILS DICTATOR AND PUPPET KING

Assembly of "Yes Men" Seems Last Straw.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Oct. 13.—The grip of the De Rivera tyranny in Spain is menaced by an upheaval of the people which threatens to rock the Spanish throne.

The king, Alfonso, and the tyrant, Gen. De Rivera, are beginning to feel in more ominous fashion the tremendous pressure of popular indignation since the convening of the new national assembly.

It is impossible to tell any of these facts while one is in Spain. The writer, besides keeping in close touch with the situation from the French capital, just has spent some time investigating the situation in the peninsular monarchy. He attended the opening session of the national assembly. It is nothing but a group of yes men chosen, not by any vote or convention representative of the people, but selected by De Rivera alone to give a color of popular representation in his iron handed conduct of the affairs of Spain which become daily more scandalous.

King Weeps at Soldier Graves.

The king seems to be making some gestures to regain the confidence of the people. He stole away from his official inspection of the army during his visit to Spain's protectorate in Morocco last week and proceeded, with two army officers, to the military cemetery of Annual, outside Melilla. Here he knelt down and cried at the sight of 5,000 graves of Spanish soldiers, victims of the ambush by Abd-el Krim in September, 1921, when the Moors overwhelmed Gen. Silverstre's army. This can be told here outside the scope of the censor, who elides everything considered dangerous to the government that newspaper men dispatch from Madrid.

King Selected Dictator.

The king's tearful homage is the crux of the whole dictatorship, and the national assembly which convened Monday, and permits the revelation that it was King Alfonso himself who selected Gen. Primo de Rivera to overthrow the government in 1923 after a parliamentary investigating committee learned that the king himself was responsible for Gen. Silvestre's debacle.

Fired by the military achievements of the rest of Europe when Spain was neutral, the king promoted the youthful captain, and his personal favorite, Silvestre, who became a captain-general commanding the troops in the Melilla sector.

Then, without confiding his plans to the government, or even to Gen. Berenguer, commanding the entire Spanish forces, King Alfonso authorized Capt. Gen. Silvestre to thrust forward from Melilla.

Without caution, the young commander drove his columns southward amid the rocky fastnesses, where the Moors ambushed them.

Capt. Gen. Silvestre escaped to Melilla and, it is believed, ended his life, although his body never was found. It was rumored that King Alfonso assisted him financially to escape from the country.

King Alfonso selected Gen. De Rivera to form a dictatorship and disperse parliament, when, after two years of investigation, the courts' investigation committee had conclusive proof of his responsibility for ordering Capt. Gen. Silvestre to attempt the advance without informing Gen. Berenguer or the government.

Since then Gen. De Rivera has strangled all attempts by socialists or others to raise the question of responsibility for the Melilla disaster, but the socialists and laborites refused to participate in the present selected assembly unless assured that they could reopen the question.

Gen De Rivera and the king both hope that during the three years' life of the national assembly the question of Melilla will fade, and that in 1930 the socialists will agree to forget about the matter.

VOTE DR. BUNDESEN $20,000 FOR PLANS FOR NURSES' HOME

An appropriation of $20,000 to pay for plans for a new nurses' home at the Municipal Contagious Disease hospital was granted to Health Commissioner Herman N. Bundesen yesterday by the council finance committee. The committee also approved Dr. Bundesen's request for a chief industrial inspector at $300 a month.

Society Woman Starts Suit Asking $200,000

Mrs. Frank Townley Brown, society woman, filed a $200,000 suit in the Superior court yesterday against Bror G. Dahlberg, manufacturer, and his wife, Mrs. Mary Virginia Alexander Dahlberg, of 999 Lake Shore drive. Only a praecipe, not stating the cause of action, was filed and Mrs. Brown's attorney, Lloyd Faxon, refused to disclose the nature of the action.

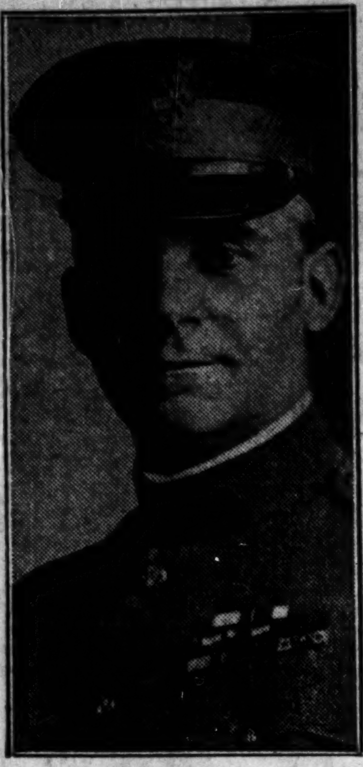
CHIEF OF ARMY SUMMONED BACK; DUE TO SPEECH?

Coolidge Calls Summerall to Budget Conference.

RECALLED



Maj. Gen. Charles P. Summerall.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Maj. Gen. Charles P. Summerall, chief of staff of the army, has been recalled from his western inspection trip by President Coolidge for a conference on the budget program of the army for next year, it was explained here late today on behalf of the President.

Everett Sanders, secretary to Mr. Coolidge, made this announcement tonight after a day of mystery over the sudden departure of Gen. Summerall from the west for Washington.

Mr. Coolidge authorized the statement that he wished to confer with Gen. Summerall about the budget program. Other than this there was no comment on his behalf.

Similar Actions Recalled.

The President has taken similar action in the past, members of his party recalling that during the campaign of 1924 he called Secretary Wilbur to Washington for a conference on navy plans just before the secretary was to make a speech in Denver.

While there have been indications that there was some dissatisfaction over a speech made by Gen. Summerall in the west, those about the President insisted that Mr. Coolidge was interested solely in conferring with the general about the budget.

Gen. Summerall spoke while in the west about army housing facilities, and this question is included in the budget plans for next year.

ON BUDGET OR 'ON CARPET?'

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Announcement at Pittsburgh that President Coolidge has recalled Maj. Gen. Charles P. Summerall, army chief of staff, from the west coast to participate in a budget conference, the first of next week, was received with surprise in official and high army circles tonight.

Opinion was divided as to whether the President intended to question the general on his recent outspoken criticism of the administration's handling of the army housing problem or simply asked for the return of the army chief of staff because he wished to expedite the regular hearings on the budget.

In some quarters it is rumored that the President will ask Gen. Summerall to explain his recent speech at San Diego, Cal., where he was quoted as stating that the army is perishing without funds as the result of the failure of the administration to realize the needs of the service.

Lord Denies Friction.

Officials recalled that Maj. Gen. Summerall had been making a determined fight for more funds for housing and general preparedness purposes than Budget Director Lord believes the army needed. Mr. Lord denied today, however, that any friction existed between him and the army chief of staff. He said that, of course, various people disagreed as to the amount of money needed for national defense, but he added that he considered Gen. Summerall a very good friend.

Many believe the President summoned Gen. Summerall to Washington because of a desire to have the advantage of the general's view before definitely making up his mind on this year's army budget. Under Secretary of the Treasury Mills announced today that the treasury expected to get its surplus estimates next week in order to have them in shape to present to the house ways and means committee on Oct. 31. It is believed the President is anxious to clear up budget controversies so an estimate of possible tax reduction by this congress can be worked out.

Gen. Summerall left on his western trip early this month for an inspection which would have kept him occupied until Oct. 24.

Should the general be taken to task for his utterances at San Diego, it is believed that it would result in a new congressional investigation of housing conditions in the army and an airing of the regulations "muzzling" officers.

During his speech at San Diego Gen. Summerall was quoted as stating that "he considered the army a mere skeleton living like immigrants or like prisoners of war instead of soldiers of the United States." "The question is one of money," he was quoted as continuing, "and until the administration is aroused to the real need nothing can be done, and in the meantime we shall continue to perish by fast degrees. The housing situation in the army is a disgrace."

Summerall Declines Comment.

Ogden, Utah, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Explaining that "a good soldier never talks but does what he is told," Maj. Gen. Charles P. Summerall declined tonight to comment on his sudden departure for Washington. He was met here by reporters on an eastbound train.

Asked if there was any likelihood of an appropriation in the budget to improve housing conditions at army posts, the chief of staff simply reiterated "a good soldier does as he is told. He never talks."

Gen. Summerall is accompanied by his aid, Lieut. George J. Foster.

RISQUE PLAYS OF BROADWAY GIVEN WARNING

New York, Oct. 13.—[Special.]—District Attorney Banton announced today that three risque plays of Broadway are in danger of being raided and the licenses of the theaters revoked.

Warning has been sent to the producers, especially against nakedness of some members of the casts, but the names of the offending plays was not officially made known. The general opinion, however, was that the district attorney has in mind "The Trial of Mary Dugan," an Al Woods piece, and two Brady & Wiman productions, "The Command to Love" and "Women Go On Forever."

Mr. Banton announced his determination "to rid the New York stage of naked women by backing patrol wagons up against the theater doors and taking the offenders, just as they are, before night court magistrates, so we can see just what the audiences have to look at."

New York, Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Market value of New York stock exchange memberships took another spurt today, when arrangements were made for a sale at $265,000, which is $15,000 higher than the most recent sale last week. The sale is subject to approval of the exchange. Names of the buyer and seller were not revealed. Not long ago the quarter million figure was regarded as a peak which would not soon be reached.

JUDGE REFUSES MME. SCHWIMMER U. S. CITIZENSHIP

Pacifist's Fight Ends in Court Climax Here.

Mme. Rosika Schwimmer, international feminist and pacifist, leading lady on the Ford peace ship of 1915, former ambassador and minister plenipotentiary from the republic of Hungary to the republic of Switzerland, yesterday came up before Federal Judge George A. Carpenter for final hearing on her petition for American citizenship.

Mme. Schwimmer has hitherto described herself as an "uncompromising pacifist, and absolute athetist, and without a sense of nationalism." Her application had been held up by naturalization authorities because she had answered "No" when asked the question, "Would you bear arms to defend the United States?"

Climax of Two Year Fight.

So with her personal attorney, Miss Olive Babe, and Attorney William B. Gemmill of the American Civil Liberties union, the Hungarian author and lecturer appeared in the United States District Court of Appeals. And as she faced the bar she was at the end of a two year fight to become a citizen of this country.

The hearing opened with Judge Carpenter looking gravely down into the eyes of the plump, turbulent little propagandist for peace at any price. Mme. Schwimmer is 54 years old. She had to answer certain questions. Judge Carpenter started with a leading one:

"Are you willing," he asked, "to be sent on some such mission as nursing in time of war?"

And Mme. Roskia countered with this:

"I will obey every law of the United States, but I will not fight physically."

Miss Florence Holbrook, principal of the Wendell Phillips junior high school, and Miss Frances Bird of 635 Wrightwood avenue, a stenographer, who had testified that Mme. Schwimmer would make an excellent citizen, stirred slightly, as they stood behind her.

Would Spread Pacificism.

"If you became a citizen of the United States," continued Judge Carpenter, "would you spread your propaganda of pacificism in your writings?"

Mme. Schwimmer answer:

"I always will write my views if I am asked to."

There were several other questions and answers, then came the question of Mme. Schwimmer's feeling of nationalism. She gave her views, amplifying them.

"I mean that as a Hungarian I am willing to renounce it for American citizenship," she said.

Judge Carpenter considered a moment. Then he went on:

"We have a great deal to give when we confer citizenship on an alien," he said. "We must forget our various views on pacifism when a time of war comes. We cannot come in half way."

Again the jurist stopped, and when he went on he leaned down over the bench and looked most earnestly into Mme. Schwimmer's eyes.

"If you were called to service as a nurse in time of war," Judge Carpenter said, "and an enemy entered with a pistol in hand to kill an American soldier in your care, would you kill him if you had a pistol in your hand?"

"No," Mme. Schwimmer answered.

"That is all," Judge Carpenter said. "Your petition is denied."

NEW ELECTRIC DEVICE RESPONDS ONLY TO POLITE CONVERSATION

New York, Oct. 13.—[Special.]—The Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company demonstrated today an electric mechanism which, when addressed in a proper tone, replies by means of sound waves within the human voice register, gives correct information, and executes various commissions.

At the first syllable transmitted to it the automatic employé lit a series of lights; at the second it started an electric fan; at the third it turned on a searchlight; at the fourth it operated an automatic sweeper; at the fifth it started a signal lamp.

This device responds only to sound. It will do nothing unless addressed in the proper tone. If the tone is too high, or too low, or off key, the machine gives no heed. But if addressed in the correct manner it becomes a perfect subordinate, answering promptly and precisely what is asked of it.

One of these laboratory made men was so constructed that at the cry of "Open Sesame" it opened a door.

CEILING CRASHES NEAR GRAIN PITS; 7 PERSONS HURT

There have been many times when traders said the bottom had fallen out of the market at the Board of Trade, but yesterday was the first time the ceiling fell down. Plaster and tile fell from a section about ten feet by twenty in the Board of Trade building and injured seven persons.

E. F. Chapin, 81, of Highland Park, who has been a provision broker on the board for fifty years, was the most severely injured. At the Alexian Brothers' hospital it was not determined whether he had a skull fracture or just a severe contusion.

Hurt by Plaster.

Others suffering lesser injuries are James Gallagher, 40, of 1026 Oak Park avenue; Arthur J. Pollock, 32, of 2230 North Avers avenue; Gardner B. Van Ness, 32, of 840 Wellington street; Frank Sterro, 19, of 1636 North Keystone avenue; Frank Lusia, 17, of 1158 West Ontario street, and Francis Calloran, 23, of 4206 North Lawndale avenue.

It was estimated that the weight of the material that suddenly fell on the seven men was between 600 and 700 pounds. They were in and about the telephone exchange in what is known as the smoking room and which adjoins the grain pits. Hundreds of board members were at their usual trading activities, and the noise of the crash sent them all running for the narrow passageway leading from the pits.

Delay in Trading.

For a moment or two panic impended, but the grain men soon realized there was no immediate danger for them.

It was some time before trading was resumed, because of the general fear that the old building was crumbling. When it was determined that nothing else was likely to happen, the bulls and bears went back to their business.

JURY RETURNS MURDER VERDICT.

A verdict of murder by person or persons unknown was returned by a coroner's jury, which heard the evidence in connection with the death of S. B. Passani, 31, East 21st street, Chicago Heights. Passani's body was found pitched in the ditch beside a lonely road.

AUDITOR EXPECTS ESSER BANK TO PAY 100 CTS. ON $1

Indications that the Aurora Trust and Savings bank, loser of more than $300,000 embezzled by its youthful president, John L. Esser, will pay its depositors 100 cents on the dollar, were seen yesterday by State Auditor Oscar Nelson, as his assistants were finishing the checking of the peculations.

"While our audit is not entirely completed," Mr. Nelson said, "I can say with safety that Esser's shortage does not appear to be as great as was at first indicated. Our figures show the shortage is around $320,000. It looks more favorable now for a sale of the deposit liabilities to neighboring banks or a reorganization of the bank itself. In either case the depositors would be paid in full."

Stockholders of the bank will meet today to decide on a course of action. Esser is to be arraigned Monday before Justice of the Peace W. S. Peck in Aurora. His attorney, Harvey Gunsel, said yesterday that friends have come forward and offered to produce his $50,000 bail at that time.

PRESIDENT HAILS REIGN OF PEACE IN U. S. INDUSTRY

Guest of Mellon for Pittsburgh Anniversary.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Commemorating the anniversary of the day on which Andrew Carnegie dedicated his surplus wealth to the education of the people, President Coolidge declared today that a mutuality of interest has arisen between employer and employé resulting in "an industrial peace" which "a short time ago would have been thought impossible."

His address also formally opened the international exhibition of paintings held in Pitsburgh this year through the support of Andrew W. and Richard B. Mellon. Alluding to their services, Mr. Coolidge paid them a high tribute which drew a hearty response from the audience which packed the Carnegie Institute music hall.

Both Serve Humanity.

"They stand out," the President said, "as men who are devoting themselves to the service of humanity, one by remaining as a leader in great financial and industrial enterprises and the other by turning his great talents to the administration of public finance as secretary of the treasury of the United States, where his leadership in the last six years has been greatly instrumental in restoring the economic equilibrium of the world."

On the platform with Mr. Coolidge were Pittsburgh and other Pennsylvania citizens who have contributed their wealth and interest to the development of American art, as well as representatives of a dozen foreign countries which have paintings exhibited. The production of these works of art, the President said, should be stimulated and encouraged, but, he added, "it is even more desirable to encourage their wide appreciation by the people."

Truth and Beauty Linked.

"It is a fundamental principle of our institutions," he said, "that freedom, education, and wealth are not to be reserved for the few, but are to be reached through equal opportunity which is open to all. We have staked America on the potential capacity of the average citizen.

"Truth and beauty are inseparably related. A general contemplation of fine paintings cannot fail to provide an inspiration which will result in the improvement of the character of the people. It is for this reason that the painter and the founder of art galleries rank high as public benefactors. They raise people to a spiritual level which they could not otherwise attain."

Referring to Mr. Carnegie as one of the great benefactors in this line, Mr. Coolidge held that the mutuality of interest which this employer had with his workmen was an example of the good to be derived from such association.

Goal Not Yet Reached.

"While the ranks of unskilled labor have not yet come into their full enjoyment," he said, "their condition is greatly improved over what they have ever before received. The question for the determination of the American people is no longer whether they will be able to secure prosperity but rather what use they will make of their prosperity."

The Founder's day address of the President was a part of as busy a day as he has had on any of his speaking trips. Arriving here early in the morning he motored from the special train to the home of Richard B. Mellon, to be the joint guest of the Pittsburgh banker and Secretary Mellon, whose home here is closed.

After breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge motored through the principal downtown streets to the block house of old Fort Pitt, one of the landmarks of the city. Here, surrounded by a large and enthusiastic crowd, they signed the register and posed for pictures. They returned to the Mellon mansion for luncheon. This evening the President and Mrs. Coolidge accepted an invitation to dinner with the trustees of the Carnegie institute in Music hall.

Foreign Envoys Present.

An international atmosphere was given the exercises at which the President spoke this afternoon by the presence of Paul Claudel, new ambassador from France, the ministers from Austria, Roumania, and the Netherlands and the chargé d'affaires from Belgium and Italy. On the platform also, in addition to members of the Mellon families, were Secretary Davis of the labor department and Mrs. Davis, Senator Reed and Representatives Porter, Morin, and Campbell, all of Pennsylvania; Otto H. Kahn, the New York financier, and Mayor Kline of Pittsburgh.

The exercises, under the direction of Col. Samuel Harden Church, chairman of the institute's board of trustees, were broadcast. Throughout the major portion of his speech the President emphasized the need for combining material progress with the things of the spirit.

Symphony of Progress.

"The rattle of the reaper, the buzz of the saw, the clang of the anvil, the roar of traffic are all part of a mighty symphony, not only of material but of spiritual progress," he declared.

"Out of them the nation is supporting its religious institutions, endowing its colleges, providing its charities, furnishing adornments of architecture, rearing its monuments, organizing its orchestras, and encouraging its paintings. . . . The American people see and understand. Unperturbed, they move majestically forward in the consciousness that they are making their contribution in common with our sister nations to the progress of humanity."

The presidential special left for Washington tonight at 10:30.

THOMPSON REQUESTS THOUSANDS ATTEND REID FLOOD MEETING

"Shall Uncle Sam prevent future floods in the Mississippi valley?" Mayor William Hale Thompson asked yesterday in a letter addressed "To all true Americans," which will be sent out by the thousands in the next few days.

"This is the question of the hour," Mayor Thompson, as chairman of the Chicago flood control conference, asserts. "The Mississippi flood last spring drove 600,000 people from their homes and cost not less than $1,000,000,000."

The mayor then tells of what has been done by the executive committee of the flood conference.

He asks the recipients of the letters to appear in person at Washington when Congressman Frank Reid calls his committee to order on Nov. 7. Homer K. Galpin, chairman of the Republican county central committee, and Louis J. Golan, are organizing locally to get as representative a group of Chicagoans as possible to accompany the mayor to Washington on Nov. 7. It was said that as many as 1,500 might go from Chicago.

FIGHT PICTURE INJUNCTIONS HIT 2 MOVIE CHAINS

Injunctions restraining the Marks Brothers Theaters, Inc., and the National Theaters corporation from exhibiting films of the Tunney-Dempsey fight in their several Chicago theaters, were issued yesterday by Judge Hugo Friend on behalf of Goodart Pictures, Inc., and Balaban and Katz Midwest Theaters, Inc.

The Goodart company in the petition claimed it had acquired ownership of the films from Tex Rickard, promotor of the Dempsey-Tunney fight, and had been given exclusive rights to show the films to the Balaban & Katz corporation. It was claimed the theaters of the Marks Brothers and the National corporation, came into possession of the fight films through illegal methods, since they were brought into the state from the outside by Harry McKay, John Doe Eckert, and Ike Van Ronkle, other defendants named in the injunctions.

LITHUANIA SENDS PROTEST AGAINST POLES TO LEAGUE

GENEVA, Switzerland, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Lithuania has addressed a complaint to the secretary general of the league of nations respecting the alleged closing of Lithuanian schools and the arrest of schoolmasters in Vilna territory by the Polish authorities, apparently on the grounds of political agitation.

The complaint has been circulated among members of the league. Poland will be invited to furnish explanations.

[Recent dispatches from Poland reported the arrest of about a dozen schoolmasters and priests in the Vilna territory for anti-Polish propaganda activities. Those arrested, the dispatches said, subsequently were ordered released by Premier Pilsudski. The arrests originally were the outcome of the reported arrest of 300 Polish teachers in Lithuanian territory and their imprisonment in a concentration camp.]

STRANGLES SELF IN HOSPITAL.

John Pirwitz, 74, of 768 East 113th place, a retired Chicago policeman, killed himself yesterday in the Roseland Community hospital by strangling himself with a bandage. He had been despondent over illness.

IN DESPAIR OVER PIMPLY, RED SKIN

ITCHED AND BURNED—UGLY TO LOOK AT

Healed at last, quickly and easily

Charlotte, Mich., Oct. 21:—"I have been a sufferer from a most unsightly skin disorder, my face being full of pimples and blackheads and my complexion was very muddy. It was very ugly to look at as it was red and fiery and it annoyed me by itching and burning. I tried many treatments, but got no relief. When I was a small baby I had eczema on my body and my mother used Resinol Ointment on it and she recommended it to me at this time. In desperation I decided to send for a sample of Resinol. After using the sample I bought more Resinol as I was convinced it was a splendid remedy. After I had applied it four times, the pimples began to heal and at the end of two weeks they had entirely disappeared. Now, I have such confidence in Resinol Ointment I would not be without it." (Signed) Mrs. Alton D. White, R. F. D. 11.

UDGE LECTURES URY EVADERS AT LEWIS TRIAL

Tells Them They're Afraid to Do Their Duty.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Charles Hanson, Harold Crocker, George [illegible], robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary; Frank Blacka, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life in Pontiac reformatory; Austin Corcoran, Edward Brewer, and Ignatius Stranda, murder, sentenced to 25 years each in the penitentiary; Anthony Nashus, murder, sentenced to 20 years in the penitentiary by Judge William V. Brothers.

Edward Lopaiki, James Hollingworth, Alfie McDavis, Ernest Marsh, and Balo[illegible] Johnson, larceny, sentenced to 1 year each in Pontiac reformatory by Judge Stanley Klarkowski.

Clarence Jenkins, burglary, sentenced to 1 year in the Bridewell by Judge Harry B. Miller.

Veniremen, who dodged jury service yesterday in Judge Stanley Klarkowski's Criminal court, where Harry J. (Lefty) Lewis is on trial for the murder of Max Braverman, junk dealer, were forced to spend the day in the courtroom listening to others evade service and were then given a lecture by the judge. The judge plainly told some of the men that he believed they were afraid to enforce the law.

The usual procedure is to excuse a man immediately who disqualifies himself when he leaves the jury box. Yesterday each man thought to be evading service was instructed by the judge to take a seat in the rear of the courtroom and listen to the proceedings. When court adjourned he took the men into his chambers in groups.

"Now you citizens of this community can realize the difficulty that the law enforcing agencies are up against," he said. "Most of the excuses given by you men are flimsy ones for the purpose of evading service.

"In the recent world war what do you suppose would have happened when the members of the army and navy were ordered to shoot if they said they had conscientious scruples against the infliction of the death penalty and refused to obey orders. Most of you men saw service and you certainly had no conscientious scruples at that time. Service in the jury box is just as important as was your service during the war.

"I actually believe some of you men are afraid to serve as jurors. If that is the fact, you are not good citizens."

The work of jury selection went backwards yesterday when Charles Force, 7339 Woodlawn avenue, one of the two men tentatively accepted, had to be excused because of illness. When court adjourned last night 174 men had disqualified themselves.

STOLEN AUTO INJURES WOMAN; DRIVER CAUGHT

An automobile stolen a few minutes prior to the accident struck and injured Mrs. Helen Tucker, 22 years old, yesterday in front of 1202 South Wabash avenue. The driver was captured after a chase in a commandered automobile by Policeman Barney Keegan. The prisoner, charged with theft, gave his name as Robert Hardy, 17 years old, 4709 Calumet avenue. The car was the property of M. O. Overton, 6219 South Langley avenue.

One death due to an auto accident in Cook county yesterday raised the 1927 toll to 728. The victim was an unidentified colored man.

Four women were cut and bruised in a collision between a Shore line bus on which they were riding and a street car at 87th street and South Chicago avenue. They were Mrs. Frances Cusman, 30, of 6140 South Honore street; Mrs. Mary Lawson, 51, of 3807 South Park avenue; Mrs. Marcella Sarlin, 23, of 1226 West 73d street ;and Mrs. Hazel Thomas, colored, 2000 Archer avenue. The street car was knocked from the track.

Sherman White, 29, and William Resser, 50, municipal employes of Hammond, Ind., were seriously injured when their automobile was struck by an Erie train at a grade crossing in Hammond.

LABORER KILLED; $500 ON HIM.

Paul Grigorotes, 38, of 722 South Halsted street, a section hand, was killed yesterday afternoon when he was struck by a freight train on the Wabash tracks at 75th street and California avenue. He had more than $500 in his pockets.

A DEMOCRATIC KEYNOTE.

The speech of Senator Reed of Missouri at Sedalia in that state will be taken throughout the country as having a more than personal significance. THE TRIBUNE is one that takes any considered utterance of Senator Reed as worthy of the serious consideration of the American public, for while we disagree with him on some important questions we highly respect his courage and ability and recognize his value not merely to his party but to the nation as an outstanding public leader and patriotic American.

The speech at Sedalia is characteristic of Senator Reed in its vigor and in its sense of public issues and we do not doubt it will have a considerable influence in the formulation of the Democratic national campaign whether its author is chosen as the Democratic presidential candidate or not. We are not inclined to think it foreshadows or will procure success, because when all is said and done that the best of Democratic politics can devise, we are confident the case for a continuance of Republican administration is stronger than any case that can be made against it, and we are even more confident that a substantial majority of American voters are in no mood in the midstream of our present prosperity to swap political horses.

But this is not to say that our interest in what Senator Reed said at Sedalia is academic or a mere tribute of our regard for him. It is well worthy of the prayerful thought of the Republican leadership and of all Senator Reed's fellow citizens. Every honest man is shamed and indignant at the revelations of corruption in public life, and especially Republicans should support his demand for the punishment of corruptionists and the cleansing of our public life because of the flagrant examples within their own party household.

We must in candor remark, however, that while we recognize the special responsibility of the Republican party to continue to search out and clear up such corruption as exists in public affairs, whatever its political complexion may be, we do not think the country in general is disposed to accept Senator Reed's invitation to interpret corruption as peculiarly partisan or to look upon Democratic ambitions as a guaranty of unimpeachable integrity in public office. We are painfully aware of the corruption of Republican politics in Ohio, in Illinois and Indiana. We have not only no disposition to hide it but are doing all we can to publish it and to bring about its punishment. But we do not forget, nor can honest Democrats forget, the régime of the Fergusons in Texas nor the shameful conditions in Alabama. But the instances of corruption upon which Senator Reed's indignation rightly falls, sensible Americans know to be a matter of personal character, and while it is desirable that they should be held up to the condemnation of the nation, it would be rather foolish to ascribe them to any party affiliation. In short, we doubt if a party issue can be made of these scandals, and we think it already has been demonstrated in public opinion that the common sense of American voters has refused to respond to the Democratic effort to gain an unfair party profit from them.

The campaign will turn upon real party issues if they can be brought forth and we sincerely hope they will be brought forth. To this end we welcome Senator Reed's statement and we hope he and other Democratic leaders will elaborate several of his suggestions. Especially we seek light on what Senator Reed and several of his ablest colleagues intend by their protest against undue centralization. With this protest in general we are predisposed to be enthusiastically sympathetic. Senator Reed says: "If this people are to remain free, local self-government and the sovereignty of the states must be preserved. The march of centralization must be arrested. Government by boards and bureaucracies must cease." With all that we cordially agree. But how are we to arrest the march of centralization if, as Senator Reed demands, the government is to be charged with the development of all our natural resources?

We strongly sympathize with Senator Reed's appeal when he says: "Let us make our fight beneath banners proclaiming the right of each citizen to regulate his own personal conduct—chart his own course in life—determine his own habits and control the affairs of his own household, free from all restraints." But only the other day Senator Reed declared that prohibition is a moral issue and should not be made the subject of party declaration.

We confess the need of more light on these pronouncements. If, as Senator Reed seems to propose, Democracy is to return to the ideas of its founder, Jefferson, from which it has parted, it cannot trim on the chief measure of sumptuary law in our history—namely: prohibition—nor can it honestly advocate the tremendous aggrandizement of government necessarily involved in the development of natural resources by the political agencies of the state.

NOT TOO PROUD TO LEARN.

President Max Mason of the University of Chicago told recently of his institution's plans to make Chicago the medical center of the world. Chicago must be close to that title already. The University of Chicago is by no means the sole agent working toward that goal. In the matter of hospitals, though under-hospitalled, and in the matter of schools of medicine Chicago is particularly fortunate.

There is a good reason why this should be so. The geographic factor influences the patient seeking treatment and the medical recruit seeking knowledge as strongly as it does the railroad hunting a terminal and the business man looking for a factory site. The same fortunate location that has made Chicago a trade center and a railroad center should make it the focus, not only of medical education, but of all branches of education in this country. The closer proximity to European learning which formerly gave the east the advantage in setting up and maintaining seats of learning counts for little now that the communication of ideas has become a matter of hours, even of seconds, in place of weeks and days, and knowledge in America has become self-reliant and a peer in its own right.

Moreover, in the west we still retain some of the humility of the pioneer. We want education. We don't know it all. We can be taught.

MORE POLICEMEN.

One of six policemen who shook down a beer peddler is retained on the force, allowed to keep his split of the graft, and merely fined, because he confessed and brought about the conviction of the other five.

Despite this example of police department policy, we join in urging additional policemen for the force. Chief Hughes has asked for 3,000 more, but it is doubtful whether he can get even 1,000. Whatever number the city treasury can stand we hope will be appointed. The Chicago police department needs more men badly.

TWO-LEVEL STREETS.

Ald. James Bowler has proposed a plan for the development of Polk street as a widened two-level thoroughfare from Michigan boulevard to Canal street. He thinks that wherever buildings are in the way the street might be built as an arcade through them, thus saving much of the expense of condemnation and conserving valuable building sites.

We are by no means committed to Polk street as the principal east-to-west thoroughfare between the river and Roosevelt road and we can see many disadvantages in the proposed arcades. Nevertheless we believe that Ald. Bowler is to be commended for his proposal. It indicates that he is thinking of the city's traffic problems in terms of modern engineering. The two-level street has been proved practicable. It is the sensible solution of many of our most pressing difficulties in local transportation.

NO MORE CONVOYS.

Shrieking motorcycle sirens led the way down Michigan boulevard Wednesday afternoon for four busses containing delegates to the convention of the American Gas association. The delegates were going from the Drake to the Stevens hotel at the height of the evening rush hour. At Jackson boulevard one of the busses collided with a taxicab in which two women and a baby were riding. All three were seriously injured. Many of the occupants of the bus were bruised.

We hope this incident will put an end to the idiotic practice of convoying favored individuals and organizations, at all hours of the day, down main traffic arteries. We believe the city should do what it reasonably can to show hospitality to visitors, but there is an obvious limit to what the city owes its guests in the way of a warm welcome. The police convoy may have saved the delegates as much as five minutes in getting through traffic congestion, but we do not believe the time saved was worth the cost to them or any one else. It is our impression that if there is ever a time in the life of a business man when a few minutes make little difference it is when he is attending a convention. We have yet to see a delegate in tears because he missed the opening sentences of a speech.

Accidents resulting from fright and uncertainty as to the direction from which the police convoy is coming are almost inevitable. It is remarkable that the casualties have been so few.

Editorial of the Day

A MINISTER'S RIGHT TO SPEAK.

(The Milwaukee Journal.)

We agree with the Methodist ministers of the Rock River conference who insist that it is their right to have opinions and express them on economic, military, national and international affairs. They say that ministers are often attacked for expressing opinions on such things, and that is true. But they hold, and we agree, that a clergyman has as good a right as a doctor, a lawyer, a merchant prince or any other citizen to express an opinion.

In the long run the principal job of a minister of the gospel will be, as it always has been, setting forth standards of individual human conduct and applying the principles of religion to life. But public affairs are a part of the individual's duty in life, just as are love, joy, peace, long suffering, gentleness and the others "against which there is no law."

Our clerical friends, on the other hand, must understand that when they do express opinions they are open to criticism just as any one else is who discusses public questions. To attack their views on things that are of Caesar is not to attack the cloth. They will not expect the exemption from criticism usually accorded when they are explaining the teaching of Paul or applying the principles of Jesus to living. Their fitness to interpret the commandments or the beatitudes will be largely conceded; they must establish their right to discuss national defense and military training, economic happenings, and international affairs.

In this part of their public service we suspect the clergy of the Rock River conference, and some others, may be remiss. Members of this conference condemn militarism, as every one does, but they add specific condemnation of the reserve officers' training corps. Now, they have a right to express that opinion if it is an informed opinion. But it suggests a rather offhand conclusion that anything in the way of defense is militarism. That is not at all the clergy's attitude when war comes, so it can hardly be an intelligent attitude in peace. They cannot expect that it will be accepted on their say so as the teaching of the church or of Christianity.

Clergymen must expect that their information and their reasoning on public affairs will be questioned by laymen, as they would not be questioned, for example, upon a declaration that a man ought not to provoke conflict with his neighbor.

EUGENICS SOUND, BUT WHO'LL START IT?

RECOGNIZING that we are not getting along as well as we expected in the management of our democracy, several plans for improving matters have been proposed. The war left Europe in a bad way. Desperate measures to save the situation were deemed necessary. Two great countries, Russia and Italy, have elected to forsake every suggestion of democracy and go on a basis of absolutism, or centralized authority. Perhaps Spain may be said to be on this basis also.

One of the proposals made for this country is that we should single out a group of superior men and women and set them the task of breeding the next generation. Their descendants would be the progenitors of the succeeding generations. Everybody else would go about the tasks of life, but would wholly refrain from begetting children.

The method works all right with live stock. It is the method which rapidly brought the horse to its present perfection from the small, wild beast, not much larger than a dog, that is regarded as the ancestor of the present finely adapted and perfected domestic animal. The story of all the other domesticated animals is the same.

A suggestion of the proposed method worked in Greece and Sparta, where some thousands of years ago a race of supermen were developed out of a mass of intellectual pygmies. Careful studies in human psychology and human inheritance show that from those standpoints the proposal is sound. The falling birth rate in civilized countries suggests that the general run of people are willing to let the other fellow wear the honors of parenthood. There is no question as to the theoretic soundness of the proposal. But there is no reason to think it will work in practice.

This theory is the foundation of the monarchical plan, the theory there being that royalty is a family of superior individuals who will do the planning and the strategy for their peoples, and who will marry and breed so as to constantly increase the mental powers of the members of the strain; they are a line chosen to be the thinkers, planners and leaders, and as a concomitant the breeders for the improvement of the strain.

But no royal line lives up to speculation. None has ever kept itself free from syphilis and other inheritable diseases, nor refrained from alcoholism and other racial poisons. Marriages have been determined by political and not eugenic considerations. The immediate advantage of political alliance rather than the ultimate advantage of superior intellectual capacity has been the reason for royal marriages. Therefore, few royal personages are people of greatly superior ability and most monarchies are really run by prime ministers who are not bred to be rulers.

I presume our method of breeding a ruling class could be proved to be worse; that is, if we can be said to have one. A few of our Presidents have been men of great ability. But they have not had the ability to perpetuate the stock, to say nothing of perpetuating the ability. Many of the Presidents have had no children. Most of the others have had only a few. Most of them are either without descendants now or else their lines are plainly headed for extinction. The royal families usually manage to keep their names on the birth registration books.

SCORPION STINGS.

Mrs. W. A. C. writes: What can be done for the sting of the scorpion? Is it really deadly? They say their sting is as deadly as a rattler's bite and that nothing can be done should one sting. I have found at least half a dozen, all in different places about the house, and of different sizes.

REPLY.

As a rule, it is not necessary to do anything. Scorpions are poisonous, but not fatally so. Scorpions are not aggressive and their stings are not serious.

HOW TO PUT ON WEIGHT.

T. C. writes: How can I gain weight?

REPLY:

Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on putting on weight.

MERELY SALES TALK.

Chicago, Oct. 9.—[Friend of the People.]—Does the city plan to extend Ashland avenue south of Ninety-fifth street, and if so, when is such improvement to be started? I purchased a lot on the representation that Ashland avenue is to be extended to 187th street within a few years, but in searching for plans I find no mention of it. M. V.

The board of local improvements is not contemplating the extension of Ashland avenue directly south from 95th street with the exception that we are condemning a small triangle to make a proper connection with Beverly avenue, which extends southeasterly from 95th street to Vincennes road.

C. D. HILL, Engineer.
Board of Local Improvements.

PROVIDE FOR CHILDREN'S SAFETY.

Chicago, Oct. 9.—[Friend of the People.]—There is a school at North avenue and Leclaire and also a bad and busy crossing with no signs. The police department has an officer there when it can spare one, but that is not all of the time. The children are in constant danger. I suppose that when one is killed the slow down signs will spring up like mushrooms. M. J. K.

Report is made by our sign division that "Slow Down" signs have been erected in the vicinity of school at North avenue and Leclaire avenue at the following locations:

5016 North avenue.
1608 Leclaire avenue.
5111 North avenue.
1501 Leclaire avenue.
1501 Lawler avenue.

THOMAS H. BYRNE,
Superintendent of Streets.

ONLY PART.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—My husband is in business and we have property held jointly. In case he fails in his business, would this property be considered an asset? H. F.

His creditors could reach his one-half of the joint property.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

WANDERER'S LAMENT.

Up and down the lands I go,
Drearily, wearily;
Autumn burns, the sad brooks flow,
Wearily, drearily.

A little wind sings sobbing tunes,
Like tired ancients' fireplace runes;
And yet I dream, as miles rush past,
Of that lush night I knew you last—

The scent of lilacs filled the dark,
And soft stars made a far-flung arc;
So long as life I'll know your sigh—
The eyes of you—the faint "good-by"—

Up and down the roads I go,
Wearily, drearily,
Autumn burns, the sad brooks flow,
Drearily . . . wearily. . . .

GYPSY KAY.

SO RUTH landed in the ocean! Well, she's a plucky gal and entitled to three ringing cheers. And she'll fly clear across the old pond some day. You see if she doesn't.

Getting Together.

R. H. L.: What do we—the class of '27—care about homecoming? We're having reunions daily in the offices of the employment agencies.

ELINA FROM URBANA.

Boy, Howdy!

Dick: 'Member the old top sergeant that slapped me on K. P. for a week 'bout ten years ago for not knockin' at the orderly room door? You know, the guy I been sayin' I was goin' to get even with if it was the last thing I ever done? He was in our town yesterday—gosh, but it seemed good to see 'im again.

HOWARD.

Oh, We Can Hardly Wait.

R. H. L.: All the things I thought were lovely I have put into my clipping book. So, no matter what you put into the Linebook, I'll buy the ".64 damn pages" just to find out how high you and Shelby rate on picking good stuff.

DARD.

THE PRESIDENTIAL RACE in Mexico is almost over. The one that is left alive gets the job.

WHY—WOMEN?

RHL: Just what is the big idea of dragging women around to shows, dances, dinners, or what have you, and footing the bills for the same, and then when you get 'em to the door they say, "I had a lovely time, thank you, good-night," and that's all there is, there is no more? This pernicious condition, it seems, is the result of the dangerous precedent established by earlier generations of mere males who entertained women and paid the bills, because (in those days of chivalry) women were the "weaker sex," did not work, commercially, and therefore, supposedly, had no money with which to pay for entertainment. But now that conditions have changed, and in many cases women earn more than their male escorts of the evening, is it not ridiculous to continue this practice?

Of course, the age-old comeback is that a man enjoys the society of a woman, and should be willing to pay for that reason, but it is also assumed that a woman does not find a man's company distasteful.

The trouble with women is that they want all their old privileges and their new ones, too, and the trouble with men is that they are saps enough to fall for it.

JASPER B.

That's All There Is—There Isn't Any More.

R. H. L.: Go on with the story. What did the frogs do to the turtle?

HERBIE FAT.

THE KEYNOTING has started. Senator Jim Reed is the first to sound off. Like all the other keynotes of the past, and like all those that are to come, Jim's keynote is something to which we all can most heartily agree: "Let us demand the honest administration—"; "swift and sure punishment—"; "equalization of the tax burden—"; "repeal of special privileges—"; et cet., et cet., to which we might add: "Honesty is the best—"; "our todays and yesterdays are the blocks—"; and an "honest man is the noblest—"; etc., etc.

Did the Lady Lion Roar When You Walked Past Her? Did She?

Dick: Having attained the heights of glory, may I say in defense of all womanhood—I am NOT Herblock, or even Lon Chaney, merely a good girl whose office associates are her most severe critics and supposed to be her best friends.

AN UNPREFERRED BRUNETTE.

Well, We Don't Give a Dahm.

Of course, Dick, Frank Dahm ought to know how to pronounce his own name, but still I believe that the "h" is useless and should be silent, as in "antelope," "berries," and "piffle."

K. K. K.

HOWEVER—we must give Jim Reed credit. There is one sound in his keynote that hits pretty hard. "We demand the dismissal of an army of spies, snoopers, sneaks, and informers." At what was James shooting? Wait—stand back—now watch!!!

We're Afraid to Ask Him—The Book Will Be Printed in English.

R. H. L.: Re the Linebook. This is no threat. Just a reminder. Unless the noble visage of Big Bill Thompson in cocked hat and everything is on the front cover, why, so far as we are concerned down here, you can take your darned old books over to Iowa and feed 'em to the hogs.

MATTOON.

"A WIFE," says Elinor Glyn, "who receives a sound thrashing from her husband loves him the more." Oh, great Scott, now we've got to worry about that thing again, and we were just settling down to pick out a good snappy design for our Christmas cards.

ANSWER TO A PLEA.

Pity was a strange word, a queer word, from you.
Slights I took, and sneers I took, and brands across my brow,
Ravelings of pride and payment overdue:
Hey the piper! Dance a round! Pay him now!

Once there was an idyll. That was long ago.
Six months. Ten months. Weep the year away.
All the things I ever said stand there in a row
Mocking me with memories, whatever lovers say.

Pay the piper. Let him go. Smile and lift your chin.
All the words that love left and where could I begin
With chaff for the harvest and nothing honesty.

Out of all the sorrow, let me salvage this:
Once we let our two worlds crash for a kiss.

CAROLA.

Anyhow, We Thank the Missus and Smile Through Our Tears.

R. H. L.: Don't feel hurt at that nasty little Chincy. When the missus saw the "photo in the roto" she said, "That is the best photo of R. H. L. that I ever saw; I guess married life has agreed with him." And she always knows what she is talking about.

C. A. G.

THE CANNIBALS in the Cannibal Isles want German rule restored. The English, who now have a protectorate over the islands, are sort of tough and stringy, while the Germans are nice and fat. Perhaps the trouble is in the cooking. And, anyhow, an Englishman is an acquired taste.

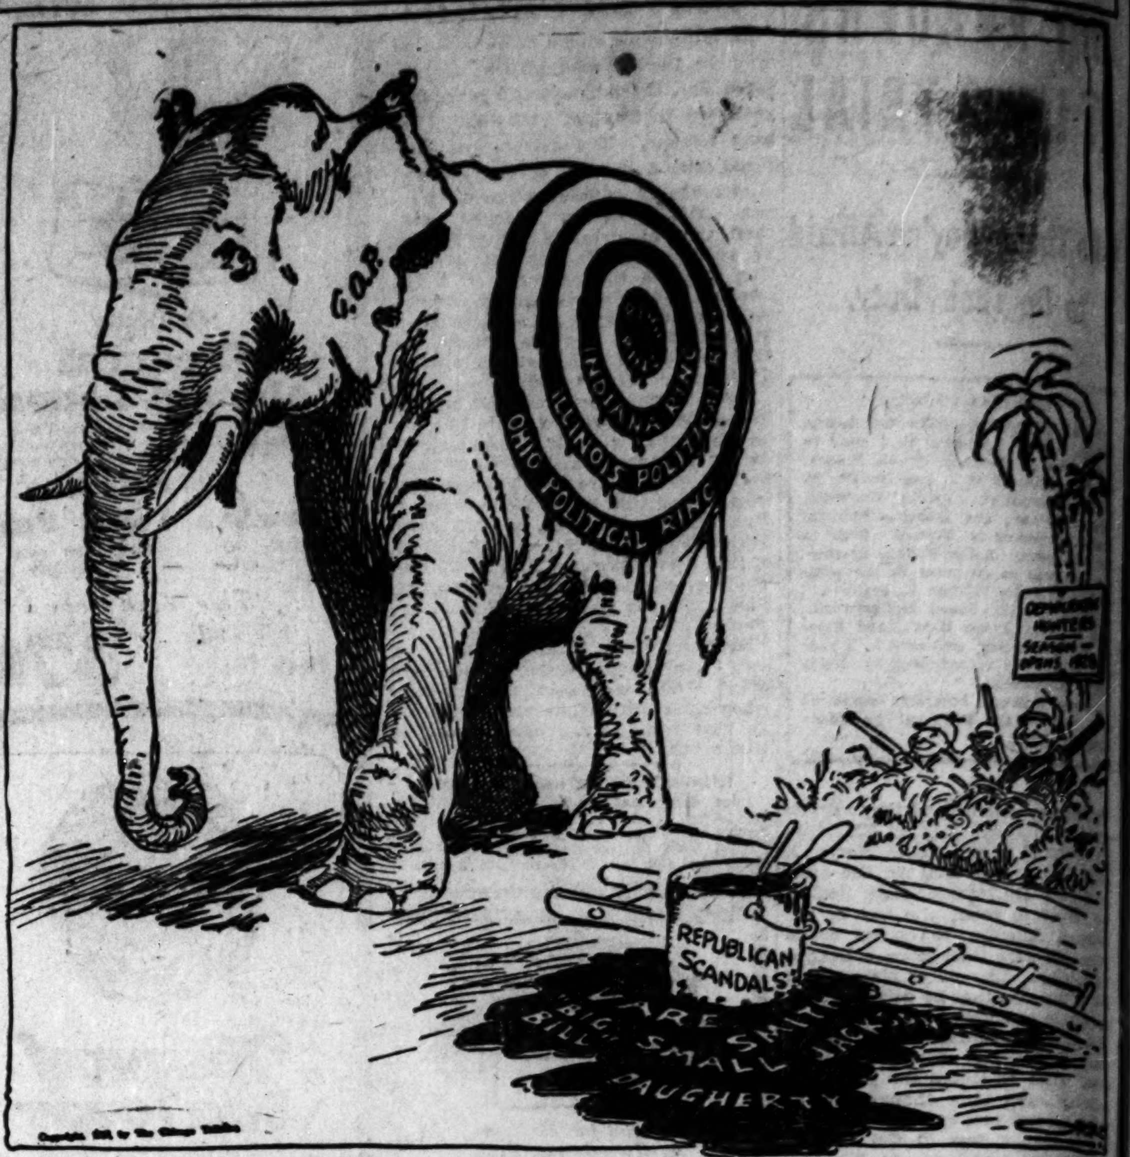
THE TARGET



FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

OCTOBER 14, 1862.

CAIRO.—Hon. Thomas A. Nelson has issued an address to the people of Tennessee concerning the recent emancipation proclamation of President Lincoln, calling it an outrageous usurpation, unparalleled by despotic governments, and calling on all able-bodied men to buckle on their armor and prepare for resistance to the uttermost.

INDIANAPOLIS.—It is pretty certain that Bragg and Kirby Smith with their rebel armies in Kentucky have fallen back to Camp Dick Robinson. A dispatch from Gen. Boyle states that no fighting has taken place since last Wednesday. Nothing has been heard from Gen. Buell's army since Saturday, and it is supposed he is in close pursuit of the rebels.

WASHINGTON.—It is understood that a dispatch from Gen. Boyle in Louisville late last night says it was generally believed that the rebel Gens. Bragg and Cheatham were both killed in the battle near Bardstown last Wednesday. He states that our loss in killed and wounded, and missing was 1,500 or 2,000, while that of the rebels was much larger. Important letters from Beauregard, showing plans of the rebels, have been intercepted by Buell. Beauregard's program was to take Louisville first, then Cincinnati.

ST. LOUIS.—Gen. Steele's division of the federal army from Helena is disembarking at Sulphur Springs and will proceed at once to Pilot Knob. The movement was ordered by Gen. Curtis on the eve of a move to capture Little Rock.

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

OCTOBER 14, 1902.

WASHINGTON.—Settlement of the great anthracite coal strike now seems assured, the operators having made a concession which it is believed the miners will accept. As a result of President Roosevelt's efforts the mine owners have proposed what they all along refused to submit to—arbitration. An offer to arbitrate was submitted to President Roosevelt by J. Pierpont Morgan on behalf of the coal presidents. An arbitration committee of five is to be appointed by President Roosevelt, its findings to be binding for three years. It is expected the miners will resume work at once. The strike began on May 12.

WILKESBARRE, Pa.—There is joy in the mining region over the news from Washington, and an acceptance by the miners of the operators' proposal is believed certain, although President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers refused to commit himself positively on the subject.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Among the successful Chicago applicants for admission to the bar as a result of the examination last week are Leo J. Doyle, Nathan W. MacChesney, Robert S. McClure, Fred H. Partridge, and Jacob C. Lebosky.

BUFFALO, N. Y.—Joe Gans, the lightweight champion, knocked out Kid McPartland of New York at Fort Erie after two minutes and 25 seconds of fighting in the fifth round.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

OCTOBER 14, 1917.

PETROGRAD.—The war office made official announcement that German forces have been landed on two islands at the mouth of the gulf of Riga and are now in a position to attempt an advance against Petrograd. Gen. Verhofsky, the new minister of war, has issued an appeal to the whole country to rise in defense of the nation. The new invasion followed an engagement between the German fleet and the land batteries of the Russians, which the war office admits resulted in a complete victory for the Germans.

CHICAGO. — Apparently beaten — hopelessly, disgracefully licked by themselves instead of the Giants—the White Sox staged a tremendous comeback late yesterday afternoon in Comiskey park and won the fifth game of the world's series by a score of 8 to 5. Russell, Cicotte and Williams pitched for the Sox, and Sallee and Perritt for the Giants. It was a battle which from the spectators' standpoint probably was never equaled in the history of the world's series.

FOOTBALL SCORES: Chicago, 48; Vanderbilt, 0. Wisconsin, 0; Notre Dame, 0. Michigan, 69; Mount Union, 0. Illinois, 44; Oklahoma, 0. Indiana, 40; St. Louis, 0. Minnesota, 64; South Dakota State, 0. Purdue, 7; De Pauw, 6.

THE MENACE OF THE APARTMENT.

Chicago, Oct. 9.—Permit me to thank you for the publication of the article in the morning TRIBUNE headed "Homeless Boys Spread Terror Through Russia." I cannot doubt its truth, while I know that the "parlor pinks" of this country undoubtedly will brand it as false, in excuse for their sympathy with bolshevism. Thoughtful persons should read it carefully and heed the lesson it conveys to our own people.

The assault upon American homes in the increasing vogue of apartment houses and hotels with kitchenette apartments is the beginning of similar conditions in this country. I live in a neighborhood of small apartments. You cannot call them "homes," for they are merely places to eat, sleep, and dress and get out of as soon as possible, and stay out of, if you want to breathe freely. The tiny cubicles dignified with the term room, with low ceilings, do not afford sufficient air to expand the lungs properly to manufacture required red corpuscles. No wonder that the children keep out of the house as much as possible, and in bad weather romp about the halls and stairways. They scream until late in the evening and neighbors wonder where the parents are who permit their offspring to thus roam the streets at will. We are supposed to have a curfew law, never enforced, enacted during the daylight saving period, which permits youngsters to be on the streets until 9 p. m., but our aldermen did not realize that hour as too late in winter.

Who can blame the children when parents thus deliberately contribute to their delinquency? A. VAN EVERY.

MOONSHINE VICTIMS.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—A week or so ago THE TRIBUNE gave considerable publicity to the fact that prohibition agents had killed two hundred persons. Will THE TRIBUNE not now oblige by giving us statistics showing the number of persons whom bootleggers have murdered with poisonous moonshine?

OLIVER MCEWAN.

A DANGEROUS PRACTICE.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—Last Saturday some 40,000 spectators at the Chicago-Indiana football game at Stagg field were at the mercy of a lone airplane which circled considerably less than a thousand feet over their heads, as I estimate distance. It seems to me that there is a local ordinance against such rash actions. As an alumnus of the U. of C. who wishes to protect his wife and himself against the rash heroics of such aviators, I hope that you will give this protest due publicity and bring it to the eyes of authorities who can put an end to such foolhardiness. BEN W. GOLDMAN.

SNAKE-SWALLOWING SNAKE.

Iowa Falls, Ia., Oct. 11.—I have read with interest the letters about hoop snakes. I have never seen and never expect to see the hoopsnake, as I am sure there "ain't no such thing." I did see, however, when a boy on the farm, a full grown snake swallow a large number of little snakes when my brother and I came upon them suddenly. I saw the snakes disappear rapidly into the mouth of the large snake and then we killed and opened the creature and sure enough there were the little fellows. It was a strange sight to us and we wondered about it, but passed it by as being all in a day's fun for boys on the farm.

I could today go to within a few feet of the very spot where this happened. The ground then was a low, wet, marshy spot, long since drained and in crops, as this happened at least thirty-[illegible] years ago. C. M. WRAY, M. D.

MARK TWAIN ON SNAKES.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—Mark Twain's Autobiography had a chapter "Early Days" (about 1845 at Hannibal, Mo.), in which he had written the following about snakes in general and the so-called "hoop" snake in particular:

"Along outside of the front fence ran the country road, dusty in the summer time, and a good place for snakes—they liked to lie in it and sun themselves; when they were rattlesnakes or puff adders we killed them; when they were blacksnakes, or racers, or belonged to the fabled 'hoop' breed, we fled without shame; when they were 'house snakes' or 'garters,' we carried them home and put them in Aunt Patsy's work basket for a surprise; for she was prejudiced against snakes, and always when she took the basket in her lap and they began to climb out of it it disordered her mind. She never could seem to get used to them; her opportunities went for nothing."

The foregoing would incline us to believe that Mark Twain, to use a modern colloquialism, knew his snakes during his Missouri childhood days and the hoop snake was fabulous then, over eighty years ago. IVOR P. JONES.

EVERY THIRTEENTH ON FRIDAY.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 11.—After reading the editorial on Mr. Cotsworth's International Fixed Calendar it seems to me that it will be tough for rabbits if the new calendar is adopted. Evidently Moses did not consider how often the 13th would fall on Friday. At least, the opposition from the superstitious is not given as one of the con arguments. Perhaps it might be well as an added precaution to feed the bunnies on four leaf clover before killing them for their feet.

8 YOUTHS SENT TO PRISON FOR THEFTS, MURDER

4 Involved in Killing Get Heavy Terms.

Sentence was imposed yesterday by Chief Justice William V. Brothers in the Criminal court on eight youthful hoodlums, who during their careers were responsible for 101 robberies and a murder. Those involved only in the robbery charges were given indeterminate penalties of from 1 year to life, while those charged with the murder, committed because the victim resisted, were given 20 to 25 year sentences.

Austin Corcoran, 21 years old, the youth who killed Edward Keefer, cigar store owner, because the latter refused to hand over his money; Ignatius Strazdas, 17, and Edward Brewer, 17, were given 25 year sentences, while Anthony Nashus, 19, chauffeur of the bandit car, was given a 20 year sentence.

Started Night of Crime.

The evidence disclosed that the youthful criminals started out on the night of the murder by holding up garage employés and stealing an automobile. They then murdered Keefer and shortly thereafter went over to the west side and robbed a cafe owner. They then split the proceeds and went to a dance.

Charles Hanson, Harold Crocker, George Takala, and Frank Blacka were given the robbery sentences. Blacka, a Pontiac graduate, desired to return to that institution rather than the penitentiary and the judge acceded to his request.

Terror to Community.

"There are hundreds of boys in this community doing the same thing," said Assistant State's Attorney John Holman in his plea to the judge. "The people of this city are in terror because of the acts of boys 16 and 17 years old. The citizens are looking to us for help from this condition.

"The extreme penalty for murder is death. This was a terrible crime and should that penalty be visited on these boys it would be no greater than they visited on the man now in his grave. The load is on your shoulders, your honor."

The defense attorneys argued for a light punishment because of the youth of their clients and the fact that they had pleaded guilty.

CALLES REGIME AND U. S. LABOR CLOSELY ALLIED

Gompers Cemented Their Friendship in 1924.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Resolutions sympathetic to the Mexican government which have been adopted by the American Federation of Labor at its Los Angeles convention are in line with a definite understanding between organized labor in the United States and the Calles régime.

That the American Federation of Labor has been closely allied with the Calles government has been well understood throughout the administration of the present Mexican president.

This alliance has existed through the Pan-American Federation of Labor, of which William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, is president, and Luis Morones, secretary of commerce, industry and labor in the Calles cabinet, vice president. The late Samuel Gompers was instrumental in cementing this relationship and preceded Mr. Green as president of the Pan-American Federation.

Gompers Praised Calles.

Mr. Gompers' opinion of President Calles was given in the official call issued by him in August, 1924, for the fourth congress of the Pan-American Federation of Labor, which was held at Mexico City in December of that year.

The inauguration of President Calles took place on Dec. 1, 1924, and the convention of the Pan-American Federation of Labor was so timed that the labor delegates from both the United States and Mexico could join in the celebration of what they regarded as the beginning of a new era.

"The Mexican people have cause to rejoice," said Mr. Gompers in the call for that meeting, "and it is most appropriate that the representatives of the organized labor movements of the western hemisphere should convene in Mexico City for the fourth Pan-American labor congress at a time when the working people of Mexico will rejoice over the inauguration as president of the Mexican republic of a man of their choice, a man in whom they have the utmost confidence, a man whose administration promises so much for the future well being of the Mexican people and their great country."

Entertained in U. S.

Before his inauguration Calles came to the United States and was entertained by Mr. Gompers and virtually made his headquarters while in Washington at the offices of the American Federation of Labor.

That the same close relationship between organized labor in the United States and the Calles government has continued to exist was emphasized at the fifth congress of the Pan-American Federation of Labor, which took place in Washington in July. Morones and other Mexicans affiliated with the Calles government were in attendance and their views and those of President Green and other delegates from the United States were in accord on matters affecting the countries of Central America.

President Green in an address urged that the United States government refrain from interference in domestic questions in Mexico. Resolutions supported both by American delegates and by Marones hitting at the Coolidge-Kellogg Nicaraguan policy were adopted.

Morones before entering the cabinet of President Calles was a prominent labor union leader and active in the affairs of the Mexican Federation of Labor.

NORTHWESTERN U. CENTER OF LABOR MEETING BATTLE

Defeat Attack on Ely Institute.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 13.—[Special.] — Northwestern university of Evanston, Ill., was assailed and defended from the floor of the American Federation of Labor convention today. The defenders of the university carried the day after the most bitter floor fight of the convention, the resolution being defeated, 32 to 168.

The contest raged around a resolution introduced by Mrs. Florence Curtis Hanson of Chicago, a delegate of the American Teachers' federation. Mrs. Hanson advocated the barring of text books put out by Prof. Richard T. Ely's "institute for research in land economics and public utilities" at Northwestern.

Charges Institute Is Hostile.

Mrs. Hanson charged that the institute is "hostile to the best interests of the wage earner and the farmer because it is carrying on in our educational institutions, under the cloak of disinterested research, propaganda against the further taxation of land values and other natural resources speculatively held and propaganda in favor of the further taxation of sales of goods and articles of consumption, which the A. F. of L. has opposed."

Those who spoke in opposition to the proposal that the Ely institute's tax and reference books be "barred from the tax supported schools, colleges, and universities of the United States," included Victor Olander and Matthew Woll of Chicago.

The convention voted to memorialize congress to stop the entry of Asiatics into the United States via the Hawaiian islands. A few minutes later it voted to request congress to free the Philippines.

The federation also went on record in opposition to the spread of "the Fascist movement" in the United States. "I admire Mussolini as a great man," said Delegate Rinaldo Cappellini of Scranton, Pa., who was born in Italy, "but Fascist influence in this country would do harm to the American people."

Officers Are Reëlected.

President William A. Green of Washington was reëlected president of the federation by acclamation. The ten other officers were continued in their positions without contests.

Fraternal delegates to represent the American Federation at international union gatherings during the coming year were unanimously elected as follows:

To British Trades Union congress—Michael F. Green, New York, president United Hatters, and W. B. Fitzgerald, Detroit, street car men. To Canadian Trades and Labor congress—Joseph W. Morton, Chicago.

New Orleans was chosen as the 1928 convention city.

TWENTY-SEVEN • YEARS • OF • CONFIDENCE

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

COURT SILENCE DUE TO KLAN OATH GETS HIM IN JAIL

Dixie Ex-Grand Titan Pays for Lodge Fealty.

Luverne, Ala., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Cecil Davis, former grand titan of the southern province of Alabama, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, was sent to jail for five days, or until such time as he purges himself of contempt of the Crenshaw Circuit court, by Judge A. E. Gamble this afternoon.

Davis declined to answer questions propounded by Charlie C. McCall, attorney general of Alabama, in the investigation of more than twenty flogging cases which have occurred in Crenshaw county during the last two years.

Davis was confined in the county jail at once, and there are no indications that he will relent and tell all he knows about the activities of the klan in central Alabama.

"Vital to Investigation."

Attorney General McCall informed Judge Gamble that Davis had declined to answer questions which he regarded as vital to the state's investigation. Judge Gamble called Davis before him and when he refused to give the information, on the ground that his klan oath prevented the submission of such facts, the court ordered him confined until he relieved himself of contempt by answering the questions. Davis' sentence created the greatest sensation of the investigation, which started Monday before a special grand jury.

Questions Go Unanswered.

When Davis was called before the grand jury Attorney General McCall asked him the following questions:

"Is Ira B. Thompson exalted cyclops of the Luverne klan?"

"Who were some of those present at a meeting of the Luverne klan which you attended?"

"Who were some of those there who had robes with them?"

To each of the questions, Davis declined to answer, saying he had taken an oath as klansman not to reveal information about any person unless evidence were adduced to show that such klansman had been guilty of crimes. He contended that he had not been convinced that such evidence was forthcoming or that the questions would furnish such information.

Davis insisted that he was willing to aid in any way possible but had no information that would indicate the guilt of any persons. He contended that the questions were irrelevant to the state's investigation.

Allowed to Bring in Attorney.

He asked the court if he could be released if he quoted the klan oath and showed that is proscribed answers to the question. Judge Gamble replied that he cared nothing about the klan oath and refused to permit him to quote it. Davis then asked permission to consult his attorney. He left the courtroom and returned in a short time with Arthur B. Chilton of Montgomery, who told the court that Davis "probably did not understand his duty as a witness."

He said that Davis would answer if the grand jury "had information that Ira B. Thompson was present at any meeting of the klan at which a conspiracy was arranged." He also pleaded that "information should be divulged of any meeting attended by an officer of a klan at which a conspiracy was arranged," otherwise, he insisted, a klansman could not be required to answer "irrelevant questions."

Lawyer's Plea Unavailing.

Attorney General McCall argued that the questions asked Davis were not intended to incriminate him. He said that investigations show that felonies had been committed; that some of them were planned in klan halls, and that the Luverne klan and other klans in Alabama were involved.

Judge Gamble then gave Davis another opportunity to answer, and when he declined the prison sentence was imposed.

George H. Thigpen, state insurance commissioner, also was called before Judge Gamble and charged with refusing to answer questions. Thigpen at first informed the court that he would decline to answer any questions. Later he asked permission to withdraw his statement and to say that he did not answer because he did not have the informatioin asked. On this statement the court released him.

BEGS UNCLE SAM'S AID TO SAVE HIS SON, 15, FROM THE "RADIO BUG"

New York, Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Eric H. Palmer of Brooklyn today took desperate steps to save his fifteen year old son, Eric Jr., from what he terms a "mania for wireless."

He appealed to the federal radio commission in Washington to suspend his son's license to operate an amateur radio station.

Mr. Palmer frankly confessed that all his efforts to enforce his parental authority, both verbal and physical, have been of no avail whatever.

Mrs. Palmer, told that her husband had appealed to the government to compel Eric Jr. to give up his radio "bug," said she was thoroughly in accord with the move.

"Mr. Palmer has threatened to have Junior's license taken away from him a number of times," she said, "but I didn't know he actually had written to Washington. It is time something was done, though. Junior has simply lost interest in everything except his wireless.

"Three months ago he was a great big fellow, a fine physical specimen. Now he is terribly thin and his shoulders are stooped, and he eats scarcely anything. In spite of all we can do, he stays up all night working over the radio. You see, his room is away up at the top of the house. We make him go to bed, but as soon as we have retired he gets up again."

PARIS, Oct. 13.—The Rakovsky incident, which threatened to sever the diplomatic relations between France and Russia, definitely was closed tonight with the receipt at Quai d'Orsay of a message from the French ambassador at Moscow, Jean Herbette, stating that the soviet government had agreed reluctantly to recall its ambassador from Paris.

M. Dovgalevsky, the Russian ambassador to Tokio, will succeed Christian Rakovsky as soviet envoy here according to word from Moscow, while it is hinted that M. Rakovsky may be given the Japanese post after first taking a long vacation.

Criticizes Ambassador Herbette.

Foreign Minister G. V. Chicherin accepted France's demand for the recall of Ambassador Rakovsky in a written note handed to M. Herbette this afternoon. M. Chicherin sharply criticizes the French ambassador for assuring him on Sept. 14 that Paris had considered the incident of M. Rakovsky's signing the famous Trotzky manifesto, urging foreign troops to revolt and join the Red army, closed. He also blames the French government for complicity in the bitter press campaign against the soviet ambassador.

"Following our verbal exchanges, you announced that your government was completely satisfied with my explanation of Ambassador Rakovsky's action in signing the manifesto and that the incident was considered closed," M. Chicherin writes. "If the French government was satisfied, as you assure me, it is not understandable why the question is again brought up."

"A Flimsy Excuse."

The French government evidently felt that the manifesto incident was a flimsy excuse for recalling the ambassador, M. Chicherin continues, "since it found it necessary to reproach Ambassador Rakovsky for publishing prematurely the terms of our offer regarding the funding of the czarist debts."

He then scores the French government for actually participating in the vituperous press campaign against Ambassador Rakovsky.

"Lately a certain part of the French press, utilizing information impossible to obtain elsewhere except from official government sources, has propagated, by altering and disfiguring the news, false information about the total collapse of the French-Russian debt negotiations," he states.

CRIES FRIGHTEN ROBBERS AWAY.

Screams of Fannie Wagner, a maid, early yesterday frightened away two men who attempted to rob Mrs. Etta Jaffe in her apartment at 6836 Paxton avenue. They entered on the pretense of delivering a package.

JACKSON RAPS OPPONENTS OF AIR RIGHT LEASE

Challenges Motives of 4 in Field Project.

When the Illinois Commerce commission yesterday again postponed action on the petition of the North Western railroad to transfer air rights north of the Chicago river for construction of a $15,000,000 warehouse by Marshall Field & Co., Chairman David H. Jackson, who has urged approval of the lease, challenged the four members whose negative votes have blocked the transaction to state one valid reason for their objections.

In an informal statment Mr. Jackson said that he questioned the motives of the four members and in a communication sent to each commissioner, which he made public, he set forth the advantages of the transaction and characterized the explanations offered in defense of their votes by the opponents as "nebulous."

Wants It Yes or No.

"I have asked the four commissioners, Patrick H. Moynihan, Hal W. Trovilion, Edward Wright, and Alex Johnson, to vote yes or no on the proposition or to state valid reasons for their position," Mr. Jackson said. "But they have refused to do so, explaining that time was required to study the proposition. For four months the records have been on file, ample time for examination, but during that time I have been the only one to consult them.

"Then, for lack of a better reason," Mr. Jackson continued, "the apparent one must be accepted."

In the communication to the commissioners, Mr. Jackson said that approval of the lease, establishing a precedent, would reduce the burden of the passenger—through the railroad applying its rent towards the operating expenses; that through the development of railroad property taxes would be increased, and that unsightly neighborhood would be improved.

Calls Reasons Unsound.

"When the instant case has been before the commission for discussion," the communication reads in part, "no one has advanced any argument against the request of the North Western railroad that appeals to the reason. One commissioner has stated somewhat nebulously that he does not like the way in which the railroad is disposing of its property and claims that the legal reasons given for so doing by the lawyers for the company are not sound, and seems to think some other way could be devised to dispose of the rights, but he has failed to point out what such method should be.

"This matter is important to the railroad, and in my opinion important to the city of Chicago. The practice seems generally to be desired in Chicago. It has been talked about for many years and no serious objection has ever appeared. In New York it has completely changed conditions around railroads to the great benefit of the whole city. No criticism has been heard at any meeting of this commission that the amount of money to be received by the railroad is less than it ought to be.

"Real estate and railroad men have testified to values and the compensation to be paid seems entirely adequate. Railroad engineers and our own engineers have stated that the ability of the railroad to perform its obligations as a carrier now and in the future appear to be fully assured, if the plan in contemplation is carried out."

Besides Mr. Jackson, commissioners Paul Kuhn and W. J. Smith have supported the transaction. The vote of four members is required for passage.

STOCKHOLDERS OF LINCOLN CO. TO SUE FORD

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Suit against Henry Ford and Edsel Ford by stockholders of the original Lincoln Motor company to compel the Fords to pay the losses to stockholders of the company is in course of preparation, it was learned yesterday.

Kenneth M. Stevens, general counsel for Henry M. Leland and Wilfred Leland, has retained William Henry Gallagher to conduct the suit, Mr. Stevens said.

The Lincoln company and all its holdings was sold in 1921 by the United States court in bankruptcy proceedings. It was announced that the Fords had paid $8,000,000 for the business. The Lelands claim the Fords promised to reimburse stockholders for any losses they incurred by the transfer.

NEW LANE TECH TO BE BUILT IN 1928, COATH SAYS

Assurance that the new Lane Technical High school building, which has been under consideration for a year will be included in the 1928 building program, was given yesterday by J. Lewis Coath, president of the school board. Aldermen J. J. Hoellen [47th] and W. H. Feigenbutz requested yesterday that the school be built at Addison street and Western avenue, a site long under consideration by the board.

Chicago high schools have a total enrollment this year of 71,000, a 10 per cent gain over last year, said Mrs. W. S. Hefferan. She said that despite the addition this year of some 8,700 seats all the high schools are filled to overflowing.

MASONS INSTALL EMMERSON AS GRAND MASTER

Louis L. Emmerson, secretary of state of Illinois, a probable Republican candidate for the nomination for governor, yesterday was installed as grand master of the Masons of Illinois at a meeting of the state's grand lodge. Others installed were E. C. Mullen, deputy grand master; Dr. C. Haven Stevens, senior grand warden; Leroy A. Goddard, grand treasurer; Owen Scott, grand secretary; Rev. R. Keene Ryan, grand chaplain, and Oscar Kropf, grand orator.

SHOOTS HIMSELF TO DEATH.

Carmelo Lupo, 49, was found dead in bed in his home at 827 Gilpin place yesterday. He had shot himself through the head with a revolver that was still clutched in his hand, police said. Relatives said he had been despondent.

TROOPS, LED BY YANK, ROUT REBEL BAND IN BATTLE

Hunt for Illinois Flyer Lost in Nicaragua.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13.—[U. P.]—Nicaraguan bandits today clashed with the American commanded Nicaraguan constabulary. The bandits killed four and wounded many, according to advices to the navy department today. The battle occurred while the Nicaraguan guard, under command of Lieut. George J. O'Shea, was searching for two missing marine aviators near Quilali, where the flyers had crashed. Casualties inflicted on the bandits were between 25 and 50 dead, the report said.

Lost Flyer from Illinois.

According to the navy report, Lieut. O'Shea's detachment was attacked by 100 bandits. After the battle the constabulary returned to its base at Jicarom. A second rescue column of native guards and marines was organized to continue the search.

The two missing flyers are Second Lieut. Earl A. Thomas of Richmond, Ind., and Sergt. Frank E. Dowdell of Carbondale, Ill. Earlier this week they were erroneously reported to have been rescued by a detachment of guards and marines.

Bandit Leader Slain.

Lieut. O'Shea's home is at 194 Ridgewood avenue, Brooklyn.

Santos Lobos, believed to be a Nicaraguan bandit leader, was killed and seven of his band were captured during another skirmish with American forces at Pueblo Nuevo, the American military commander at Managua notified the navy department.

SWEDISH PRINCE TO BE GUEST OF CHICAGO TODAY

Prince William of Sweden, second son of King Gustaf, who passed through Chicago yesterday on his way to deliver a lecture in Milwaukee, will return here this morning. Upon his arrival he will attend a breakfast given by the Cliff Dwellers, at which Carl Sandburg, George Ade, Booth Tarkington, and other writers will be present.

Following the breakfast, Prince William will leave for Kenosha. According to plans announced by City Treasurer Charles S. Peterson, who is making arrangements for the prince's visit here, the royal traveler and lecturer will then return to Chicago tomorrow. He will lecture that evening in the Auditorium theater on "Big Game in Pygmy Land," from his hunting experiences in Africa.

In a letter to Mayor Thompson, Prince William requested that the city dispense with the usual custom of clearing traffic for visiting dignitaries. He wishes to be regarded as a private citizen, the letter said.

HAROLD CUSACK TELLS OF ROW OVER SECRETARY

Testifies It Almost Parted Family.

Thomas Cusack's attentions to his private secretary, Mrs. B. W. Parmalee of Austin, was objectionable to his five children and nearly caused a break in the family relations, according to testimony yesterday of Harold Cusack, adopted son of the late billboard magnate.

Testifies to Family Row.

Harold was testifying before Judge Oscar Hebel in his suit to recover $250,000 from the five children, whom he charges with fraud. The explosion in the otherwise quiet day's session came as the plaintiff was being cross examined by Frederick Burnham, attorney for the three sons and two daughters of Cusack.

"Mrs. Parmalee wants to go to Florida with us," Harold quoted Frank Cusack, one of the defendants in the suit, as having said in a conversation in January of 1925. "You know dad is quite infatuated with her, but perhaps we can keep them apart, if only she doesn't go to Florida with us," Frank added, according to the witness.

Tells of Conversation With Son.

A month later, Harold said, he talked with Charles Cusack, another son of the advertising man. Their conversation, in substance, was as follows, according to Harold:

HAROLD—How is everything?

CHARLES—O, terrible; you know Mrs. Parmalee came down there and my sisters had a set-to with dad. They threatened to leave home; and he threatened to disinherit them.

HAROLD—Don't worry about the money part; it's all tied up in the trust fund.

CHARLES—Anyway, we'll fight that woman situation to the last ditch.

The trial was continued until this morning.

BRITISH FARMERS RAP GOVERNMENT FOR DODGING AID

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 13.—A violent attack is being made against the government's failure to tackle what is undoubtedly a grave agricultural crisis in England—the worst since 1879, say the farmers.

The government is blamed for wasting time and money in futile empire research conferences, at the same time avoiding practical help.

"The high cost of labor and production is the cause of the present ills," said E. G. Prettyman, national farm expert, addressing a huge meeting of protesting farmers today.

"Farmers are compelled to pay high wages by legislation, while the government refuses to give them facilities for meeting their higher costs," he said.

Mr. Prettyman demanded protective measures to enable the farmer to obtain a price which will enable him to pay for his production costs and make a profit.

FAIL TO RESCUE 4 OFF SCOW WITH BREECHES BUOY

New York, Oct. 14.—[Friday.]—[Special.]—Four men clung to the upper rigging of a derrick scow at 1 o'clock this morning, 500 yards off the coast at Far Rockaway, and watched rescuers disappear after the tenth attempt to save the quartet by shooting the rope of a breeches buoy out to them had failed.

The scow broke loose from its moorings yesterday afternoon. A heavy sea was running with a strong ground swell that followed Wednesday night's storm, and the wind was high. It brought up on a sand bar opposite Beach Twenty-eighth street.

Efforts to rescue the men, first by the aid of a sea-going tug, then by attempting to launch dories through the strong surf, and finally by the use of the breeches buoy failed. The coast guard at 1 o'clock this morning started back to Long Beach to bring up their heavy surf boat.

SCIENTIST SAYS THERE'S HOPE TO END SMOKE EVIL

Parr Tells Gas Men of Soft Coal Outlook.

The theory holding that the first hundred years is the most difficult was applied to the use of bituminous coal yesterday by Prof. S. W. Parr of the University of Illinois, speaking before the American Gas association at the Stevens hotel.

Prof. Carr pictured the development in use of this fuel since 1827 and the parallel increase of the smoke pollution of the atmosphere through America.

He held out hope, however, for improvement within the next hundred years. In that time, he informed his audience, something ought to be done about it.

Today's Important Question.

"The interesting question today is: Will the next hundred years be required to undo the misfortunes which have befallen us along with the marvelous development of the 100 years just passed?" he said.

"There are at least theoretical conditions that have been established regarding the possibility of processing bituminous coal under such conditions as will result in solid, smokeless fuel, admirably suited to domestic use, and a gas of high quality and sufficient volume to make it attractive to the gas maker.

"The ideal fuel as a heating medium is gas. When it reaches the stage of volume production to an extent where costs can materially be reduced, the extension of its use will be greater than remotely can be realized today."

Traces Soft Coal History.

In discussing the spread of the smoke nuisance in America, Prof. Parr turned back the pages of coal history, revealing Illinois as the culprit in the soft coal situation. He said:

"The discovery of coal on this continent is credited to Father Hennepin at a point near the Illinois river in La Salle county. The record of commercial shipments from Jackson county by barge to New Orleans shows the beginning of activities in 1810.

"By 1827, just 100 years ago, the consumption of fuel in America consisted of 80 per cent wood, 3 per cent charcoal, 14 per cent anthracite and less than 2 per cent bituminous coal. Fuel was not used to any great extent in turning wheels of industry, but was almost wholly used for domestic purposes. Fully 98 per cent of the fuel then used was nonsmoke producing. Now we have arrived at a place where 80 per cent of the fuel is smoke making.

"The greatest smoke offenders are dwellings and apartments which are heated by equipment which stews off tars and vapors of inconceivable variety and odors, and in composition and filth effective for the work of polluting the atmosphere."

Illinois will, Prof. Parr said in discussing the super manufacture of gas, participate in a large way in future prosperity, in view of its large deposits of bituminous coal. The gas industry is getting away from use of anthracite and oil, he declared, and is falling back on soft coal, the fuel used by the first gas making company formed in America—the Baltimore company in 1816.

Warns of Nation's Speeding Up.

R. R. Updegraff of New York warned the gas executives that since the war the tempo of America has increased to such an extent that the nation is unstable for business in that it possesses a disconcerting willingness to turn its back on established institutions and accept new products. He cited the miles of rusty trolley car rails as an example in the utility field. He counseled the gas industry to keep up on its toes in relation to improvement in its field.

The convention of the gas association ends with the sessions today. Registration indicated that about 5,000 persons have been attending the sessions.

RESTORE FLEET CORPORATION TO SHIPPING BOARD

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Return of the fleet corporation to the direct management of the shipping board, together with reorganization which places control of government owned lines in the hands of T. V. O'Connor, chairman of the board, was ordered today at a special meeting of the shipping board.

To put a single executive at the head of the corporation, the board elected O'Connor, president of the fleet corporation and chairman of the board of directors.

A. C. Dalton, who has been president of the corporation, will become its vice president and general manager, being responsible to the board.

Today's reorganization appeared to be the final step in a long and controverted effort by the shipping board to regain control of the corporation since they were separated in 1921 by Albert D. Lasker, the Chicagoan appointed by President Harding to head the board.

The plan under which the government shipping interests will be controlled was said to be similar to that adopted while Charles M. Schwab, the steel magnate, was director general of the fleet corporation.

URGES CONGRESS TO PUT TEETH IN VOLSTEAD ACT

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—The National Civic league has set out to "put teeth into the Volstead act," it was announced today by John B. Hammond, legislative representative of the organization, who made public the league's plans for twelve new laws that he expects to put before congress.

A part of the league's program includes the abolition of the near beer industry in the United States, repeal of the physicians' liquor prescription law, strict regulations governing the distribution of industrial alcohol, and mandatory abatement provisions. Hammond said the league also wants arrests for liquor violations in homes without search warrants.

The National Civic league, which is an avowed enemy of the Anti-Saloon league, will leave nothing undone to outshine the work of its rival, according to Hammond's plans.

Another proposal is that an act be passed placing a minimum penalty for all violations of the liquor laws, thus taking from the judiciary the right to impose small fines.

Congress also will be asked to make the abatement law mandatory in both criminal and civil actions. The law does not now permit abatement of a liquor nuisance in a criminal case.

That a permanent injunction be allowable and the injunction made mandatory against liquor nuisances.

FIANCEE OF HILL APPEARS AT JURY PROBE OF MURDER

Ottawa, Ill., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Miss Alice Sawyer of Streator, fiancée of Harry Hill, appeared at the courthouse late this afternoon to testify before the grand jury that is investigating the murder of young Hill's mother, Mrs. Eliza A. Hill of Streator, whose body was found on the night of Aug. 22 buried in the basement of her Streator residence.

Miss Sawyer, who was subpœnaed by Russell O. Hanson, the state's attorney, refused to say whether she came as a voluntary witness for the state, or just because she was summoned.

"I'm not going to answer a single question," Miss Sawyer informed reporters as she sat in the office of the state's attorney waiting to be summoned to the grand jury room.

The grand jury was conducting its investigation into Mrs. Hill's death this morning at the same time that Judge E. E. Roberts admitted to probate Mrs. Hill's will which leaves practically all of her $45,000 estate to the son now suspected in connection with her murder.

OF OUR GREAT OCTOBER FOOD SALE
(Write in or ask for a circular containing hundreds of October Sale Specials)

This great sale is demonstrating quite a few things to the Chicago public and it will demonstrate the same to you if you will take time to investigate.

FOR INSTANCE—A shopper was shown some peaches which we bought at a high grade store for demonstration purposes for 45c a tin. At their side she was shown our peaches that sell for 25c a tin. She said she would buy our peaches in preference to others even if she had to pay 45c a tin for ours.

We demonstrate many things like this every day and our order takers are working overtime to get their orders ready for delivery.

VATICAN ASKS RETURN TO OWN STATE IN ITALY

Seeks to Regain Lands Seized in 1870.

ROME, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The Vatican has taken a decisive step toward solution of the "Roman question" for the first time since it lost its temporal power, more than fifty years ago.

The Osservatore Romano, mouthpiece of the Vatican, in an editorial lays down conditions on which the whole struggle between the church and the state might come to an end. First of all, the newspaper reiterates the absolute necessity of the holy see having some kind of territory, no matter how small, in order to convince everybody of the complete liberty and independence of the pope in the spiritual government of the church.

Wants Lands for Papacy.

The Vatican organ proposes that Italy, which annexed the pontifical states, should restore a portion of the papal domain. In other words the Osservatore suggests that another state should be formed, similar to the republics of San Marino and Andorra, the principality of Monaco and the grand duchy of Luxembourg.

The present suggestion of the Osservatore is virtually a resumption of the project advanced before the war by Cardinal Bourne, archbishop of Westminster, who proposed that the large tract of land adjoining St. Peter's basilica and the apostolical palace should be ceded by Italy to the pope with the right of extraterritoriality, thus creating de facto a small new state.

Hope for Solution.

Italy never has been in a more favorable position than now to solve the "Roman question." Even Premier Crispi, considered the most despotic ruler of the peninsula in modern times, had not the same free hand that Premier Mussolini has today.

DRY AGENTS RAID TWO ROADHOUSES IN MORTON GROVE

The Lincoln tavern and the Stumble inn, Morton Grove roadhouses, were raided yesterday by prohibition agents, who arrested three men and made liquor seizures at both places.

E. J. Hallis was arrested when a raiding squad seized a wildcat brewery in the Lemont Concrete Products company plant in Lemont. A warrant was obtained for the arrest of George Dillman, alleged to own the plant.

FALLS TO DEATH FROM CRANE.

Oscar Anderson, 35, of 7417 Evans avenue, a rigger in the Illinois Steel company, fell to his death yesterday from the top of a crane on which he was working.

They Called Her Scrawny, But Not for Long

Is your face drawn and pinched? Your skin flabby? Are your cheeks sunken with great hollows under the eyes? Does your figure show unbecoming angles instead of the softly rounded slimness of youth?

All these conditions rob you of attractiveness and make you look old. But, worst of all, these may actually be the symptoms of simple anaemia—that dread ailment so often suffered by women.

There's nothing so good as McCoy's Tablets to put on firm flesh, round out face and figure, and build up rich, red blood.

So if you need a few pounds of flesh to round out the hollows, if you want to get back old-time energy and health, get a box of McCoy's Tablets today. Just a short treatment will make you look and feel like a new person.

McCoy takes all the risk—read this ironclad guarantee: If after taking 4 sixty cent boxes of McCoy's Tablets or 2 One Dollar boxes any thin, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least 5 pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health, your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price.

The name McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets has been shortened—just ask for McCoy's Tablets at any drug store in America, such as Economical Drug Co. or

If You Think You're Safe When Teeth are White and Clean—Read This

Although their teeth may be glistening white and as clean as can be, 4 persons out of 5 after forty and thousands younger pay toll to grim Pyorrhea What is the cause of such misfortune? . . . Carelessness.

Grim Pyorrhea attacks only when gums are weak, sickly and tender. Its poisons sweep through the system, often causing such serious troubles as stomach disorders, anemia, neuritis, and nervousness.

There is only one sensible way to safeguard health against this ruthless foe. See your dentist once every six months and start using Forhan's for the Gums, today.

Unlike any dentifrice you've ever used, Forhan's for the Gums does more than keep teeth white and protect them from acids which cause decay. It firms the gums and keeps them alive and healthy. (As you know, Pyorrhea never attacks healthy gums.)

It is the formula of R. J. Forhan, D.D.S., for many years a Pyorrhea Specialist. And it is compounded with the correct percentage of Forhan's Pyorrhea Liquid, used by dentists everywhere in the treatment of Pyorrhetic conditions.

To have clean, white teeth, to protect good health against the attack of Pyorrhea, use Forhan's for the Gums, regularly morning and night. Pay 60c for a large tube—now . . . And get a bottle of Forhan's Antiseptic Refreshant—free!

CHINESE CHARGE N. Y. BANK DEALS IN NARCOTICS

Southern Troops Capture Strategic Town.

BY JOHN POWELL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, China, Oct. 13.—The Chinese National Anti-Opium society issued a statement today charging the National City Bank of New York and the French-Indo China bank with acting as agents for illicit narcotic trade in China.

The report alleges that the National City bank was to receive a parcel of heroin weighing 132 pounds, but that the parcel was intercepted by Chinese customs agents.

Southerners Capture Town.

Nationalist (southern) troops today captured the town of Pengpu, a strategic center of Anwhei province on the Tientsin-Pukow railway, north of Nanking, forcing the evacuation of the Fengtien (northern) troops northward toward the Shantung border.

The Nationalists, in coöperation with the Christian general, Feng Yu-hsiang, are launching a general attack against the troops of Marshal Chang Tso-lin, the Peking ruler, in Shantung province.

FRENCH COACH ARMY

BY CHARLES DAILEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PEKING, China, Oct. 13.—The Manchurian armies supporting the Peking government continue to round up the Shansi armies, which were defeated in a three day battle in southern Chihli province. Gov. Yen Hsi-shan of Shansi province, it is reported, has ordered the withdrawal of his armies from both fronts within the passes. The total captured by the Peking, or northern forces, exceeds 10,000. These are being transferred to Manchuria.

Marshal Chang Tso-lin, the Manchurian war lord, who rules Peking, told the Japanese minister, Baron Yoshizawa, that his casualties exceeded 5,000, including more than 100 field and general officers.

The victory was gained by following the advice of French experts, using the St. Cyr tactics and extending the use of cavalry and artillery.

Three Corps in Action.

Three army corps were in the line, with another group in reserve. The three attacking armies applied a steady pressure, forcing the Shansi troops west toward the railway, and, on reaching the railway junction, the reserve troops joined in a flanking movement which cut off the majority of the Shansi troops. All the passes to the west, except one, were controlled by the northern troops. Foreign observers say this was the first time the Chinese have fought on strictly modern lines. The northerners withdrew until the enemy was fifty miles from their base and then attacked.

The nationalist [southern] Chinese have named Gen. Tang Shen-chi commander of their armies, succeeding Gen. Chiang Kai-shek. He is proceeding to Nanking.

Further trouble is expected at Foochow, where communist troops clashed with parading students, causing many casualties.

RADIO PROGRAMS FOR TODAY

(Friday, Oct. 14.) (Central Standard Time.)

Sattley's Show Will Top W-G-N Program

MAC SATTLEY'S mammoth sixty minute program this afternoon between 3:30 and 4:30, which will be broadcast direct from the studio at the Chicago radio show, gives promise of being one of the outstanding features of today's program from W-G-N, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE station on the Drake hotel. Mac has enlisted such a wealth of talent that sixty minutes will scarcely suffice for their presentation. Perhaps the climax of his show will come when he presents the Lucky Trio, who have come off the vaudeville boards to assist Mac in this program. Their contribution will consist of two brand new numbers, "Dawning" and "C'est Vous." The trio consists of Josephine Sullivan, Martha Blood and Lillian Bowman, with Eddie Frickman at the piano.

W. E. DONAHUE. [Rayhuff-Richter Photo.]

Among the other stars who will feature this one hour program are Larry Shay, the young song writer, singing "Beautiful," and skits from his old popular song hits; Benny Kantor, who'll offer "Baby Your Mother" and "My Blue Heaven"; Bernie Grossman, the man who wrote "Linger Longer Letty"; Art Sizemore and Tommy Malie, who'll run through "After I see the Sandman," "Here Comes My Sugar," and others; Julian Davidson, co-author of "Wistful and Blue"; and Joe Verges and Paul Small, singing Joe's new song, "Waltz of Love," and many others. Princess Clan-Calla, a popular star of Mac's program, will sing several songs from "The Vagabond King," in which she starred.

W. E. Donahue, local display advertising manager of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, will be heard in a talk over W-G-N tonight at 8 o'clock. Mr. Donahue has chosen as his subject, "Newspaper Advertising," and in it he will discuss the value of newspaper space for the business man, as well as the country's business prosperity at the present time.

The leading musical feature of the evening will be the half hour program by Paul Ash and his merry-mad musical gang, which will come to listeners direct from the special studio in the Oriental theater. Paul has planned another frolicsome program and there'll be jazz music by the "gang," and songs by the band of stars with whom Ash has surrounded himself this week. Paul, as usual, will act as master of ceremonies and do his own announcing.

Henry Selinger, the Phantom Violin, is scheduled for another of his recitals tonight between 9:30 and 10 o'clock. His program will consist as in the past of classical numbers, with an occasional lighter melody tucked in to add balance to his program. The Phantom's recital follows a half hour orchestra program by the Anglo-Persians, 9 to 9:30 o'clock.

CALLS HIGH PAY, LOW PRICE PART OF NEW SELLING

D. F. Kelly Also Discusses Keen Competition.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

D. F. Kelly, president of the Fair, presented several essentials for successful modern retailing to 700 guests of the Illinois chamber of commerce yesterday noon in the Red Lacquer room of the Palmer house.

Among those stressed were fair competition, truthful advertising and good wages. The first two phases are closely related and were more or less interwoven by the speaker.

Mr. Kelly said among other things, these two sentences: "High wages are responsible to a great extent for the success of this country. Merchants should pay wages to the limit of the possibilities of the store."

In another part of his address, Mr. Kelly said: "Modern merchandising consists of buying wanted wares and selling them at a reasonable profit to satisfied customers. The view of the highest type organization is that a sale is not completed until the goods are satisfactorily delivered.

Discusses Keen Competition.

"The wisdom of using the old maxim, 'Competition is the life of trade' should be questioned. What is competition?

"If we mean showing complete stocks, offered at reasonable prices by a trained and courteous personnel in pleasant modern surroundings, the term still holds good.

"If we mean, watch the other fellow's advertisements and immediately reduce your price to get below his regardless of profit; if we mean, make a determined effort to learn when your competitor is going to have an important sales event and strive to come out ahead of him; if we mean, to attempt to gain business by boastful and sometimes [perhaps thoughtlessly] untruthful statements in advertising; all these do not mean competition, they mean destruction."

The public utilities companies should retire from the merchandising field, Mr. Kelly said. He quoted from the opinions of the International Association of Electrologists, an organization of men specializing in electrical apparatus. That opinion said it was unfair for such concerns, with a protected rate of return, to compete with those subject to the hazards of open competition.

Willard Talks on Railroads.

Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, was another speaker. The president or some other high official of every railroad entering Chicago was present. Mr. Willard was introduced by Julius Rosenwald as "a statesman in railroading."

Disregarding electric lines, because they infrequently come into competition with steam roads, Mr. Willard said the railroads haul 90 per cent of the freight of the country and supply about 88 per cent of the passenger transportation. He declared the railroads are more efficient than ever and the rates reasonable. Service considered, rates are lower than ever, he said.

While many railroad men have complained against the transportation act of 1920, Mr. Willard said an imperfect law fairly administered is to be preferred to a constantly changing policy. He added that act could be operated so as to assure adequate returns, attract investment in railway securities, and provide for coördination of rail, motor, and waterway traffic.

Talks of Railway Credit.

Mr. Willard spoke at length on credits for railroads. In the 18 years he has been head of the B. & O. that system has spent $400,000,000 for additions and betterments. In the last 17 years all the railroads of the country have spent $9,500,000,000, an average of $560,000,000 per year for these same purposes. Mr. Willard predicted continuing expenditures along those lines.

There are about 275,000 miles of first main tracks of steam railroads in the United States, enough to make 25 systems of the length of the Pennsylvania railroad. Mr. Willard pointed out that there are the Santa Fe and the Southern Pacific in the west and the Pennsylvania and New York Central in the east as examples of well rounded systems.

"I am confident that if 25 well rounded systems of the same length of the Pennsylvania," he asserted, "could be made to take the place of the several hundred now existing, the public could be better served by such an arrangement and probably at a somewhat lower cost, although the economies to be realized very likely would not be as great as some have claimed or suggested."

Relative to coördination of all transportation facilities, Mr. Willard, who was chairman of the advisory commission of the council of national defense, said: "I thought that such a policy was demanded in time of war and I think now that such a policy is sound and desirable in times of peace."

Mr. Willard is for governmental regulation of coördinated railway, waterway, and highway transportation. Airplanes he referred to as largely experimental now.

Sanitary District Awards $3,333,440 Sewer Work

Plans to carry the sewage of Chicago's loop district to west side treatment works for purification were advanced yesterday when the sanitary district trustees awarded a $3,333,440 contract to Paschen Brothers for the construction of 11,000 feet of sewer. The sewer, 17½ feet in diameter, will extend from the treatment plant at Stickney to Crawford avenue and the Ogden sewer. The west side treatment plant, now under construction, is to cost $42,000,000 and is designed to handle the sewage of 2,000,000 population.

BANKERS SELECT DEWEY TO HANDLE POLAND'S MONEY

Action Follows Granting of $70,000,000 Loan.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Selection of Charles S. Dewey of Chicago, now assistant secretary of the treasury, as financial director of Poland will be announced within the next day or two.

The naming of Mr. Dewey is understood to have been a part of the agreement between the government of Poland and a syndicate of international bankers for a $70,000,000 stabilization loan. The syndicate is headed by the Bankers Trust company, Blair & Co., the Chase Securities corporation, and the Guaranty Trust company of New York.

Will Resign U. S. Job.

Signing of the agreement was announced today by the Polish government, but no mention was made of the selection of an American to have supervision over the expenditure of the money. The choice of the financial director is known to have been in the hands of the American bankers.

As assistant secretary Mr. Dewey has been in charge of the fiscal bureaus of the treasury. He resigned a vice presidency of the Northern Trust company of Chicago to accept the treasury position.

On appointment, he will tender his resignation as assistant secretary of the treasury.

POLAND SIGNS CONTRACT.

WARSAW, Poland, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Negotiations between the Polish government and American bankers ended successfully tonight with the signature of a contract for a loan of $60,000,000 and £2,000,000 for 20 years at 7 per cent. Redemption installments and interest are guaranteed by the Polish customs returns.

GLASS CAUTIONS U. S. MEDDLING IN FOREIGN LOANS

May End in Scandal, Senator Warns.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Approval by the state department of private loans obtained by foreign governments in this country is an unwarranted and dangerous usurpation of authority, Senator Carter Glass [Dem., Va.] warned today.

Exercise of this power, Senator Glass said, may some day result in a serious scandal, and the administration should abandon the practice.

The statement of the Virginia senator, who was secretary of the treasury during the Wilson administration, was prompted by the approval by the state department of French, Prussian and Polish plans for floating loans in the United States.

Such approval, state department officials concede, has been without specific authority of law, but has been given in pursuance of a voluntary agreement entered into by American bankers during the Harding administration to submit foreign financing plans for governmental sanction.

Challenges Practice.

"By what authority does the state department assume to review and vise private financial transactions to which citizens or concerns or corporations of this country are parties in interest, together with their foreign debtors and in which the government of the United States has no stake and with which is has properly nothing whatsoever to do?" Senator Glass asked.

"What facilities as a practical fact has the department of state accurately to determine any of the intricate details involved in matters of such magnitude, and by what authority were such facilities, if they exist, provided and at whose cost?

Who Is U. S. Expert? He Asks.

"In short, who is the trained international banker, with his retinue of aids, the experienced, the tested credit man of the federal department of state, who assumes to pass upon the investment requirements of this country and to say which of the foreign nations are entitled to credit in America and upon what terms?"

DOUBLE SLAYING AT BIRMINGHAM PUZZLES POLICE

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Police admittedly had made no headway tonight in solving the mysterious slaying of Dr. F. F. Blair, former state physician, and his wife, who were found shot to death in their burning home early today.

While loath to accept the murder-suicide theory, officials at the same time indicated that there was little tangible evidence which pointed to murder.

Answering a call turned in by neighbors, firemen rushed into the Blair home to find the physician and his wife lying on the floor. Draperies and bedding in the room were a mass of flames.

Police noted the fact that the rear door of the residence was unlocked and that three shots had been fired from two pistols, only two of which took effect. The third bullet was found embedded in a wall of the room.

The position of the bodies when found and the fact that the two pistols were in different rooms of the house, police said, indicated it would have been impossible for either the physician or his wife to have fired the shots.

Former Associate of Remus Is Arrested in Evanston

Fred Hoffman, who is said to have been at one time an associate of George Remus in bootlegging activities, was arrested by Policemen Bell and Bussean last night at 1116 Brummel street, Evanston, at the request of the federal authorities. Hoffman, according to the government men, was indicted for a liquor law violation at Indianapolis and fled after he had been released on bonds. A brewery was seized in the house where he was arrested in a raid nearly two years ago by the Evanston authorities.

HINT BOOTLEG GANG MAY HAVE KILLED WOMAN

Indications that bootleggers may have killed Mrs. Katherine Jones in her home at East Chicago Heights Wednesday night were seen yesterday in their investigations by the county highway police. Mrs. Jones was killed by seven shotgun slugs while her husband and son were away, and her 2 year old daughter was asleep upstairs.

"We have nothing definite to substantiate our belief that the killing was done by bootleggers, other than that it is a bootleggers' type of murder," Lieut. Robert Seller said. He added there were reports that Mrs. Jones had reported to the federal prohibition department that moonshine was being made in East Chicago Heights.

The county force also was investigating to determine whether there was any connection between the murder of Mrs. Jones and that of Frank E. Passani of 35 East 21st street, Chicago Heights, who was found shot to death at 106th street and Cicero avenue.

RUANE, 19 TO 1, WINS STAKE AT ARLINGTON PARK

New Racing Plant Pleases Crowd.

BY FRENCH LANE.

H. D. BROWN.

Arlington Park, a race track destined to become one of the most magnificent in the world, but only about 80 per cent complete, opened its gates to a highly representative Chicago crowd of about 10,000 yesterday. Seven races were run off over a heavy track; Chicago society, wealth and industry mingled in the large clubhouse; 7,000 turf regulars rubbed elbows in the grand stand section, and Ruane, a 19 to 1 shot, won the Chicago Day handicap from Devon, with Man o' War's daughter, Mix Up, third.

And the unanimous verdict of those in the crowd was that Arlington Park, when complete and in operation at a time of the year when the thoroughbred sport is more seasonable, will be unsurpassed by any track. Nothing like the Arlington Park layout has ever been presented to Chicago turf followers. Belmont Park, historic Churchill Downs, old Pimlico in Maryland, or even Epsom Downs in England, where 300,000 assemble on the hillsides to see the Derby run, almost could be dropped into this huge Arlington Park property and be all but lost.

Crowd Marvels.

In its incomplete stage the new track built by H. D. Brown and his associates of the American-National Jockey club caused the first day crowd to marvel. The track sold itself to the large crowd. The crowd came prepared for the dreary weather which prevailed, but most of the spectators shivered as they tried to pick the winners.

The races were decided over a track that was extremely heavy, but the time made in the different events was as good as that made over the same sort of heavy track at Hawthorne this year. The race track proper, or at least the mile and an eighth outside strip, was complete.

The grand stand was as good as it ever will be. The clubhouse was complete in its own structure, but partly lacking in furnishings. The approaches to the track, the lawns, the paddock, and surrounding landscape work had not been finished. But the plant was much more complete in every detail than some of the others that have opened around Chicago in recent years.

Saddle Horses Under Stands.

No attempt was made to saddle the horses in the spacious open air paddock. Stalls had been fitted up beneath the grand stand and pressed into service for the part of the program.

Ruane's victory in the $10,000 handicap was a severe jolt to those who have been following the horses around Chicago this season. This mud runner, son of Behave Yourself—My Boots, went to the post in claiming races not more than 6 weeks ago. But he has been improving sensationally, and to hn Partridge, his owner, it was no surprise when he dropped his nose down in front. Chicago, ridden by rl Poole, was an almost prohibitive favorite, but whether it was the new track or the heavy track, he didn't run much of a race. Pool rallied him on the backstretch of the mile battle and he got up into contention. Then he dropped back and let the more lowly horses make the running.

Florence Mills Early Leader.

Florence Mills was the early leader, th Yeddo, Mix Up, and McTinkle up. Ruane was with the rear rd, eighth in the field of twelve for me. Getting up to fifth place at the turn, and ridden hard by H. Philpot down the stretch, Ruane disposed of one after another until his nose was in front, twenty strides from the finish. He was going away from Devon from there on home, with Mix Up, after taking the lead in midstretch, faltering in the final strides and saving third money from Sun Altos by just a head. Ruane's price in the mutuels was $40.02. The favorites won in most of the other races, including Luxembourg in the opener, Open Go Shut in the third, drine in the sixth, and Letter Six the last.

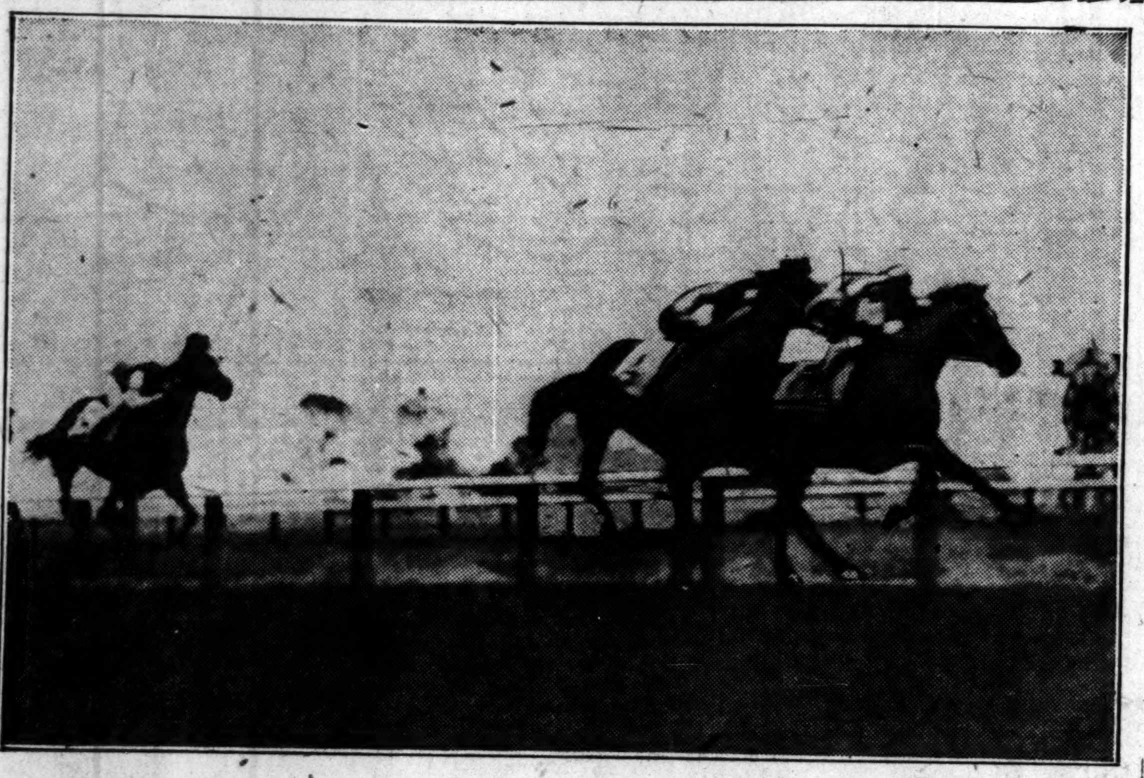
A $10,000 VICTORY BY A HEAD



The finish of the $10,000 Chicago Day handicap at the opening of the Arlington Park track yesterday, showing Ruane getting in the last strides to beat Devon by a head. Mix-Up, one of Man o' War's daughters, is No. 4 and in third place. It was Jockey Philpot's hard riding in the stretch which got the 19 to 1 shot home in front. There were a dozen starters in the rich race.

Girl Channel Splasher Would Eliminate Private Swims

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 13.—Dr. Dorothy Logan, the English woman who claims to have swum the English channel in 13 hours and 10 minutes, considerably reducing Gertrude Ederle's record for women, now agrees that in future some responsible body should supervise such feats if only to obviate unpleasant questions.

In view of the fact that Dr. Logan had been splashing about in the channel for some time, herself, and doubtless heard the unpleasant questions that were asked when other swimmers mysteriously popped out of the water claiming to have crossed under their own power in unusually fine time, it is regrettable that she did not think of this before.

Big Rewards Stir Imagination.

The deplorable fact is that nowadays when newspapers, real estate promoters and chambers of commerce are offering large sums to the first man, the first woman, the first mother, or the first seven-toed person to swim this or that water hazard, there is a great stimulus to swimmers' imagination.

It is distressing but nevertheless a fact that as soon as swimmers began to acquire managers the English channel, the Catalina channel and Lake George, N. Y., began to take it on the chin, so to speak, from secret swimmers of no previous distinction.

It would be indelicate to suggest that any of the swimmers who went into any of these formidable swimming holes unobserved and emerged on the opposite shores all wet did not do all they claimed to have done. But privacy has a way of arousing suspicion, even in the councils of the baseball industry, which is America's great national game.

Flynn, Johnston Pass Up Chance.

The only wonder is that Mr. Leo P. Flynn, Mr. James J. Johnston and some other great imaginative geniuses of the prize fight industry did not see the possibilities of the situation, because they are not modest men, and if either one of them had handled a swimmer in the channel or Lake George that swimmer would have established a record for the steamboats to shoot at.

Neither Mr. Flynn nor Mr. Johnston would do things by halves, and if any one will be generous enough to offer a prize of $50,000 for a channel swim under conditions of privacy, you probably will find Mr. Flynn and Mr. Johnston swimming a dead heat themselves in some such remarkable time as nothing flat. However, there must be complete privacy, as Mr. Flynn is inclined to be sensitive about his figure, and Mr. Johnston is by nature too modest to expose his physique in the extreme décolleté of a swimming costume.

The American Legion post of Lake George is the most trustful of all the concerns that have offered [illegible] of money for long distance swims. Most of the great Lake George swim last summer was conducted at night in the dark of the moon and the course patrols and committee members evinced the most touching faith in the honesty of the swimmers and their managers.

Belgian Woman Disqualified.

Madam Jane Sion, the Belgian woman who has tried the English channel so many times but failed, owing to exhaustion and deficient imagination, was disqualified in the Lake George swim and her distress at the implied reflection on her ethics was heart-rending.

Madam Sion, in reaching for a sandwich, accidentally grasped the stern of her boat and simultaneously a rope became looped about her waist, just as a patrol boat happened along bound ashore for an emergency issue of measures to prevent colds. The patrol disqualified Madam Sion, but it seems to have missed several other swimmers who were gamely fighting the icy waters and so forth, wrapped up

Another Woman Swims Channel, Boatmen Swear

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 14.—Another Englishwoman has swum the English channel—the third this week.

Mrs. Ivy Gill of Sheffield landed at Shakespeare Cliff, Dover, at 12:20 this morning. She started from Cape Gris Nez at 9:11 Thursday morning and struck rough water the first four hours, but after that conditions were perfect. She used the trudgeon stroke except in the roughest water. During the last hour she was accompanied by a male companion.

Boatmen and occupants of the motorboat Oceanic are swearing affidavits as to the authenticity of the swim.

Mrs. Gill was exhausted when she touched the English shore, declaring, "I can't stand," and was helped up to the beach by her manager and trainer. From there she was taken to the Dover sea baths, where she was given a hot bath.

Mrs. Gill's time was 15 hours 9 minutes, 6 minutes shorter than that of Mercedes Gleitze, the London typist, this week, and one hour 59 minutes longer than that of Dr. Dorothy Logan.

Mrs. Gill is a Sheffield stenographer, 24 years of age, and did her training in a Sheffield mill dam. She married recently and has won numerous swimming prizes in Yorkshire since she was 15 years of age.

Ban Stands Pat on Date of Retirement

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Despite a plea advanced by Col. Jake Ruppert, who said he was expressing the wishes of the American league directors, Byron Bancroft Johnson, president of the American league, will not alter his decision to bring his baseball career to an official close here Monday noon.

Ruppert, owner of the Yanks, when he learned that Johnson was ready to walk out of the job that everybody in baseball has been trying to take from him, forcibly or otherwise, for the last several years, said that he hoped the chief would delay his departure until the first week in November, but evidently has passed the stage where he considers it necessary to respect the desires of any except himself.

"My work is finished, and there is no need of waiting," he said in his office yesterday as he eyed a new steamer trunk that is to accompany him on a trip to Honolulu.

Ruppert's Aim Unknown.

Ruppert's aim to spar for time might be looked upon as a thing of significance. It may be that the magnates desire to arrange appropriate ceremonies for the leave taking of the only man ever at the head of the junior major. Then, again, there is a possibility that the league is still undecided as to a successor.

The latter theory, however, doesn't fit in with hints dropped by various owners that E. S. Barrard, the silent executive of the Cleveland club, already had been agreed upon for the job.

Squire Landis, the boss of the baseball industry, yesterday finished his annual wrestling match with the adding machines and announced he had the world's series money ready to distribute to the two pennant winners and the other first division clubs in the two majors.

The Yanks were given $167,765.08 for winning the world's title. This was split into twenty-seven shares of $5,782.24. The Pirates' bit is $111,843.39, but the losers of the fall fight have not yet notified the commissioner as to how the money is to be divided.

Each Cub Gets $315.68.

The Athletics and Cardinals, second placers in their respective circuits, drew $29,958.05 each. The A's divided their pot into twenty-five shares of $1,178.32. The Cardinals voted for twenty-seven shares of $1,033.03.

Third place money gave $19,972.04 each to the Giants and Washington. Fourth place money amounted to $9,986.02. The Cubs broke theirs into thirty-one pieces of $315.68 and the Tigers voted for twenty-eight shares of $332.87.

NOTRE DAME AND NAVY TO DECIDE BATTLE IN AIR

Rival Coaches Exponents of Open Game.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

KNUTE ROCKNE.

Forward and backward passes, two of the strongest offensive weapons in football, probably will be the deciding factors in the important intersectional struggle between Notre Dame and the Navy at Baltimore tomorrow.

Rockne of Notre Dame and Ingram of the Navy are two of the leading exponents of the open game. Fans will recall how the Navy scored on the Army a year ago by forward passes early in the game. They also will remember how Notre Dame defeated Southern California in the closing minutes of play by successful execution of the forward pass.

Ready to Gamble for Victory.

Both coaches can be depended upon to disregard some of the fundamental principles of football. Forward passes will be attempted in a team's own territory and punting, the quick kick especially, will be called for on either first or second down. At other times efforts may be made to run the ball on a fourth down when small yardage is needed for a first down.

It may be a free scoring game. Both teams are so eager for victory that plays being perfected for other struggles may be called into commission. This is especially true of the backward pass, which will be used on kickoffs and punts. Notre Dame has perfected several running plays in which the backward pass is used and Rockne may elect to use some of them against the Middies. Notre Dame has formations in which a forward pass is thrown after the completion of a backward pass.

Bill Ingram has taught his men a similar style of offense. The Navy running attack should be as powerful as Notre Dame's and the Middies will make many efforts to complete short and long forward passes. Ingram will not overlook straight line plunges of the delayed variety and he always has leaned toward spin plays and other tricky formations.

Notre Dame Rich in Reserves.

Rockne may elect to pursue his old policy of starting what he calls his shock troops, or second string performers. The Notre Dame coach is practically the only teacher of football who has been able to do this successfully. This is due in part to the squad's reserve strength. There is little to choose between Rockne's first and second back fields, and there is not much difference between the lines.

J. Voedisch and Charles Walsh are first string ends and Hurlburt and Benda the reserve wingmen. The regular tackles are Fred Miller and John Polisky with Jerry Ransavage and R. Doarn as their understudies.

Capt. John Smith and George Leppig have been playing the guard positions on the first eleven, with C. Murrin and John Law occupying the same berths with the shock troops. John Frederick is center on the first team and Tim Moynihan the ball passer on the other eleven.

Charley Riley calls signals from the quarter back berth on the first team and Joe Morrissey does likewise on the second eleven. Christy Flanagan and Ray Dahman are the half backs on the first eleven and John Niemiec and John Chevigny on the second. Elmer Wynne has the call over Fred Collins for the full back position.

Ingram Juggles Line.

Coach Ingram has been experimenting with various line combinations since the opening of the season. He even has taken an end, Bagdanovich, and is trying to make a tackle of him. Lloyd, another end, has been shifted

Mystery Shrouds Maroon Drills for Purdue Game

An air of mystery shrouds the Maroons' preparations for their battle with Purdue at Stagg field tomorrow For the fourth straight day Coach A. A. Stagg yesterday took his ends and tackles and regular backs into executive session, herding them off in a corner of the field while the second and third string varsity players scrimmaged against two freshman teams using Purdue and Pennsylvania plays.

The second varsity seemed to have but little trouble in solving the Boilermaker formations as they were presented by the best members of the freshman clan, but Stagg seemed content to let the regulars watch the formations while he secretly gave them pointers on how to stop the Purdue line attack.

Spence Out of Game.

The Maroon tutor can utilize his strongest lineup with one exception in the coming fracas, and he will be fortified with a wealth of substitutes, all familiar with Purdue formations. The only regular who seems likely to be out of tomorrow's battle is Bob Spence, right end, who was kept out of the Indiana game by the aggravation of an old injury in the opening tilt of the season. In Spence's place Stagg will start Priess, who played most of the Indiana game and performed well in stopping the off-tackle shots of Bennett and Reinhardt. Laury Apitz will be Priess' partner at the wing post.

The Chicago coach may make a change at right tackle because of the sterling work of Malcolm Proudfoot during the Hoosier battle. Proudfoot played the tackle position throughout the Maroons' march for their two touchdowns, and this week has been giving Paul Lewis, the regular, a close battle for the position. Ben Greenebaum and Bob Wolf will start at guards, with Capt. Ken Rouse at center.

The makeup of the back field is problematical. The new comer, Red Burgess, is an equal choice for starting full back with Rudy Leyers, the veteran. Burgess has recovered completely from the injury which kept him out of the first two games. Anderson, Mendenhall, Libby, Rayson, and Smith all are likely to see duty at the half back posts, while McDonough and Bluhm may alternate at quarters.

Purdue's 19 to 0 victory over Harvard last Saturday has created a heavy demand for tickets and it is probable a crowd of 55,000 will see the game.

INJURIES JOLT PURDUE

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Purdue tapered off its preparation for the Chicago game by engaging in dummy defensive and offensive scrimmage against the freshmen tonight. Coach Jimmy Phelan had planned a regular scrimmage session, but his reserves have been cut into so deeply by injuries that he changed the evening's program.

It was announced definitely tonight that Tony Leichtle, who played most of the Harvard game at right half back, would not be able to play Saturday. Leichtle wrenched his knee in the Harvard game and has not donned a suit this week. Capt. Wilcox is also out of Saturday's game, so that the burden of the Boilermakers' offensive will again fall upon the broad shoulders of "Pest" Welch.

The squad which will leave here at 8:45 a. m. tomorrow will be composed of: Boots, Cameron, Caraway, Castor, Coleman, Dreyer, Eible, Eickman, Galletch, Greicus, Guthrie, Harmeson, Hill, Hook, Hutton, Koransky, Knop, Leichtle, Mackey, Meyers, Miller, Nelson, Olson, Papp, Prentice, Sindelar, Speidel, Stillwell, Urevig, Wilcox, Wilson, Welch, Woerner, Lange and Stewart.

When Wildcats Need 50 Yard Gain They Call on Gustafson

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Northwestern enthusiasts already are bemoaning the fact that this is the last year of collegiate football for Capt. Vic [Stone-Faced Gus] Gustafson. This may be tough on Northwestern, but think of those ice wagon horses out at Wheaton.

The beasts first gained fame because they pulled around Red Grange. Then they had both Grange and Gustafson coöperating with them. Red got into the heavy bucks and forsook the ice-toting racket, and last summer Vic was a lone skipper. Next year the animals probably will drop to the ignominy of being driven by a professional iceman who doesn't care a whoop about ice carrying as a builder of a high type of manhood. Or it might be just the horses' luck to have the ice business motorized like the fire departments have been.

Helped Build Cinder Track.

In addition to being a high class iceman, Gustafson is a capable cinder path builder. When he decided to drop out of the university last February the authorities called him in.

"Victor," they are reported to have said, "after your freshman year you worked on a concrete gang and got muscle bound, you will recall. As a result you were more or less of a dud in your sophomore year. It would not be fair to the hope of the nation if you were to injure yourself again.

"Now, Victor, Dyche stadium is in crying need of a cinder track. We have looked over several types of manhood, and we have decided you are just the laddy-buck to supervise the laying of the cinder track, inasmuch as you are dropping out of the university until the beginning of the football term, or, as it is sometimes called, the fall semester."

Scored From Kickoff.

Victor got the job. The Dyche stadium cinder track went down as a monument to his industry and ability for leadership.

Vic, who has been ill for several days, will be in the lineup against Ohio State tomorrow, which is great news for Northwestern and sad information for Ohio. Vic, among many other notable accomplishments, ran 85 yards for a touchdown after receiving the opening kickoff in the Maroon slaughter by the Purple last year. He [illegible] bus tomorrow, but he's sure to account for a number of sweet runs.

Gustafson was fourth in the Big Ten's list of point producers last year His total was 55.

PURPLE LEADER

VIC GUSTAFSON.

Chess Masters Draw in Thirteenth Title Game

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 13.—The thirteenth game of the chess championship match between José Capablanca and Alexander Alekhine ended in a draw after the twenty-seventh move. The score now stands: Alekhine [illegible] blanca 2.

HANLEY PLANS FOUR CHANGES IN BATTLE FRONT

Lewis O. K.; Leave with Squad.

DICK HANLEY.

With a promise to several thousan anxious students that they would com back either with their shields or upon them, thirty-five Northwestern university football players, Tiny Lewis among them, slipped out of Evanston last night for their game tomorrow with the strong Ohio State eleven. The team, traveling in two special Pullmans, will arrive in Columbus early this morning.

After a final week of experimenting Coach Dick Hanley has welde a chain of players, each link of whic he believes is amply strong. There wil be four new faces in the eleven tha will line up against the Buckeyes a the opening kickoff.

Luke Johnsos has been promoted t regular right end, Kit Karsten wil claim his old tackle position afte watching the first two games from th stands, Harry Anderson has replace John Hazen at right guard, and Bil Calderwood will start at full back. Th remainder of the lineup will see th customary veterans in their old places Hanley said last night, however, th new back field men, Haas, Berghern and Fox, would break into the game.

Lewis "Feeling Fine."

Lewis, bundled under heavy wraps stepped through a few plays with th squad yesterday afternoon. He officially was discharged from the Evanston hospital at 11:15 a. m. yesterday after a twenty-two hour sojourn ther to alleviate his cold. Although ther are traces of the affliction still visibl he said he felt fine and was "anxious to get going."

The squad went through a genera conditioning drill and looked to be a top speed, their "Let's go!" war cry sounding out with a new snap. Ther was only one casualty reported in th Purple camp. He is Dean Klarr, speedy relief half back, who will b out of the Ohio game because of a shoulder injury.

35 Players Make Trip.

A big pep session, the first of the year, was the school's formal farewell to the warriors. The Northwestern one hundred piece band rehearsed its songs again and there were the customary speeches. The band went through its hardest scrimmage of the season, parading up and down Dyche stadium for three hours to fit itself for the invasion of Columbus.

"If hard work and an earnest desire to win mean anything at all, then the wishes of all of you are near gratification," Coach Dick Hanley promised Northwestern rooters.

The squad of thirty-five players is composed of twelve backs and twenty-three linemen. They follow:

Half backs—Capt. Victor Gustafson, Walter Holmer, Johnny Haas, Charles Bergherm, and Wilton Lewis. Full backs—Leland Lewis, William Calderwood, John Acher, and Rudolph Pensa. Quarter backs—George Levison, Bert Fox, and George Rojan. Ends—Waldo Fisher, Luke Johnsos, George Panosh, Harry Kent, Tom Verdell, and William Kotchevar. Tackles—Rudolph Schuler, Arnold Karsten, Frank Sinkler, Allen Rosis, John Ritchie, Al Schuler, and Osmo Neimi. Guards—Justin Dart, Harry Anderson, John Hazen, Robert Schneider, Arthur Cool, and George Owen. Centers—Keith Wyman, Milton Erickson, William Hellerman, and Walter Prusait.

GRIM IS INJURED

Columbus, O., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Gloom spread over the Buckeye camp on the eve of the Northwestern game when it became apparent that three of the Ohio stars would not be able to start in Saturday's contest.

Grim, quarter back, received an injured shoulder in scrimmage with the freshmen tonight and unless the hurt heals rapidly will be out of the game. Raskowski, after spending the week in the hospital with an infected arm, appeared in uniform for the first time this week, but remained on the side lines and watched practice. Team physicians say he will be unable to play. Cory, regular full back, will be kept out of the fray because of a hip injury received in the Iowa game.

Coach Wilce will probably use Merek at quarter back while Huston, Fouch, Coffee or Griswold will get the call as Eby's running mate at half back. Ohsner will start a full back, and Nessar probably will replace Raskowski.

Following a twenty minute scrimmage today the Buckeyes spent the remainder of the practice perfecting their aerial defense against the freshmen using Northwestern plays.

Berlenbach, Lohman Box 10 Round Draw at Atlanta

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Paul Berlenbach of New York, former light heavyweight champion, fought a slow ten round draw here tonight with Joe Lohman, Toledo, in a bout which was hailed as the first by which he hopes to "come back" to the crown taken from him by Jack Delaney last year. The former title holder plainly showed the effect of a three months' absence from the ring.

Trainer Says Anita Peabody Is Fit to Race

Anita Peabody, the Futurity winner, is not broken down and will be as sound as a dollar for her 3 year old engagements, according to B. S. Michell, who trains the horses belonging to Mrs. John D. Hertz. Michell made a thorough examination of the great daughter of Luke McLuke at Leona farm yesterday and reported that her lameness which developed shortly after the Futurity had entirely disappeared. She could be put into training at once, Michell told his friends at Arlington yesterday afternoon.

John Partridge, owner of Ruane, the $10,000 stake winner, hasn't won many races around Chicago this season, but can't complain that he has been out of luck. He bought Ruane for a reported price of $5,000 and he put his George Groom and Torcher over at long odds at different times during the season.

The other race tracks in the Chicago district were well represented at Arlington's opening. President John Schank and Secretary Charley Nelson were on hand from Hawthorne, General Manager Clifford Trimble from Aurora, General Manager and Mrs. W. Hay from Washington Park, and numerous officials from the Lincoln Fields Jockey club.

Jockey Earl Pool, who came here to ride Chicago in the opening stake, has decided to remain for the remainder of the Arlington Park season. D. Connelly, another Kentucky rider, will stay until the close.

Pool attributed Chicago's defeat to the heavy going and to his weight package of 125 pounds. He believes the Grabner thoroughbred will run away from the same field over a fast track.

MICHIGAN SQUAD OF 34 LEAVES FOR WISCONSIN

Polishes Defense Before Getaway.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Two hundred and fifty students tonight cheered the Michigan football team off to its first conference game of the season at Wisconsin Saturday. Thirty-four players, 13 of them back field men, made the trip. Coach Wieman announced the lineup, but indicated changes might be made.

Oosterbaan and Taylor will start at end, Gabel and Pommering at tackle, Palmeroli and Baer at guard, Bovard at center, Babcock and Gilbert at half back, Rich, full back, and Hoffman, quarter back. However, Coach Wieman may pick Puckelwartz to start at either quarter back or half back and may place Harrigan at a tackle.

The final practice session was devoted to a drill of the defensive tactics that the Wolverines will employ against the Badgers.

AT IOWA.

Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Disgusted with the showing made by his men in practice yesterday, Coach Ingwersen revised the program for the University of Iowa team today and sent it through a strenuous drill. A long punting, blocking and tackling practice with a short signal drill comprised the afternoon's workout.

With Carlson and Skelly on the shelf, the Hawkeye lineup for the Wabash game Saturday will be revised. Carlson is out for at least a week with an infected arm, while Skelly is out for the season.

AT WISCONSIN.

Madison Wis., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—John Parks of Muskogee, Okla., captain of Wisconsin freshmen last year, was at guard on the first team in Von Bremer's place tonight as Coach Glenn Thistlethwaite sent the Badgers through a drill on offense and dummy scrimmage with the frosh. Cuisinier, stocky Chicago lad, played at half back until replaced by Kreske late in the session. Thistlethwaite continued to experiment with his ends, one of the six men used being Pierson, who has shown skill in punting this week. The Michigan squad arrives at noon tomorrow and will have a secret workout. The Badgers also are slated for a closed drill.

AT ILLINOIS.

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Iowa State, a team good enough to hold Nebraska to a touchdown, is likely to upset Illinois Saturday, Coach Zuppke conceded as he sent the Illini through their last hard drill before the invasion of the Ames Cyclones. Scrimmage against the freshmen topped off the workout. Zuppke spent considerable time in kicking work. The young tackles, Gordon and Burdick appeared on the first team.

AT INDIANA.

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Forty-two men made up the University of Minnesota football party, which arrived here by special train this evening. Coach Spears and his aggregation did not tarry long, but went on to Bedford, 25 miles south of here, where they will be quartered tonight and tomorrow night. Coach Spears spiked the report that he will not start Herb Joesting against Indiana. Indiana went through a light drill today and tomorrow will share its gridiron with the Gophers. Indiana's homecoming festivities start tomorrow evening.

LEAGUE RUNS AT A LOSS.

Springfield, Mo., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Forty-five thousand fans paid to see Western association games in Springfield during the last season, an audit of the books revealed today. It was the smallest paid attendance in the history of the game here. All clubs of the circuit lost money during the season just closed.

MITCHELL WINS PRO TOURNEY IN GOLF COMEBACK

TOTTERIDGE, England, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Abe Mitchell, who has been out of active golf competition since last spring when he had an operation for appendicitis, started his comeback in British professional golf by winning the Hertfordshire open championship today.

To score 141, Mitchell turned in a round of 67, making a new competitive course record. He was around in 74 for the first 18 holes.

Mitchell, named to captain the British Ryder cup team, was unable to visit the United States with his fellow British pros as he had not sufficiently recovered from the effects of the operation.

Seize Tunney-Dempsey Films in Sioux Falls

Sioux Falls, S. D., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Deputy United States marshals, acting on instructions from Washington, last night seized films of the Tunney-Dempsey championship fight being shown at two theaters here. The films are held for presentation as evidence before a grand jury. No arrests were made.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

BADGERS VS. WOLVERINES.

UNIVERSITY of Wisconsin partisans have high hopes of victory against Michigan tomorrow when the Wolverines engage the Badgers at Madison. It will be the first Big Ten game for Tad Wieman, who succeeded Yost as Wolverine coach, and the first Big Ten game in his new home for Glenn Thistlethwaite, formerly of Northwestern.

Dope has favored the Ann Arbor contingent despite the loss of Benny Friedman, but observers at the Wisconsin state capital say the Badgers this year number many big, fast men, and of course there is the elusive Capt. Crofoot.

Wisconsin had a smart, fast team last year, which made an excellent showing against any line it could hold. It lost only two games, and those were to the powerful Minnesota and Michigan elevens, whose forwards broke through and smeared the Badger plays before they were under way. Michigan has left its great pair of tackles, and an all-American end in Capt. Oosterbaan. In advance, it looks like a great contest.

Badger sympathizers, however, must hark back to 1899 to recall a victory over the Wolverines. In that year they won, 17 to 5. In the eleven games since, a 7 to 7 tie in 1921 is the best record. Here are the scores since 1896:

	Mich.	Wis.		Mich.	Wis.
1899	5	17	1922	13	6
1902	6	0	1923	6	3
1903	16	0	1924	21	0
1904	28	0	1925	21	0
1905	12	0	1926	37	0
1921	7	7

College Department.

Dear Wake: After 35 years in the football wilderness, it seems Purdue may have hopes now of football deliverance. To Jimmy Phelan we doff our helmets that have borne the brunt of many stiff jolts.

Phelan started the current season with the loss of nine letter men by graduation and two by faulty scholarships. Twelve of the best freshmen numeral men did not return to school. Ramby, who scored the touchdown that beat Chicago last year, was out; Caraway, running mate of Welch, who flashed at Harvard; and, finally, Wilcox, captain and star, went to the sidelines with injuries. Jimmy carried on without a chirp about the 26 men who were lost. He has played the game and deserves to win. Purdue, '15.

Sunday's paper recorded the St. Thomas-Loyola game 0 to 0. The correct score was Loyola, 14; St. Thomas, 0. Give us north siders a break and let Wake readers know that we upset dope as well as Purdue.

DRAKE TO PLAY AT LOS ANGELES ON NOV. 29TH

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Drake university's football team will journey to Los Angeles to display its wares in a post-season game Nov. 29 against the University of California, southern branch. Permission to make the trip was given the grid squad today by the Drake athletic council.

Permission from faculty representatives of the Missouri Valley conference is expected, Edward O. Lytton, Drake's schedule-maker and business manager, said, following favorable action by the local heads.

Mills Pro Eleven Makes Debut Here on Sunday

A new pro football team will make its initial appearance in Chicago next Sunday at Mills stadium, Lake street and Kilpatrick avenue, where the Mills grid eleven will meet the Fox River Valley All-Stars of Aurora. The local eleven is composed of former Notre Dame, Loyola, and Iowa university players. The kickoff will take place at 2:30 p. m.

Yankee Dogs Triumph in Eastern Meet

BY BOB BECKER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Brewster, N. Y., Oct. 13.—What the merry little springer and cocker spaniels can do in the rôles of game finders and game getters was demonstrated here today when the second annual field trial of the English Springer Spaniel club of America opened up with a record breaking entry list of eastern and middle western dogs. There was no doubt about the presence of the springers from the Mississippi valley as in the stake for American or Canadian bred dogs, three out of four places were won by springers belonging to James W. Menhall, president of the Midwest Spaniel club of Edgerton, Wis.

His trio comprising Jane of Avandale, Tiebeau of Avandale and Grace of Avandale, romped their way to victory by classy work in finding, jumping and retrieving pheasants and rabbits.

The estate of Erastus T. Tefft, president of the club holding these trials, is the scene of this sporty contest which is designed to show the working qualities of the spaniel. It is ideal for game and for hunting as there are low swales in which the dogs find an occasional woodcock, fields overgrown with weeds and tall grass in which the crafty, swift legged pheasants lurk, old orchards where the cover is thick for the quail and bushy areas which house the cottontails. With this set-up for the spaniels game was popping out of the cover during every event and each dog had a chance to show his stuff.

Of the four stakes run today the one for American or Canadian bred spaniels brought out the best work. Two dogs drawn by lot were run together, each handler was backed by an official gunner, who plays the part of the hunter and right on the heels of this quartet walked the judges, Edward B. Chase of Radner, Pa., Harry P. Shedd of New York, and Bob Becker. The whole idea of the trial is to approximate actual shooting conditions and this objective was attained today as the spaniels worked close to gun, hunting every piece of likely cover, dropping to flush and shot and then retrieving fur or feather tenderly to hand when ordered by the handler.

Drake Coach Orders Captain from Gridiron

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Because Coach Ossie Solem and Capt. Bill Cook, for two years Drake's first string full back, held different views on the manner in which Cook should play on defense against passes which Solem expects Pittsburgh university to use here Saturday, Solem is without a full back and Cook is a captain without a team.

Cook today was told to get off the field, "and stay off" after two passes had been completed by the freshmen in what Solem declared was Cook's territory.

Lake Forest and Ripon Elevens Clash Today

The undefeated Lake Forest college football team will journey to Fond du Lac, Wis., to play Ripon in the opening contest of the Wisconsin-Illinois college conference today. A special train carrying students, the team and band will take the Lake Forest delegation to the game.

KEARNS READY TO MAKE PEACE WITH DEMPSEY

New York, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Despite the assertion in Salt Lake City today of Jack Dempsey that he "wouldn't consider" proposals for peace with his former manager, Jack Kearns, other developments indicated definite moves are under way to patch up the differences between the pair, looking toward the eventual resumption of Dempsey's management by Kearns.

Kearns, here, authorized the announcement by his associate, Teddy Hayes, that he had agreed to indefinite postponement, in Trenton, N. J., of an action to recover $333,333.33 from Dempsey under the terms of their former contract. According to Hayes, Kearns went to Trenton today with his lawyers to effect this postponement, but Arthur F. Driscoll, of counsel for Dempsey, declared he "knew nothing" of this or of any negotiations to settle the Kearns-Dempsey differences out of court.

According to Hayes, Dempsey wants further time to consider peace proposals. Kearns, Hayes said, plans to leave for the Pacific coast in about ten days to meet Dempsey.

MANDELL SIGNS TO DEFEND TITLE HERE ON NOV. 14

Mullen Will Select His Opponent.

Sammy Mandell, the world's lightweight champion, will defend his title in Chicago on Nov. 14 against an opponent yet to be selected. Promoter James C. Mullen signed the champion yesterday after a long conference with Manager Eddie Kane.

Among the fighters whom Mullen has under consideration as possible opponents for the champion are Louis Kaplan, Jimmy McLarnin, Spug Myers, Stanley Loayza, Billy Petrolle, Hilario Martinez, Billy Wallace and Sid Terris.

Kaplan Fights McLarnin.

One of these contenders will be eliminated on Tuesday night when Kaplan and McLarnin tangle in a ten round bout at the Coliseum. This fight is creating quite a stir among local fans and Jimmy has been made a slight favorite despite the fact the New York ring board recognize Kaplan as the retired featherweight champion.

Although he has been in Chicago only five days, McLarnin has won many admirers. In a sensational workout yesterday he stopped one of his sparring partners.

Kaplan, who has been substituted for Spug Myers, will arrive in Chicago this afternoon. He will be accompanied by Manager Billy Gibson, the pilot of Gene Tunney. Louis is in fine shape, having fought Tommy Cello in New York last week.

Blue to Box Saguero.

Promoter Mullen completed Tuesday night's card by signing Earl Blue of Fargo, N. D., to meet Roleaux Saguero, the Cuban, in the fourth ten rounder. In the other bouts, Archie Bell of Brooklyn will meet Kid Lencho of San Antonio, Tex., and My Sullivan of St. Paul will clash with Howard McLain of Louisville.

Frankie Garcia of California and Babe Ruth of Louisville, principals in the windup of Mique Malloy's show at White City on Monday night, are rounding into top form. Ruth has been boxing with McLarnin in training. Fans regard the Ernie Peters-Henry Cullen semi-windup as one of the best fights on the card. Earl Mastro's fight with Eddie Conners of Grand Rapids, Mich., also should produce plenty of action. Three other bouts complete the card.

N. Dame, Navy Will Decide Battle in Air

to the back field. Ingram has so much end material he is trying to use some of the players at other positions in the hope of hitting upon the strongest possible combination.

Hardin undoubtedly will start at center for the Middies. Pierce will be at right guard and Wilson at left tackle. Woerner probably will be the starting left guard and either Bagdanovich or Chapple the other tackle. Smith will play left end and Ted Sloane, who learned his football at Drake, will start at the other wing position.

Coach Ingram will start a powerful back field. This quartet of backs will be composed of Capt. Hannegan, Lloyd, Bauer, and Clifton. The latter will start the game in place of Ransford on account of his weight and height. Clifton has shown to good advantage on defense, against running and forward pass attacks especially.

Hannegan Smallest Back.

Hannegan is the smallest man of the back field. He weighs 163 pounds and is five feet eight inches tall. The others are six footers, and Coach Ingram is of the opinion their height will be a means of stopping Notre Dame's aerial attack.

If the Notre Dame line from tackle to tackle can outplay the Navy forwards, Rockne's eleven will be a certain winner. If the Notre Dame backs puncture the Middy line, the secondary defense must come up to help. Then Notre Dame will complete forward passes with such regularity as to bewilder its opponent. Notre Dame can play a line smashing game, as all the backs hit the line with plenty of power.

Should Rockne start his shock troops, the Navy will let loose with a barrage of forward passes in the hope of scoring before the regulars are injected.

SKEPTICISM AMAZES DOROTHY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 13.—"I am absolutely disgusted with the unsportsmanlike attitude of the Frenchmen on the other side of the channel calling my swim a fake," declared Dr. Dorothy Logan today, adding that she was amazed at the skeptical reports.

The French declare that empty grease cans, such as swimmers use, which were found on the French coast, indicate that Dr. Logan might have taken a second greasing aboard the pilot boat. She denied this and declares that she did not notify the press about the start because she had no time.

Hartz Again Conscious; Condition Reported Better

Lawrence, Mass., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Harry Hartz, automobile race driver, probably will recover from the serious injuries he received at the Rockingham speedway at Salem, N. H., yesterday when his machine overturned. Hartz, who is in a hospital here with a broken leg and a possible fracture of the skull, recovered consciousness this morning.

Dorsch Named Captain of Lane Tech Football Team

Anthony Dorsch yesterday was elected captain of the Lane Technical High school football team. He replaces Ray Moreschbeacher, whose injuries in the first game of the season were so severe that he will be unable to play again this year. On Sept. 24 Moreschbeacher suffered a concussion and internal injuries while playing against De Paul academy.

PLAYERS FROM 26 SCHOOLS IN BEAR, YANKEE BATTLE

Twenty-six leading universities will be represented when Red Grange and his New York Yankees clash with the Chicago Bears in the latter team's opening home game at Wrigley field Sunday afternoon. The Yankee players hail from seventeen schools, the same as the Bears, but eight are represented on both squads, they being, Indiana, Illinois, Dartmouth, Wisconsin, Alabama, Illinois, Michigan and Iowa.

Interest centers on Grange, although the galaxy of stars on both teams is enough to attract attention of the fans. Grange says he has gathered together the most formidable aggregation since he made his bow in pro circles.

American Giants Win Colored World Series

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—The Chicago American Giants won the colored world series by beating the Atlantic City Bacharachs today, 11 to 4. Timely hitting, including home runs by J. Brown, Russ, and Davis, contributed to the Chicagoans' victory. Score:

after shaving

Men who used to dread shaving, now look forward to it because Listerine leaves the skin so cool and pliable. No more rawness, no more burning.

Just douse it on full strength after shaving. See how refreshed it makes your face feel—as though a cool breeze were blowing upon it. It lessens the danger of infection, too; Listerine is antiseptic.

By the way, have you written for our free book of etiquette? It covers points men are always uncertain about. Address Lambert Pharmacal Company, Dept. K3, 2101 Locust St., St. Louis, Mo.

Camel

The cigarette that earned first place by its goodness

The greatest endorsement ever given to a cigarette is revealed by the fact that Government figures show that more Camels are being smoked today than ever before. An endorsement by the many—not the few.

If all cigarettes were as good as Camel you wouldn't hear anything about special treatments to make cigarettes good for the throat. Nothing takes the place of choice tobaccos.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 13.—The stock market after a morning of indecision fell into the hands of operators for the rise in the early afternoon, and under the impetus of United States Steel and General Motors a considerable number of active issues were bid up.

The close found most of the market leaders ranged alongside plus signs, and while declines were well distributed throughout the list most of them were of fractional size. The market was described as spotty and lacking in volume and left Wall street cold. Efforts to spur the market onward were artificial and did not succeed in stirring up any enthusiasm.

Merchandising Issues Strong.

A noticeable disposition was shown to favor stocks whose earnings promise to benefit substantially from fall trading and Christmas business. Merchandising issues were particularly buoyant, brisk advances taking place in several department store stocks.

That a handful of professional operators are just about in control of the present market is the belief of many in Wall street. It was said the boost given today could be traced back to them. The operators most frequently named as being responsible for quick moves in various stocks are William C. Durant, the Fisher brothers of Detroit, and Arthur Cutten of Chicago. A report that the holdings of the late Elbert H. Gary in United States Steel had been liquidated in part was discredited.

Two Spectacular Advances.

There were two spectacular uprushes today. American Machinery and Foundry closed at 149, showing a net gain of 25 points, while the preferred stock was up 12 points on the day. Abraham & Straus had a net rise of 17½ points, closing at the top. Old stories of mergers, dividends, and various other rumors that have been circulated for several weeks were dragged out to explain the sensational movement of these stocks.

Among other stocks which advanced from two to four points were United States Steel, which rose from a low of 144⅝ to a high of 147⅝, showing a net gain of 3⅜, and General Motors, which closed at 138⅞, within a fraction of its top, for a gain of 2⅝. Freeport Texas touched its high, 94¾, at the close with a gain of 3⅞. Du Pont was up 3⅞ points, and American Smelting showed a net gain of 3⅝.

COTTONSEED OIL.

CAPITALIZATION OF THE TRUST
(Upon Completion of this Financing)

5% Gold Debentures, Series A, due 1947 (this issue)	$5,000,000
Preferred Shares, Series A, 7% Cumulative, $100 par (fully paid in cash)	5,000,000
Common Shares, no par value (issued for cash consideration)	50,000 shs.
Option Warrants for the purchase of Common Shares:
At $26.00 per share up to April 1, 1937	50,000
At $30.00 per share up to April 1, 1937	100,000
At prices and for periods stated above	100,000

The assets of the Trust, which are required by the terms of the Trust Indenture creating the Trust to conform to conservative standards, will, upon the completion of this financing, exceed $10,000,000 in readily marketable securities and cash. This amount will be over 200% of the total funded debt of the Company. The aggregate present market value of the investments is substantially higher than the aggregate cost price shown on the balance sheet.

Provisions of Issue These 5% Gold Debentures, Series A, will be the direct obligations of the Company and will be issued under a Debenture Agreement which will provide, among other things, that:

The Company will not create any additional funded debt, except under the terms of the Debenture Agreement, and will not issue additional funded debt thereunder, unless, upon the issue and sale thereof, the Trust's current resources, after deducting an amount equal to all temporary indebtedness, would amount to at least 200% of the entire funded debt then to be outstanding.

The Company will not mortgage or pledge any of the Trust's assets, except to secure temporary indebtedness, within specified limits, without equally and ratably securing all Debentures issued under the Agreement.

If the Trust's current resources should decline below 125% of the entire outstanding indebtedness, or if the Trust's unpledged current resources should decline below 125% of the entire unsecured indebtedness, including these Debentures, the Company agrees, upon demand of the trustee of the Debenture Agreement, immediately to deliver to the trustee all unpledged current resources of the Trust, and the trustee shall be authorized to sell all or any part of them. In the event of such decline, the Debentures may, and upon request to the trustee by holders of 30% of the outstanding Debentures shall, be declared by the trustee due and payable.

All legal matters in connection with this issue will be passed upon by Messrs. Winthrop, Stimson, Putnam & Roberts of New York and for the Company by Messrs. Dykema, Jones & Wheat of Detroit. The accounts of the Company have been audited by Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Co.

These Debentures are offered when, as and if issued and received by us and subject to approval of proceedings by counsel at 97 and accrued interest, to yield about 5.25%

Delivery will be made in the form of Interim Receipts, exchangeable for Debentures in temporary or permanent form, and Share Option Warrants in permanent form, in the ratio of 10 Warrants to each $1,000 Debenture, when, as and if received by the Trustee.

"I was moving into a smaller flat and had to dispose of some furniture. An ad in The Tribune brought applicants from all parts of the city. My furniture was sold the second day after advertising."
MRS. M. GOS, 6203 South Park Avenue.

Surplus furniture sold quickly through TRIBUNE WANT AD!

IF you have moved into a smaller apartment this fall, you probably have some surplus furniture that can't be crowded in.

Rather than pay moving and storage charges on it, why not follow the example of Mrs. Gos and turn it into extra cash through a Tribune Want Ad? Her ad brought buyers from all over the city and sold everything she had in two days!

You, too, can sell with speed and ease. NOW is the time to cash in on the fall demand! Use a Tribune Want Ad and reach the greatest possible number of Chicago buyers! Phone—

CHICAGO STOCKS SELL UP ON MODERATE ACTIVITY

Active shares were strong in the Chicago stock market yesterday. United Biscuit and Montgomery Ward each climbed 1⅜ to 52¼ and 82¾, respectively. Swift International and Stewart-Warner each closed 1¼ higher. Bendix was the principal exception, being caught without support and selling down 1⅜ to 48.

Sears-Roebuck advanced ⅝ and Yellow Cab was up ⅛. On small sales Public Service of Northern Illinois gained a point and Midland Steel Products declined a point.

Club Aluminum reported sales for September at $654,210, as compared with $379,243 in the same month last year. For three months sales totaled $1,777,560, against $1,043,851.

FINANCIAL NOTES

Today's new bond offerings include $50,000,000 Central Bank for Agriculture [Germany] 6s, priced to yield about 6.32 per cent. An issue of $3,000,000 Union Bag and Paper Power corporation first mortgage five year 6 per cent bonds is to be offered today by a group headed by Halsey, Stuart & Co. at 100 and interest. Hornblower & Weeks and James H. Causey & Co., Inc., will offer $3,500,000 Reliable Stores corporation 6 per cent ten year sinking fund gold notes, priced at 98½ and interest to yield 6.20 per cent.

The Inland Steel company has reduced its prices on black and galvanized steel sheets $2 a ton and on blue annealed $1 a ton, effective immediately.

The American Sugar Refining company has reduced its list price 20 points to 5.90 cents on refined sugar, New York basis.

BANK LOANS AND DEPOSITS EXPAND TO RECORD PEAKS

Autumn expansion in trade and crop moving usually required increased use of bank credits. This year, however, the slowness of trade in seasonal development has required less credit for commercial purposes than usual. On the other hand, this slackness has been offset by the larger demand for credit for speculation.

These conditions are reflected in reports made by the Chicago banks yesterday in response to calls for statements of conditions as of Oct. 10 issued by the controller of the currency and the Illinois state auditor. The combined reports of the national and state banks show that both total loans and deposits have established new high records.

$72,819,000 Expansion in Loans.

Since the last previous statements were issued as of June 30 the loans of all Chicago banks have expanded $72,819,000. Total deposits have increased $74,676,000, and cash resources have risen $14,185,000. On the other hand, savings deposits have declined $10,694,000.

For the national banks, loans and deposits increased $18,550,000 and $13,184,000, respectively, but cash resources declined $2,558,000 and savings deposits fell $506,000. For the state banks, loans increased $54,269,000; deposits, $61,492,000, and cash resources, $16,743,000. But savings deposits declined $10,188,000.

Compared with a year ago, the state banks show increases of $72,918,000 in loans, $83,241,000 in deposits, and $16,226,000 in savings deposits. But cash resources are $3,176,000 lower. The national banks were not required to issue reports a year ago.

Savings Decrease Not Unusual.

A decline in savings deposits is usual at the end of the summer period of active home buying and the vacation season. But evidence of thrift is not lacking, as savings deposits show an increase over a year ago. Otherwise the large expansion in loans and the current decline in savings deposits might cause misgivings that spending of both owned and borrowed money has been too free.

PRODUCE MARKETS

Butter prices were lowered 1c in the early trading with demand less active. Receipts, 5,908 tubs. Fresh eggs in good demand and 1c higher. Receipts, 4,824 cases. Spring chickens ½c and geese 1c higher. Receipts, 5 cars and 1,580 coops.

Demand for potatoes was general, and market showed a firm undertone. Receipts, 132 cars with 395 cars on team track.

BUTTER AND EGG FUTURES

A reduction in butter stocks in cold storage last month failed to have any effect on the market for futures on the Chicago mercantile exchange, on yesterday. Prices declined and closed ¼@⅜c. Stocks Oct. 1 were 147,412,000 lbs, against 128,842,000 lbs for the same time last year. Sales of butter were 244 cars, the largest trade of late. Arrivals were 11,936 tubs.

Egg futures closed unchanged to ⅛c higher, with sales of 121 cars, and arrivals of 9,976 cases. Stocks at leading points Oct. 1 were 73,953,000 cases, against 8,048,000 cases last year. Prices follow:

START WORK ON 13 STORY FLATS IN BITTERSWEET

BY AL CHASE.

Work has started on a thirteen story apartment building at 728-30 Bittersweet place from plans by Edmund J. Meles. The owner is Jacob Goldberg and the cost is placed at $500,000. The Straus Bros. company is financing the project.

The building will have 173 rooms divided up into ninety-nine kitchenette apartments of one and two rooms. According to Mr. Meles the building will be ready for renting by next June. The site is 62x110.

To Build at 79th-Jeffery.

Oliver J. Hart has purchased the northwest corner of 79th and Jeffery from Benjamin M. Dawney, giving as part payment the twelve apartments at 7121 Harvard avenue. According to the Ettlinger Realty company, Mr. Hart will improve his corner with stores, offices, and flats. F. P. Basko represented Mr. Hart.

The six one story stores at the southwest corner of Devon and Wayne avenues have been sold by the Bedacht estate to M. Isaacson for an undisclosed consideration, subject to $35,000. W. E. Ehrenhalt of E. A. Hastings & Co. and D. Feldman were brokers. Epstein & Feiwell were attorneys.

South Wabash Deal.

The Quaker Building corporation bought the twenty-two feet of frontage at 307 South Wabash avenue, just south of the Cable building, from Lucia E. Hill and Helen D. Miller for a reported approximate $200,000. The land has old improvements. It was bought for investment. The property is under lease for seven years. Willoughby & Co. were brokers.

Daniel F. Cleary, James A. Murphy, and Patrick F. Sullivan bought the 305x124 vacant on the south side of Birchwood avenue, 135 feet east of Washtenaw, from the Phillip State Bank and Trust company, and then transferred title to William J. Kearns.

STEEL MARKET.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(AP)—STEEL—Prices unchanged.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

Wheat traders say the heavy sales of bids and offers each day restricts fluctuations, especially the bids, as buying against them on breaks has a sustaining influence, while selling against them on bulges tends to check the upward movement. The trade has to absorb a fair amount of hedges from the northwest every day, and with a light volume of speculative trade there is nothing in the market to attract new interests.

With December corn down to a new low level, it was said the liquidation by tired holders was about completed, and the market oversold to such an extent that a few days of bad weather might easily start a little buying and result in a good advance. Otherwise the trade is disposed to go slower on the selling side on declines from this level.

A Buenos Aires cable to Broomhall says: "The Argentine exportable surplus of wheat on Oct. 1 was estimated at 82,000,000 bu, against 41,000,000 bu last year; flaxseed, 6,240,000 bu, against 15,000,000 bu last year."

New No. 3 white and yellow corn is 2½c bid under December, with No. 4 7c discount, shipment up to Dec. 15.

FARM AND GARDEN

BY FRANK RIDGWAY

There are at least a half dozen vegetables grown in gardens in this section of the country that may be started in the open ground this fall. Scores of home gardeners do not realize that work in the spring can be saved by planting such crops as asparagus, leaf lettuce, chives, rhubarb, spinach, and multiplier onions now.

Practically all of the crops are commonly grown in the average city and farm garden of the middle west. An asparagus bed may be started in the fall by setting out two or three year old roots. Leaf lettuce seed sown late this fall will break through the ground into young plants early in the spring, giving the crop a start on the weeds.

Chives, though not commonly grown, is a fairly valuable perennial onion-like plant, and may be set out this fall and protected during winter. The plants grow in dense tufts, producing leaves about the size of straws that give salads an excellent mild onion flavor.

A half dozen root clumps of rhubarb set along one side the garden this fall will furnish an abundance of pie and sauce material for the average family. Rhubarb needs a rich soil and a protective covering of leaves in winter.

Spinach is one of the most commonly fall planted vegetables. It is hardy and will stand cool weather. Spinach is planted quite as often in the fall as in the spring, and is so brave in cool weather that late planting has been found best to avoid too much early growth. Leaves or straw are used in mulching. The bed must be uncovered in the spring as soon as the frost leaves the ground.

Multiplier onions are hardy perennials that do well when set out in the fall, producing the earliest young onion crop in the spring.

Notice of Redemption of Notes. The Pure Oil Company.

Notice to All Holders of 6½% Gold Notes, Series "A", Dated June 1st, 1923, of The Pure Oil Company.

In accordance with the provisions of Article 5 of the Indenture, between The Pure Oil Company and Central Trust Company of Illinois, as Trustee, dated June 1st, 1923, notice is hereby given that The Pure Oil Company, by due and legal action of its Board of Directors, has called for redemption and payment on December 1st, 1927, all the outstanding 6½% Gold Notes, Series "A", dated June 1st, 1923, and secured by the Indenture of even date between said company and Central Trust Company of Illinois, as Trustee. In accordance with the provisions of said Indenture, the holders of said Notes are entitled to receive accrued interest on the face of the Notes to December 1st, 1927, and in addition thereto 103% of the face of the Notes.

Accordingly, all holders of these Notes are hereby directed to present said Notes on or after December 1st, 1927, at the office of the Central Trust Company of Illinois, 125 West Monroe Street, Chicago, Illinois, or at the office of Chase National Bank in the City and State of New York, and surrender said Notes and receive the redemption price thereof as hereinbefore set forth. In accordance with the terms of said Indenture, said Notes will cease to draw interest after December 1st, 1927, and coupons for interest subsequent to that date will be void. The coupons due December 1st, 1927, should be detached and collected in the usual manner.

By order of the Board of Directors of The Pure Oil Company.

HENRY M. DAWES, President.
RAWLEIGH WARNER, Treasurer.

Special operator necessary to handle answers to this Tribune Want Ad!

JUST because October 1st has passed that does not mean the fall renting season is over! Not for apartment owners who use The Tribune Want Ad Section! So huge is The Tribune's circulation, reaching over 212,000 more families every day in Chicago and suburbs than any other Chicago paper, that some prospects are sure to be attracted at any time of the year!

The experience of Mrs. Dick How, 2728 N. Francisco Avenue, illustrates how easy it is to select a good tenant from the number of prospects attracted by a Tribune Want Ad. She received so many phone calls in answer to her ad that it was necessary to put a special operator on her line! She had no trouble selecting a desirable tenant by noon of the day her Tribune Want Ad appeared!

If you have an apartment to rent, you can find a good tenant just as easily. List your apartment in The Tribune Want Ad Section and be assured of good prospects! Phone—

WALL ST. AGAIN GUESSES WRONG ON BROKER LOANS

BY O. A. MATHER.

The weekly reports made by the federal reserve board on brokers' loans are getting on the nerves of Wall street speculators. These reports, indicating the amount of credit being absorbed in speculation, have become a considerable market influence. But what is more trying to the Wall street coterie is their inability to guess beforehand what the reports will show.

A week ago Wall street guessed that brokers' loans would show either a considerable decline or only a small increase. But the reserve board's report showed an increase of nearly $90,000,000, bringing the total to a new high mark. The stock market, which had been "bulled" on the erroneous forecast, promptly declined.

Guessers Again Wrong.

Again yesterday the market was run up on the expectation that brokers' loans would show a sharp decline from last week, particularly in view of the recent weakness in the stock market. But the reserve board's report, issued last night, showed a decline of only $945,000, with the total now standing at $3,394,290,000. This is $667,236,000 more than a year ago.

Less demand for credit for commercial purposes is indicated in the weekly report of the whole federal reserve system, also made public. In the last week loans have declined $32,236,000, but open market bills purchased increased $12,196,000. Government securities increased $5,256,000. Note circulation expanded $16,780,000. Deposits dropped $21,360,000, due chiefly to member bank reserve credits declining $36,040,000.

Little Change in Situation.

As the result of the week's changes the financial position of the system showed practically no change. Gold reserves increased $5,714,000, but total reserves were up only $1,336,000. The ratio of reserves to liabilities now stands at 75 per cent, compared with 74.9 per cent last week.

At New York loans dropped $53,698,000, but bills bought increased $6,597,000. Deposits declined $67,473,000. Reserves receded $7,578,000, but the reserve rose to 76.9 from 74.2 per cent a week ago. At Chicago loans declined $4,831,000, but bills bought increased $1,984,000. Deposits held about steady. Reserves increased $6,989,000 and the reserve ratio rose to 82.8 from 81.9 per cent last week.

$4 DIVIDEND RATE IS ESTABLISHED ON PULLMAN, INC.

Holders of the new Pullman stock, known as Pullman Inc., will receive annual dividends of $4 a share, which is equal to $10 a share on the old Pullman company stock, according to formal action taken by the directors yesterday. A quarterly disbursement of $1 a share was declared.

Much of the old stock of the Pullman company was exchanged on the basis of two and one-half shares of new for each one of old. A dividend of $1.50 a share on the remaining outstanding old stock was also declared.

As each stockholder who has not exchanged Pullman stock for Pullman Inc. has already received one-half share of Pullman Inc. for each share of Pullman company, on which he will receive 50 cents, the dividend of $1.50 per share equals the $2 per share, or $8 per annum, which the Pullman company has always paid, but is $2 a share yearly less than stockholders who made the exchange will receive.

FOREIGN BUYING HELPS COTTON TO MOVE UP

Cotton made a strong finish at the best prices, after being weak and lower early. Net gains of futures were 37 to 58 points in Chicago, and 36 to 43 points in other markets. Spots were 40 points up in New Orleans to 21.10c, with New York gaining 35 points to 21.25c. Houston was 21.15c, and Galveston 21.20c. Liverpool was 3 to 6 points higher at the close, with spot sales 8,000 bales.

Foreign and southern buying was a factor in strengthening the market. Weather over the eastern belt was rainy. The weekly weather crop report said average temperatures ranged from seasonable in western to rather warm in eastern portion of the belt, with rains mostly moderate to heavy except in the northwestern portion. Harvesting was delayed in sections where there was too much rain. Prices follow:

WALL STREET NOTES

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(AP)—With a few outstanding exceptions, the trend of prices in the curb market today was toward higher ground. The influence of pool operators again was apparent. Bancitaly advanced more than 2 points and closed with a gain of 1¼ on the day. Johns Manville also got up 2 points, but heavy offerings around 122½ forced the price down to 120, Tuesday's close.

Improvement in the nitrate demand attracted attention to Anglo Chilean nitrate, which sold as high as 23, an extreme gain of 3 points. Successful flotation of the new preferred stock of the New Haven was reflected in heavy demand for the listed preferred, which sold at 112 for the first time this year.

International Petroleum, British American Oil, Vacuum and Imperial of Canada were the favorites in the strong oil group, the last named scoring a 3 point advance. Public utilities were rather irregular, and the number of sales was limited.

Some of the chain stores were active and strong, notably W. T. Grant, with a jump of more than 12 points to a new peak at 129. New tops also were reached by United Biscuit "A," International Cigar Machine, Borden company and preferred, and Standard Sanitary Manufacturing.

Several of the Rayon shares were heavy, including American Rayon and some of the Celanese issues. Cuban Tobacco certificates lost 4½ points, and American Arch, Curtiss Aero-Marine, Bunker Hill and Sullivan, and Canadian Industrial Alcohol were down 1 to 2 points or more.

Although the market for listed bonds met the competition of nearly $125,000,000 in new offerings prices continued to hold firm. Foreign obligations followed an irregular trend in the listed trade, Polish 8s moving up sharply, while several Italian and German bonds were easy on profit-taking. Brazilian 6½s lost a point.

Dodge Bros. Earnings Show Decrease in 1927

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 13.—Earnings of Dodge Bros., Inc., automobile makers, this year will fall far below those of 1926. Net income for the three months ended Sept. 30 was $2,628,147, equivalent after preference stock dividends to 47 cents a share on the combined 2,435,024 shares of Class A and B stocks. Net income for the third quarter of 1926 was $5,613,057, or $1.70 a share. Net income for the nine months to Sept. 30 this year was $7,649,118, equivalent to $1.33 a share on the junior stocks, compared with $17,179,783, or $5.56 a share, in the corresponding period in 1926.

Dwindling hog receipts and the immense drop in stocks of pork on hand at leading points in the country during the last few weeks, continue to stand as the governing factors in the trade, forcing yesterday's general average price up 30c at $11.35, highest since middle of last March. The market as a whole stands $2.80 above the low day in July, when prices averaged $8.55.

Advances of 10@40c were cited during the day, the smaller proportion of packing grades scoring the most gain, with underweights weakening slightly at the finish. Both receipts and average weight of hogs promise to stand smallest of the year this week. Larger packers continued to bear down with little success, the Armour and Swift houses buying a total of only 500 head yesterday. About 9,000 were left, including few medium and weighty hogs, with only 9,000 estimated for today, against 10,851 the previous Friday and 17,421 a year ago.

With cattle receipts this week smallest since early in August, a big share of last week's sharp losses were recovered on recent sessions. Prime 1,304 lb steers advanced to $16.80, highest of the week and within 10c of the high mark of the year, established last week. Outside buyers this week have taken 33 per cent of arrivals, against 25 per cent last week. Handy weight steers averaging 1,155 lbs reached $16.65, and 1,032 lb yearlings $16.35. Yearlings averaging 964 lbs stopped at $16.00. Further advances in calves carried selected vealers to $16.00. Stockers and feeders held steady.

Mexican Seaboard Oil.

E. P. T., Peoria, Ill.—The income account of Mexican Seaboard Oil company and its subsidiary, International Petroleum company, shows a deficit of $2,134,642 for 1926, against net income of $109,601 before depletion for 1925.

The 1925 earnings were equivalent to 11 cents a share.

Current assets were $764,354 and current liabilities $1,267,760 at the end of 1926.

This left a debit of $503,406 in place of net working capital, as compared with net working capital of $1,371,868 at the end of 1925.

For the first six months of 1927 the company's consolidated earnings statement showed a net loss of $1,277,535 before depletion, against net loss of $232,480 before depletion for the first half of 1926.

Mexican oil production for the first six months of 1927 was 2,145,792 barrels, compared with 4,031,194 barrels in that period of 1926.

No dividends have been paid since 1924. The stock is a speculation at present.

NATIONAL BISCUIT ADDS DOLLAR TO ANNUAL DIVIDEND

Directors of the National Biscuit company yesterday increased its annual dividend rate from $5 to $6 a share with the declaration of $1.50 quarterly and declared an extra disbursement of $1 a share in addition. Prophylactic Brush company directors declared an extra payment of $1 a share. The new common stock of the National Candy company, recently split four for one, was placed on a $1.75 annual basis with the declaration of 43¾ cents quarterly.

The executive committee of the National American company recommended to directors that the new stock deliverable on and after next Monday in exchange for old shares on the basis of four shares for one be placed on a quarterly dividend basis of 40 cents. This is equal to $6.40 annually on the old stock, which paid $4.

Stockholders of the Financial and Industrial Securities corporation have approved the increase in authorized common stock to 2,000,000 shares from 1,500,000. This action makes available the shares necessary to pay the stock dividend of 5 per cent on the common stock.

Anglo-Persian Oil company declared a final dividend of 7½ per cent less tax on the ordinary shares, making 12½ per cent for the year. Gramaphone company, Limited, in which the Victor Talking Machine company is interested, declared a final dividend of 32½ per cent less tax, making 40 per cent for the year less tax, compared with 20 per cent last year.

CORN AGAIN SAGS TO LOW ON CROP; WHEAT PICKS UP

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Wheat prices were lower in the early trading on scattered selling, but short covering absorbed the surplus in the pit, and brought about a rally of 1⅛@1⅛c from the low, and the finish was at net gains of ⅛@⅜c. December closed at $1.30⅜@1.30⅜, and March at $1.33⅜.

All deliveries of corn sold at a new low on the crop, with December touching 88⅝c, or 31⅝c under the recent high, with the finish within a fraction of the bottom at net losses of 1⅛@1⅜c. December was 89½c and March 91⅞@92c. Oats were ⅛@⅛c lower, and rye ⅛c lower to ⅛c higher.

Trade in wheat remains largely of a local character, and the market is easily influenced. There was some selling by cash houses early, but the December met with good support at $1.30 and under, the same as it has for three weeks, and the local bears were not disposed to press the selling side on the decline.

Foreigners After Wheat.

Foreigners showed more disposition to buy cash wheat, with sales in all positions finally estimated at close to 1,000,000 bu over the holidays, about half of which was domestic springs. Liverpool was ⅛@⅜d lower compared with Tuesday, and is due ⅜@⅜d higher, based on action of the Chicago market during the day.

Broomhall's Australian agent cabled that rains had been insufficient and that it would be necessary to lower estimates on the new crop, which he recently placed at 104,000,000 bu. A department of commerce cable reported weather in Europe during the last week as more favorable, but deliveries of native wheat in Europe were of poor quality. Argentina exportable surplus is officially estimated at 32,000,000 bu, against 41,000,000 bu last year.

Liquidation in Corn.

Liquidation was on in corn, and while there was good commission house buying around 90c for December early, the orders were finally filled, with persistent scattered liquidation a factor. Buying against bids and the strength in wheat were factors in checking the break. An official Illinois report suggested that 65 per cent of the crop would be safe from frost by Oct. 15, although on Oct. 1 there was 24 per cent still in the milk and 8 per cent below milk stage. Light frost was predicted for a good part of the belt, with some damage claimed to kaffir corn and sorghum in the Texas Panhandle from frost Wednesday night. Eastern shipping demand was again slow.

Oats held within a range of ⅜@⅜c, with the action of corn the main depressing influence. Some selling was credited to cereal interests. Rye was under pressure, with spreaders selling here against purchases in outside markets, and this offset the effect of the strength in wheat. Nothing was heard regarding export business.

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

Export demand for cash wheat at the seaboard over the holidays was fairly good with sales in all positions finally estimated around 1,000,000 bu, of which probably 500,000 bu were domestic springs. Some Manitobas were sold abroad at a low price by a speculator.

Union Bag & Paper Power Corporation

First Mortgage 6% Five Year Gold Bonds

Due September 1, 1932

Price 100 and interest

Dated September 1, 1927. Interest payable March 1 and September 1 without deduction for any Federal normal income tax not in excess of 2% per annum, at the office of Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc., in New York or Chicago or at the office of the trustee in New York. Coupon bonds in denominations of $1,000 and $500, registrable as to principal only. Upon proper application the Company will refund the following taxes: the Pennsylvania and Connecticut personal property tax not in excess of 4 mills per annum, the Maryland securities tax of 4½ mills per annum, the present California personal property tax, and the Massachusetts income tax to the extent of 6% per annum on interest.

A letter from Mr. C. R. McMillen, President of the Company, is summarized as follows:

Business: Union Bag & Paper Power Corporation, a wholly owned subsidiary of the Union Bag & Paper Corporation and hereinafter referred to as the Company, owns valuable hydro-electric and steam electric power plants, water rights and power sites on the Hudson River at Hudson Falls, New York. The Union Bag & Paper Corporation has contracted to purchase a minimum of 95 per cent. of the entire output of these power plants for a period extending five years beyond the maturity of these bonds. In addition, the Company is acquiring tide-water harbor frontage in the City of Tacoma, Washington, upon which it will erect at an estimated total cost of approximately $2,200,000, a thoroughly modern Kraft pulp mill with a daily rated capacity of 120 tons of sulphate pulp. The entire future production of this mill has been contracted for by the Union Bag & Paper Corporation, the contract extending five years beyond the maturity of these bonds.

Security: These Bonds will be secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a direct first mortgage (closed issue) upon all of the company's real estate, including all of its plants and water rights used or useful in connection with the manufacture and supply of electricity situated in the Counties of Washington, Saratoga and Warren in New York State (subject only to a mortgage on a small part of the property securing $70,000 principal amount of bonds, satisfactory provision for the payment of which has been made); also the real estate being acquired in Pierce County, Washington, and the pulp mill to be constructed thereon and the necessary and appurtenant buildings and facilities and a lien on after acquired property. The completion of the new pulp mill and the installation of equipment therein will be guaranteed by the Union Bag & Paper Corporation and an adequate working capital is assured from the proceeds of these bonds.

The bonds will be additionally secured by the endorsement thereon of the unconditional guarantee of principal and interest by the Union Bag & Paper Corporation and by deposit and pledge with the trustee of the contract for the sale at satisfactory prices of the entire output of the pulp mill and substantially the entire output of the electric generating plants.

Earnings: Based on the contract with Union Bag & Paper Corporation for the sale of both electric power and pulp, it is estimated that upon completion of the pulp mill, the net annual income of the Company, before depreciation, will be approximately $725,000, as compared with maximum annual interest requirements of $180,000 on these bonds. Of this net income, over $360,000, or over twice the maximum annual interest requirements on these bonds, will be derived from the sale of electric power.

A complete description of these Bonds will be sent upon request

Reliable Stores Corporation

Ten Year 6% Sinking Fund Gold Notes

Dated October 1, 1927 Due October 1, 1937

Authorized $3,500,000. To be issued $3,500,000. Callable in whole or in part on any interest date upon thirty days' notice at 103 during the first year, thereafter the premium decreasing ½ of 1% each year. Coupon Notes in denomination of $1,000. Registerable as to principal. Principal and interest payable at the Chatham Phenix National Bank and Trust Company, New York, Trustee. Interest payable April 1 and October 1 without deduction for normal Federal income tax up to 2%. Massachusetts 6% income tax, Pennsylvania and Connecticut 4 mills, Maryland 4½ mills and District of Columbia 5 mills personal property tax refundable to resident holders upon appropriate request.

Each Note carries a stock purchase warrant entitling the holder to purchase 5 shares of common stock of the corporation at $10 per share from January 1, to July 1, 1928 and during the next four succeeding years up to July 1, 1932 at $11.50, $14, $16 and $18 per share, respectively.

We summarize from the letter of Mr. Aaron Straus, President of the Corporation, as follows:

History and Business

The business of Reliable Stores Corporation has been built up to its present size from one store started in Baltimore in 1892. The General Stores Corporation, which is now being acquired, operates another group of similar stores. Upon completion of this financing, Reliable Stores Corporation will operate a chain of eighteen retail furniture stores located in fourteen cities.

Security

These Notes are a direct obligation of the Corporation and constitute its sole funded debt. So long as any of these Notes are outstanding, no mortgage or other funded debt senior to or on a parity with this issue shall be created, nor shall any indebtedness, extending more than one year from date of borrowing, be incurred except purchase money obligations on hereafter acquired property. No cash dividends shall be paid on the Class A preferred or common stock that will reduce current assets to less than 200% of the sum of all current liabilities and principal amount of these Notes, and the Corporation agrees at all times to maintain current assets of at least 150% of the sum of all current liabilities and these Notes.

Earnings

Sales and earnings of Reliable Stores Corporation and its predecessor companies for the four years ended December 31, 1926, combined with the sales and earnings of The General Stores Corporation for the two years and nine and one-half months ended December 31, 1926, as audited by Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Co., have been as follows:

	1926	1925	1924	1923
Net Sales	$10,298,191	$9,123,434	$8,107,184	$5,625,059
Earnings, applicable to interest and Federal income taxes	1,151,604	892,394	814,073	780,096

The above earnings after deducting the interest paid on current indebtedness, less allowance for the saving of interest on $1,500,000 floating debt of The General Stores Corporation to be retired by this financing, averaged for the past four years over 4 times the $210,000 maximum annual interest requirement of this issue, and for the year ended December 31, 1926, were over 5.2 times such interest requirement.

For the six months ended June 30, 1927, sales showed an increase of over 8% compared with a year ago and earnings available for interest as shown by the companies' books without audit increased over 15%.

Sinking Fund

Sinking fund will provide for retirement of 60% of these Notes prior to maturity.

Assets

Consolidated Balance Sheet as of December 31, 1926 as audited by Price, Waterhouse & Co. and adjusted to this financing showed current assets six times current liabilities and net current assets of $2,567 per $1,000 Note. Consolidated Balance Sheet of June 30, 1927 taken from the Corporation's books without audit and similarly adjusted shows net current assets of $2,648 per $1,000 Note. In both balance sheets current assets are more than 200% of the sum of all current liabilities and these Notes.

These Notes are offered for delivery when, as and if issued and received by us and subject to approval of counsel.

The Portrait Invisible

BY JOSEPH GOLLOMB

SYNOPSIS.

Corcoran, owner of a New York gambling house, and two crooks, Slim and Butch, threaten a frequent visitor, known as The Goldfiesh. They accuse him of being a stool pigeon, because he is often in the court room of Judge Robert Craigin, who is severe with criminals. The Goldfish denies the charges, turns the tables by revealing he 'has the goods' on them, and dismisses them with an ultimatum they are to be always at his command.

On the following Monday Judge Craigin does not appear for the opening of a famous trial. His younger brother, Bruce, known as the prodigy judge, bitterly resents a detective's suggestion that there may be a woman in the case, even when it is hinted she may be revenging a husband or brother for a harsh sentence, since the elder Craigin has never tempered justice with mercy.

Francis Galt, whom Bruce knew in college as The Goldfish, a student of psycho-analysis, with a strange power over men and tricks of mind reading, begins work on the case. Police find the murdered body of Robert Craigin in a suburban cottage, the tenant of which is said to be a young woman named Kate Randall. The Goldfish announces he is going to live in the house in order to study the character of the suspected, missing woman, by observing her books and other details of her home. Bruce urges that the investigation be pushed, even though he has begun to fear it will involve his brother in scandal. He offers a reward of $20,000 for the arrest and conviction of the murderer.

Jane Simmons, Bruce's faithful secretary, is poisoned in a restaurant by a young woman who assists her back to the judge's office and volunteers to substitute for her. She calls herself Miss Allen.

INSTALLMENT XVIII.

COMMUNION OF SILENCE.

Bruce had not known the mood of ease for some weeks now, to say nothing of laughter. It must have been something irresistible in humor, to pierce the heaviness of his life since Robert's death. Now he remembered what it was; the grotesque logic or psychology of the Goldfish in attempting to, so to say, psychoanalyze over the telephone the one slip in transcription Miss Allen had made. There was something so absurd in attaching significance to such a wisp of mind-wandering that now Bruce felt amused at it.

He leaned back in his chair and clasped his hands behind his head with a sigh of relaxation. His very muscles had forgotten the taste of ease. And now for some reason that sense had come back to him in a measure. He drew a deep breath for the sheer novelty and comfort of it.

And yet, what was there to give him again the feel of life as something tolerable? The situation in the hunt for the slayer of his brother had in no way improved. The police, with Hooker in charge of the case, seemed still to be running about in circles, as it were. Whether the Goldfish was making any progress or not, Bruce scarcely knew. Meanwhile, in the speculations on the case in the newspapers, in the minds of the police and in the minds of an only too interested public, there was a taint of miasma, a suspicion of something hidden and corrupting hovering about Robert's death and life.

The sense of that something unclean lurking as yet only in suspicions, but nevertheless palpably besmirching the memory of his brother, was enough to bring back a shudder of repugnance, of horror. Again Bruce felt the intense hostility to every one who thought, like Hooker, that there was a secret woman in Robert's life, with all that this implied.

"I hate to say just thank you," she said hurriedly

Bruce told himself that there was but one way for healthy organisms and individuals to treat such suspicions of taint. Corrosives, drastic treatment, surgery! No halfway measures; no sentimentality; the hunt must proceed no matter where it led!

But Bruce tightened himself against the return of a mood which had become now so familiar, the sense of life as a burden, the invasion of nightmare phantoms which daylight did not banish.

He glanced at his watch. Five o'clock! What was he thinking of to keep Miss Allen so late! Even Jane usually left earlier. The thought of Miss Allen's white face accused him. He rose and went to her door.

She had been intently listening to whatever she might hear coming from his room. The scrape of his chair as he got up and his steps brought her instantly to her feet. She did not need to feign fatigue; she looked the part.

But just before he opened the door she put her hand up, the back of it pressed against her forehead in an attitude of utter exhaustion and the daze that comes with it.

This was the picture he caught the instant he opened the door; for at the sound of it she quickly put her hand down again.

He colored with an actual sense of guilt.

"I seem to have a genius for working my people to death," he said contritely. "Look here, Miss Allen, do let me drive you home. Otherwise you will be caught in the home going jam."

Her lips parted as to say no. But her eyes did not support the rôle; or, at least, she made it appear so. With flawless art she looked the picture of one in whom inclination was struggling with conviction.

"O, I can't think of burdening you—" "May I?"

He took her coat from its peg and helped her into it.

Accepting the courtesy made it easier for her to give up further protest against "burdening." Bruce went back for his overcoat and hat and found her waiting for him in the corridor by the elevator cage.

They descended in the thick of a crowd which made it easy to dispense with conventional talk. Bruce's car was waiting, as usual, at the curb. He opened the door to the driver's seat and, with a smile, invited her to a place by his side.

She got in with the ease of one accustomed to taking her place in the front of a car, and Bruce saw her give the machine the swift appraising look of an expert.

As they drove off Bruce asked lightly, "You know cars?"

"One or two."

The brevity of her answer told him that she was still in a mood of reticence. Was it only the newness of their meeting? Or would she never relax to the mood of chatting?

"Where do you live, Miss Allen?" he asked.

"O! Ah—if you will be so good as to take me down to the Brooklyn bridge—I like the walk across."

He felt a little dashed; there was something of a rebuff in this, but he blamed himself for it, if any blame there was; and he was in the mood to resist anything but an attempt at ease.

As he guided his machine slowly through the maze of late afternoon traffic, Bruce again caught the breath of a peace which had so surprised him a little while earlier.

Occasionally between some people there is a communion more expressive even than speech, that of silence. To be in the presence of another and feel free to roam away in thought is possible only when one has a sense of being at home or at peace. And Bruce felt so grateful for the brief reprieve which had so unexpectedly come to him, that he no longer tried to find out how he had come by it.

He glanced at Miss Allen's face in profile to him. There was a tinge of color now in her cheeks, and he was surprised at the change this slight difference effected. It did not dispel that look of hers, of one hard beset by life; but it did suggest a vitality that would rebound the instant pressure let up. And he felt glad to be the means of bringing that touch of color to her cheeks.

At the approach to Brooklyn bridge he asked, "Are you sure you won't let me drive you home?"

She put her hand quickly on the door and opened it.

"Judge Craigin, you are very kind. Will you understand it if—if I just walk home from here?"

"Of course!" But he did not understand it.

"I hate to say just thank you," she said hurriedly, a little awkwardly. "But—thank you just the same! And shall I come tomorrow morning?"

He smiled. "I shall be looking forward to it."

He remained for some moments with his hat off, watching her as she disappeared and once or twice reappeared in the press of bridge pedestrians.

Then he turned the nose of his car uptown and drove off, for once leisurely, patient with traffic, as relaxed as any of the throng of working men released from the burden of the day's life.

In mid-Atlantic a young storm tore loose from its parent hurricane and, tearing over Long Island sound into Westchester county, acquired as it went moods and tenses of its own.

On the sound the water caught its madness; on land the houses thrilled to the fury; and trees already stripped by autumn groaned beneath the torrent as the young maniac rent them limb from limb. In the upper air heavily charged clouds butted and ground on each other with thunder ranging from a snarling of musketry fire to outbursts of major artillery; between salvos the hurricane raved and shrieked. Then in gusts of hysteria it burst into a downpour, sluicing sheets of it whipped about from one point of the compass to another like a curtain out of the window.

Over it all, lightning played a vicious obbligato; black night was rent now by writhing fire, again with a glare of twitching daylight that seemed determined to stay on. Only the heaviness of the falling torrents tempered the intense light which otherwise might have seared the sight.

On Wood road every cottage slept in closely curtained darkness, with only one glimmer showing anywhere. It was in the Dutch windows of the last cottage before the wood that a blur of light filtered through yellow shades.

Aldermen Turn Down Hospital Tag Day Plea

Firm Against Request of Society Women.

Turning down a request by Mrs. Kellog Fairbank for a tag day in behalf of the new Lying-In hospital, the city council's finance committee stood as a unit yesterday behind its recent decision to allow four tag days a year and no more.

Despite repeated notices that the rule could not be broken, a group of society women headed by Mrs. Fairbank insisted that an exception be made in their case. A drive to raise funds for the hospital, to be erected on the University of Chicago campus, is scheduled to open Sunday.

"Let down the bar for one and it's down for all," Chairman John S. Clark [30th] told the committee. "This is a worthy charity without doubt, but I'm against special privileges for any one. If the Gold Coast ladies can sell tags, then we must allow the same right to clubs, churches, and aid societies all over the city."

After the roll call, unanimously against the request, Mrs. Fairbank asked that the tag sales be permitted in the first ward [the loop district] only, but the committee refused to reconsider.

Ald. E. I. Frankhauser [48], who led the anti-tag day fight in the council, said he could see no reason why clerks, stenographers, and other office workers in the loop should be called upon to contribute against their will to a charity in which 90 per cent are not interested, despite its merits.

"I say 'against their will'," he explained, "because tag selling is nothing but a species of highway holdup. The salesladies confront you at every corner and if you aren't wearing a tag you are so embarrassed you would rather sacrifice a dime or a quarter than to keep dodging them all day."

Under the present city ordinance, which was unenforced until two months ago, the four legitimate tag days are those for the Aged and Adult charities, Children's Benefit league, Federated charities, and patriotic organizations. Ald. Clark is working on a plan to merge the Federated group with the others, cutting the number down to three.

Scores of organizations have appealed to him for special tag days recently, Ald. Clark said, but none has been so insistent as the Lying-In hospital committee.

Baptists Formally Launch Their Drive for $500,000 Fund

Baptists began last evening at a banquet at the Hotel La Salle their intensive campaign for $500,000 which is scheduled to terminate Oct. 25 in a victory banquet at the same hotel.

"The success of this campaign is not only important to Chicago but to every city, large and small, in the nation," said Dr. George W. Truett of Dallas, Tex., who made the chief address. "A similar campaign is now going on in Cleveland, O. Examples are more influential than a thousand arguments and if these campaigns win there will be a movement that will extend across the continent."

"It is to be understood," said Dr. Benjamin Otto, superintendent of the Baptist executive council, "that we have the approval in our campaign of the comity commission of the other 16 denominations in the Chicago Church federation. Chicago is adding a city of 80,000 to its population annually and we are not only helping one city but many if we succeed."

It was explained that the $500,000 is to be held intact and added to in the future. Only the interest is to be used for maintenance and pastoral care, but the principal is to be the basis of credit for loans.

Catholics Show Increase in Giving to Missions

Evidence of increased giving to missions was announced yesterday at the meeting of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith at the Stevens hotel in an address by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. William Quinn, national president.

"In 1924 there was contributed from this country $680,000," said Msgr. Quinn. "In 1926 the amount was $832,906 and last year, 1927, the total was $1,019,347. While this increase is gratifying, it must be set in contrast with the $70,000,000 contributed by worldwide Protestant organizations, two-thirds of which came from the United States."

The delegates will go to Mundelein today, where mass will be celebrated at St. Mary of the Lake church at the seminary.

Medinah Country Club to Have Style Pageant

Medinah Country club is to have a fashion promenade tomorrow night staged by the Fashion Art League of America under the direction of Mrs. Anne C. Swinson. "Around the Clock with the Medinah Country Club Girl" will show authentic modes for every hour in the day. The exhibit will be interspersed with a dance and musical program. The Fashion Art league shows only the work of American designers and is sponsored by Chicago club and society women.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "The Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question Jack O'Connell, 1 East Erie street, was awarded $5.

The Question.

Do you approve of abolishing all automobile parking in the loop for thirty days, as a test?

The Answers.

Allen McQuhae, New York City, tenor singer.—In either New York City or Chicago that rule would be bad for business. People couldn't ride down to the loop and spend their money. We must not forget the women who ride downtown and spend the men's money. If we haven't any money we haven't any shops, and if we have no shops we have no city.

Mrs. George Gollos, 11 South Parkside avenue, housewife.—No. It would make it difficult and at times mighty inconvenient. That would be bad enough on the men, but how about the women, especially on rainy days? How about going to the theater or dinner parties in the evening? What kind of a city would it be, anyhow?

Ghery Houldren, 1644 North Mango avenue, salesman.—They might give it a trial. It is certainly a congested downtown section with cars parked almost everywhere. On the other hand, parking outside the loop presents difficulties. It would be necessary to make adequate provision for that.

Miss Elsie Haak, 3921 North Hoyne avenue, home girl.—We do not use our car downtown much, because there is so much traffic to contend with. To do away with parking altogether, well, that wouldn't be so nice, either. In some eastern cities they do not allaw parking in the downtown district, and it might work here.

Paul Meyn, 1921 North Kedzie avenue, student.—They might try it for thirty days, but I rather think it wouldn't prove a success. There would be too much inconvenience, and too much congestion outside the loop. One thing it would tend to eliminate unnecessary driving.

Society Goes to Races for Pet Charity

Fashionables Shiver, Bet, Dance, and Drink Tea.

BY MILDRED JAKLON.

The opening of the Arlington race track yesterday afternoon, with the proceeds of its box sale and half of the gate receipts going to society's favorite charity, the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society, was one of the most strenuous benefit affairs ever attended by the city's smart folk.

Gay but rather hectic luncheon parties in the incomplete clubhouse dining room, the excitement of betting and watching the races, keeping fur coats and blankets in place against the piercing winds, snatching hurried cups of coffee at the hot dog stand, consulting scratch sheets, cashing bets and getting streaks of red paint from the still wet railings at the paying windows, dragging stiffly cold feet to the tea room for the charity tea dance that followed the afternoon's offerings—these were all incidents of the affair, which will net the I. C. H. A. S. some few tens of thousands of dollars, when the reckonings are complete.

A crew of young matrons under the leadership of Mrs. Shreve Badger was patrolling the stands, sporting the latest in fashions, and carrying pennants bearing the names of the respective modistes who "paid to advertise." These included Mrs. John V. Farwell III., Mrs. Clarence B. Mitchell, Mrs. Walter P. Paepcke, Mrs. Laurence O. Wilson, Mrs. Samuel J. Walker, Mrs. C. Edson Manierre, Mrs. Keith Carpenter, Mrs. William C. Hubbard, and Mrs. Julius T. Benedict.

Pretty cigaret and flower girls who took their toll for sweet charity's sake, included Miss Barbara Neff, Miss Edwina Litsinger, Miss Frances Richardson, Miss Bluford Richardson, Miss Katherine Thorne, Miss Florence Noyes, Miss Betty Scriven, Miss Betty Galt, Miss Louise Brewer, Miss Katherine and Miss Elizabeth Drake, and Miss Ruth Elting.

Mrs. Waller Borden, who has been directing the efforts of the woman's board of the society to pry the greatest amount of money possible from the public for the orphans, was busy being hostess at a luncheon party, and keeping her eye on all the various products under way. Mrs. Edward R. Litsinger took charge of the tea dance which had to take place in a regular dining room instead of the fancy Egyptian ballroom with its gawdy tents and sky blue ceiling, because the gas and water were not yet running.

Prince William of Sweden, who was to have graced the box for which Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick bid $1,000, was not present, and neither was Mrs. McCormick. Mrs. Borden's luncheon guests were Nicholas Longworth, speaker of the house of representatives; Capt. Rolf von Heidenstan of the Royal Swedish navy; Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus McCormick Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey J. Blair, John R. Winterbotham, Mrs. Harry Wanner, Mrs. Jay Morse Ely, Miss Ellen Borden, who was beaued by Herbert McLaughlin, Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Johnson, and George Voevodsky.

Louise Le Moyne Gives Promise as a Mezzo

Louise Le Moyne, mezzo-soprano, accomplished a recital debut at Fine Arts Recital hall last night and thereby indicated that her chances for the future are good. She would seem to possess both voice and musicianship. The voice is not large: there were times in the beginning of her program when it appeared as though musicianly desire would be likely to outrun vocal fulfillment. In turn that fact appeared to be the nervousness that affects many young singers and a number of old ones, and Miss Le Moyne delivered a brilliantly showy performance of a difficult aria from Meyerbeer's "Le Prophête," and followed it with a group of uncommonly nice French songs, which she sang gayly and with a first class tone.

THEATER

ALEXANDER DEAN, a zealous but sane proponent of the little-theater idea, has resigned as director for the North-Shore Theater Guild, that he may join the faculty of Yale's department of drama, and also serve as George Pierce Baker's assistant in directing the Yale University Theater. I assume this means that Mr. Dean has withdrawn from Northwestern U, also: he has been in charge of the School of Speech there. . . . And this is as good a place as any place and as good a time as any time to say something I've all along meant to say about Mr. Dean's book named "Little-Theater Organization and Management"; and that something is that the vast and growing number of persons more or less interested in little-theater activities would immensely profit by reading what Mr. Dean has put down there. Appleton publishes it, in case your book-seller doesn't know.

Something called "River-Brook Isles" is bulletined for performance tomorrow night in the Eighth-Street Theater. Such information as has seeped through to me concerning it is that it is by Delos Owen, credited with the music heard last season in the mess named "Sweet Lady," and that Miss Marjorie Dodd is to have the principal rôle.

Word from the Blackstone is that "Hoosiers Abroad" is a-leapin' at the box-office, and that it will be continued there beyond the 29th—meaning, it would seem, that "The Constant Nymph," long since bulletined for the 31st, will not be brought in then.

Lynne Overman, having gone into something else when he went out of "The Matrimonial Bed," is now out of that something else, and is gone into "People Don't Do Such Things!" Meanwhile, "Yes! Yes, Yvette!" wherein my Chicago confrères in play-reporting held him to be simply wonderful, is a Manhattan enticement with an unknown "juvenile" in the rôle for performing which Mr. Overman drew $1,700 a week.

And Donald Brian, who was Mr. Overman's successor while "Yes! Yes, Yvette!" was still vainly trying to make the grade as what some of the reviewers here called "another 'No! No, Nanette!'" is to be with Miss Edna Leedom in a song-and-dance piece now named "Aint Love Grand!"; —and, by-the-way, there's a ham title for you! . . . Miss Leedom is a hard-finished blonde who sang and said and did raw and rutilant things here in two issues of the Ziegfeld Follies.

What is called the touring company of the New-York Theater Guild opened down-east last night with George Gaul and Miss Florence Eldridge as the factors equivalent to Mr. and Mrs. Lunt in the company now in the Studebaker, and with "The Guardsman," "The Silver Cord," "Arms and the Man," and "Mr. Pim Passes By" as the répertoire. . . . My impression is that the Guild, which isn't fond of giving its receipts to railroads in exchange for transportation, takes no risk in this venture, and that the little company has been booked only in places where a profit is locally guaranteed.

"The Desert-Song" will be taken from the New-York stage the 29th: it was first heard there November 30 of last year. . . . Meanwhile, it is, in point of receipts, the most successful show now in Chicago.

William Courtleigh and Joe Laurie are to be the played-up performers in "Weather Clear—Track Fast," something new by Willard Mack, who hasn't clicked full since "The Dove," although he did fairly well with "The Noose."

Nation of Blind Held Possible Fate of U. S.

Toll of Carelessness on Eyes Is Shown.

With 100,000 blind in the United States and an army of 3,000,000 having seriously defective eyesight, leading opthalmologists met with safety engineers and health authorities yesterday at the Stevens hotel. They planned a campaign to check the increase of faulty eyesight among Americans.

The American people of the future might become known as a sightless race, unless drastic measures are taken to combat the causes of blindness, speakers said. The convention was under the auspices of the National Committee for the Prevention of Blindness and there were delegates from the following groups: the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness, National Safety Council, Illuminating Engineering Society of America, Illinois Social Hygiene league, Chicago Opthalmological society.

Carelessness of Americans chiefly is responsible for increasing blindness, it was agreed. Carelessness of workmen in factories causes 15 per cent of the accidents which result in loss of eyesight, and the carelessness of millions of other persons in neglecting their eyesight or abusing it helps to add to the thousands of sightless, speakers declared.

The great cause of blindness used to be neglect of the sight of new-born infants, it was pointed out. But legislation making it a crime to omit dropping prophylactic fluid into the eyes of the infant nearly has eliminated the cause.

Dr. William L. Benedict of the Mayo clinic, Rochester, Minn., advocated stringent measures for restricting the marriage of diseased persons. Thousands of infants, the offsprings of such marriages, are doomed to life-long blindness, he said.

"In some European countries, marriage by a person suffering from a social disease in an infectious stage is an offense punishable by a fine of $2,500 or five years at hard labor or both," he declared. "Blindness in children caused by venereal disease stands today as a stinging rebuke to the unwillingness of the voters to authorize legislative control of diseased men and women in marriage contracts."

Dr. Benedict admitted there were obvious difficulties in the way of adopting such legislation in this country, but voiced a hope that some modified form of such legislation could be enacted.

A step forward in the war against blindness has been taken with the establishment of "sight saving classes" in the schools of the country, it was announced. There are fifteen such classes in Chicago schools. There half-blind children are given special attention. Many of the delegates spent the day inspecting those classes.

Among others who addressed the convention yesterday were Dr. Lucien Howe, of Cambridge, Mass., credited with founding the movement which led to the saving of the eyesight of thousands of infants at birth; Dr. R. L. Cornell, assistant professor of obstetrics of Northwestern university; Dr. John Green of St. Louis, and Prof. W. T. Bovie of the Bio-physics department of Harvard university.

Antoinette Gives the Recipe for a Lovely Neck Line

By Antoinette Donnelly

That well known crêpe hanger, Time, can be ruffled a bit if you choose to do honest battle with him before he puts his first finger print on your neck.

The best looking neck line on a woman nearing 50 came under my observation last week. Not a crinkle under the chin, where so much crêpe hangs and makes looking in the mirror anything but a joy for countless women! For fifteen years, the woman tells, me she never has gone to bed without massaging her neck and finishing off with an ice rub.

That, to some women, might seem like a job alongside which death were pleasanter to dream about. But we have discovered a metnod of patting that neck line so that it won't hang in folds like last year's curtains—a method designed for lazy folk.

Perhaps it isn't laziness that prevents more women from applying the hand of prevention to that most fatal of the three telltale lines of age. Some simply find it too tiring to stand and pat the flesh with patter or back of the hand. For these is the following suggestion:

Get your face washed and creamed for the night. That means scrubbing the neck, too. Then, just before you hop into bed, put a pretty good layer of cream on under the chin. Have a clean piece of cheesecloth at hand to wipe the hands with. But after you get into bed do your neck patting, most of which, unless you are a left handed person, will be done with the right hand. Pat lightly from one ear to the other, pressing the flesh on the upstroke. Then take both hands and with the back of the fingers work in opposite directions up to each ear.

Lying prone you can and will keep up the patting work a couple of minutes longer than you probably would if you were standing up or sitting in a chair. With the cheescloth wipe off the surplus cream.

If you have taken the precaution to protect the pillows with a towel you can, with advantage, leave a coating of the cream on. Or, if you're not averse to waking up in the morning with a chin strap on, use one of these, which will permit you to let a fairly good supply of cream remain on all night.

Then, in the morning, rinse the face and neck in cold water and if you can spare a minute run out to the icebox, chop off a little piece of ice, and give the face and neck a rub.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

Forgotten Them.

It was my first commencement as a high school principal. For days I had planned for this important event. Since I had not been in the community long, I wanted everything to go smoothly.

The church where the exercises were held was packed to the doors with friends of the graduates. At last the time came for the processional. Slowly the graduates, teachers, and board of education marched down the aisle to their seats in front of the church.

I gave the signal to be seated. As the teachers and graduates seated themselves I turned to see if all were in their proper places. To my embarrassment, there stood the board of education in the aisle. I had forgotten to reserve seats for them.

After considerable time most of the board members found standing room in the back of the church. I have never forgotten my first commencement.

Canadian Premier to Unveil Arlington Memorial Oct. 29

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Premier Mackenzie King has accepted an invitation to deliver an address at the dedication on Oct. 29 of a memorial in Arlington cemetery, Washington, to the Canadians who gave their lives while fighting with the American forces during the world war, it was reported today. It has been suggested that a contingent of Canadian troops accompany the prime minister as an escort.

Evan Evans to Put Actors' Equity Ball Back on Social Map

BY NANCY R——.

Here's word that another of those large and brilliant parties which always contribute so much to the gayety of nations during Chicago's winter season is being organized and will take place in mid-December.

It's the Actors' Equity ball, and that past master of ceremonies, Evan Evans, is to be in charge of the festivities. For two or three years the Actors' Equity ball has been missing from the winter calendar here, but Mr. Evans is enlisting the service of well known Chicagoites to put the event back on the social map, and to keep it there as one of the outstanding annual events of the year.

What's more—and this is to be an interesting feature—his committee will be entirely composed of the beaux of the town, thereby relieving all the altruistic and annually overworked members of the fair sex from any but the responsibility of having a good time. The Aragon ballroom has been donated for the party, and the date set is Dec. 15.

It's always disappointing to learn that valued members of our beau monde are moving elsewhere to reside, and the announcement that the Dirk Van Ingens are going to set up their lares and penates in the east is sad news indeed.

During the years they were stationed at Fort Sheridan, and since Mr. Van Ingen's resignation from the army, they have been conspicuous in fashionable circles out Lake Forest way, and leaders in the riding and hunting crowd there, and they will be much missed by their many friends. Mr. Van Ingen goes to New York early in November, and his wife and children will follow him thither the end of the month.

Day's News in Society

Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Olaf von Hofsten of Winnetka announce the engagement of their daughter, Frances Louise, to Kenneth Price of Chicago. Miss von Hofsten is a graduate of Bryn Mawr and Mr. Price of Williams college. The wedding is planned for next June. Mr. and Mrs. von Hofsten and their daughter, Miss Polly, are in Winnetka for a fortnight, en route to California, where they plan to pass the winter.

The Arts club's first tea of the season will take place this afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock. The occasion is the opening of an exhibition of the plans and drawings of the students of the Foundation for Architecture and Landscape Architecture, whose session has just closed at Lake Forest. Walter S. Brewster is president of the organization. The exhibit is to be on display until Oct. 31. The members who will pour include Mrs. Edward L. Ryerson, Mrs. Tiffany Blake, Mrs. John W. Gary, Mrs. Walter S. Brewster, Mrs. Augustus A. Carpenter, Mrs. Charles H. Schweppe, Mrs. Alfred H. Granger, Mrs. R. R. McCormick, Mrs. Alfred Hamill, Mrs. John A. Holabird, Mrs. F. A. Cushing Smith, and Mrs. Charles B. Pike.

Mr. and Mrs. James Simpson of 1200 Lake Shore drive are sailing tomorrow on the Majestic for Europe. They will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. William Simpson and James H. Harper.

Mrs. Arthur Van Schaick of Connecticut, a former resident of Highland Park, is visiting Mrs. John H. Harmon of that suburb. She came to be present on the occasion of Miss Ethel Harmon's debut reception last Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Alexander of Highland Park and their son have returned from a stay at Greenwich, Conn.

Sorority Conventions to Open Here Today

Northwestern university chapter of the Zeta Tau Alpha sorority will be host to the province convention of the sorority which opens in the Orrington hotel today. Delegates will be present from the universities of Illinois, Indiana and Michigan; Franklin college, Butler college, Millikin university and Lawrence college. Miss Grace Mattern of Madison, Wis., is province president. On Sunday afternoon the delegates will give a tea for Mrs. Robertson Beverly of Richmond, Va., national president of the sorority.

The annual convention of Kappa Phi Sigma sorority is to take place this week-end at the Stevens hotel The Chicago affiliated chapters are to give a dancing party this evening, and the program also includes a luncheon on Saturday at Maillard's, a business meeting and initiation at the Stevens in the afternoon, followed by the annual banquet. Miss Mary Bill is grand president of the organization.

WEDDINGS

Announcements have been received of the marriage of Miss Marianne Erdice Wickham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Youngs Wickham of the Belmont hotel, to Jerome Burton Rockhill, son of Mrs. Clayton Rockhill of New York, which took place on Oct. 7 in Greenwich, Conn., Suffragan Bishop Herbert Shipman of New York officiating. Mr. Rockhill is a Yale graduate and his bride was graduated from Vassar last June. They have sailed for a honeymoon abroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Hardy of 5747 Kimbark avenue have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Ruth, to Robert William Jaeger Jr., which is to take place on Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Joseph Bond chapel of the University of Chicago. A reception immediately after the ceremony will be held at the Windermere hotel.

Henderson D. Graff of the Kenwood hotel announces the marriage of his daughter, Margaret Davis, to R. Richard Jacobsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jacobsen of Oregon, Ill., Wednesday. The ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Homer T. Hirst, the Rev. George Thomas of St. Paul's Episcopal church officiating.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Edward P. Warner, assistant secretary of the navy for aviation, gave a luncheon today for Baron C. Shiba of Tokio, member of the house of peers, who is making a short visit in Washington. Mr. Warner, who is the youngest official of the government in Washington, was joined recently by his sister, Miss Elizabeth Warner of Cambrige, Mass., who has just completed her college course at McGill university in Canada.

Mrs. Frederick Dent Grant had a small company at dinner this evening.

Mrs. Samuel Williams Earle, recording secretary general of the D. A. R., has taken an apartment at the Mayflower for the winter and will arrive here tomorrow from her home in Chicago.

The former secretary of the treasury and Mrs. William Gibbs McAdoo have arrived in Washington to spend the winter. They have taken a residential apartment at Wardman Park hotel for the season.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $5 for each childish saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Write on one side of the paper. Address bright sayings to Aunty Bee, The Tribune, Chicago.

When Elsie was in the third grade she looked forward for days to the Valentine party and returned from school on that eventful day laden with trophies as a signal of her popularity.

But the evening mail brought an anti-climax, a post card, on one side a brace of hearts and in golden letters that phrase dear to the feminine heart: "To my sweetheart." But on the other side was scrawled in pencil, "To Elsie from George. P. S.—I don't mean what it says on the other side."

The first taste says "BAKED"

The first taste tells the story. So does the last. Heinz Beans are really baked—baked in ovens. Nothing else could give them that rich, golden brown, appetizing look—that tender mealiness—that honest-to-goodness oven-baked flavor.

You also get Heinz own delicious tomato sauce which permeates every bean.

When you ask for baked beans, be sure you get beans that really are baked in ovens. Beans not baked cannot be labeled "baked". Read the label. · The taste is the test.

Thousands

Follow this simple daily rule to keep "That Schoolgirl Complexion"

By NORMA SHEARER

CLEAR, radiant skins have come to thousands who, exhausting costly beauty treatments, have learned this simple rule of nature.

Today it is credited by millions with bestowing that schoolgirl complexion on those who make a nightly habit of it.

Wherever you go, you see fresh, charming faces a result of following it.

Wash the face gently with Palmolive. Massage its balmy olive and palm oil lather into the skin.

Rinse with warm water; then with cold. That is all—it's nature's rule for keeping that schoolgirl complexion.

Largely on expert advice, millions use Palmolive Soap as above; and touch their faces with no other. For it is a true complexion soap. A soap made of cosmetic oils; made for one purpose only—to protect and beautify the skin.

Do that regularly, and particularly before bed. Note how much better your skin in even one week. Use powder and make-up all you like. Never leave them on over night.

GET REAL PALMOLIVE

Get Palmolive today. Costs but 10c a cake. Use no other on your face. But be sure you get GENUINE Palmolive. Crude imitations, represented to be of olive and palm oils, are not the same as Palmolive. Remember that and take care. The Palmolive-Peet Co., Chicago, U. S. A.

THE GOLDEN SOLDIER

This Diatribe on the Gold Digger Meets a Deaf Ear

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"I am about disgusted with girls! They all seem to be gold diggers, living for no other reason than to get as much enjoyment out of life as they possibly can. The worst part is that some fellow has to pay for it, probably spending his last cent on them without the least bit of return.

"Please don't rate me as another poor sport, pessimist or what have you. I want to tell you a few of my experiences with the weaker sex.

"Weaker be blooey-ed. We're the weaker sex. We're like putty in your sex's hands. And this is no compliment to you. Take that 'you' as general, of course. But to continue:

"I have known and still do know quite a few girls. Some are pretty, some exceptionally clever, others just mediocre. And of them all, only one refuses to let me escort her home from a dance, theater or party in a cab.

"Don't think that because a girl accepts my offer of a cab she is a gold digger. No, but when she doesn't ask herself where the fellow earning a salary of thirty per manages to find enough to take her out as often as she desires, which usually is three or four times a week, then I feel justified in giving her that monicker. You probably ask yourself why I don't find myself a girl who stays home and knits for excitement. I do expect a girl to retaliate by inviting me to her home where we can spend a pleasant evening. These girls never think of it. They have nice homes and their parents would rather have their daughters there once in a while, too.

"One of these girls I dated for a popular show. She wasn't a bit reluctant about going to a night club after, nor in wanting the taxi ride five miles to her home. I had just been paid that morning. To carry me through the rest of the week I had exactly $1.57 out of nearly $59. It's a joke and the joke is on me. I know this must read like the work of an unstable mind, but I can assure you I am quite rational. DANIEL."

Daniel, you give an excellent picture of a young man who wants to cut a wide swath with the ladies. A good deal of a four flusher, extending invitations you hope will not be accepted.

The young women have their faults, but if you want the answer to theirs you can find it in just such young men as you are—spending beyond your means to keep up a big front.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Banana Cake.

The predicament of a little cook—we imagine her little—at four o'clock one afternoon not long ago, gave us the idea of trying out banana cake recipes. She wanted to make a banana cake—she had never made one—for dinner guests, and some of the ingredients were lacking. What could she do? She was advised to make a cake that she had made before because there is no worse policy than trying to cook something new and different for guests. It is not even good manners.

Banana cakes—the banana inside not in a filling or garnish—are somewhat like applesauce cakes, because you can spare the eggs entirely, but without the egg the cake may have to ripen a day or two to be good—many sorts of fruit cake require just such ripening and sometimes quite long ripening—and may be tough, yet palatable, and even excite to more or less greedy eating when fresh. We should say the following was of this sort:

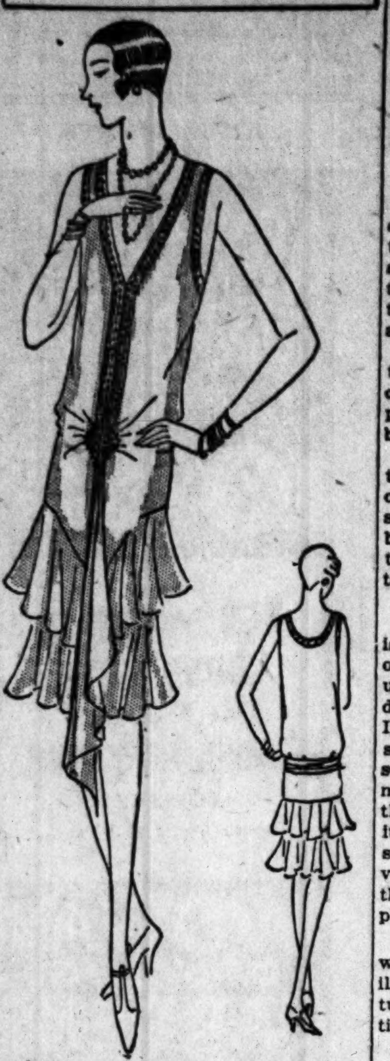
Three bananas, one cup of brown sugar, one tablespoon of butter, one-half teaspoon of salt, one and a half cups of flour, two teaspoons of baking powder. Bake in a loaf.

Now, as anybody can see, a supposed and good reason why this should be a bit tough is because of the scant amount of shortening used, and this could be increased. It seems to lack liquid, but bananas when mashed are quite wet and actually are or average seventy-five per cent water. A loaf cake batter must not be too wet.

A recipe for banana puffs tried out reads: Three good ripe bananas mashed with half a cup of milk, two cups of flour, two teaspoons of baking powder, one-half cup sugar, two tablespoons melted shortening, one egg separated, one-half teaspoon of salt, one teaspoon of vanilla. Bake twenty minutes in a hot oven. This makes one dozen tea cakes.

We added to this recipe one-fourth of a teaspoon of baking soda, because bananas contain some acid.

This Gown Achieves the New Silhouette



by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Inspired by Jenny is this autumn evening gown of white satin with its long corsage broken at the front by an ornament from which radiate lines at either side. It is trimmed effectively with silver sequins merging into that central ornament and from that ornament depends the long, graceful front drapery nearly always associated with this type of gown.

Jenny has created a number of satin models ringing the changes on this inspiration. Some of them are trimmed, as is the case here. Others, on the contrary, achieve their perfection merely through sophisticated grace of silhouette. A marked example of this latter method occurs in a frock of rose colored satin from this house. As in the above sketch, the corsage is pointed and opens down the front. But, instead of being trimmed with sequins this employs the plain, ungarnished lines. Also does this other model eschew the ornament in favor of simple shirring which, however, produces the same effect of radiating lines.

In this rose colored satin Jenny describes the same upward movement of the corsage at the sides which we witness here, but in place of the circular flounces introduced in the above there is a circular skirt with godets flaring at the sides. The identical front drapery of our sketch contributes that coveted irregularity of hem.

This type of gown, one of the most striking of our new evening models, is affiliated in sentiment with that princess theme to which I referred earlier in the week. It is not, however, so severe and for that reason is more universally wearable.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

He Should Write First.

"Dear Miss Blake: If your boy friend goes away is it proper for him to write first or should the girl write first? PAULINE."

It is his place to write first, Pauline. If he doesn't do so, it shows he was able to forget you quickly and doesn't deserve to hear from you.

She Wonders.

"Dear Miss Blake: I like a certain boy. I gave him my phone number. He has not called. Has he forgotten me? HELEN."

He may be waiting for a more convenient time when he may phone you and see you, too. Don't be impatient.

YOU AND YOUR CHILDREN

by Mrs. Gladys Huntington Bevans

If parents don't map out their own course clearly, how can they expect the children to know where they stand? If they don't point out closely the road they wish the children to take, the wise little things will go straight along the path of their own desires.

There are two kinds of treatment in the matter of obedience that confuse children very much and make it impossible for them to feel firm ground beneath their feet.

One has already been discussed under the title of The Absolute No, pointing out that when "No" is the first answer to a child's request, it should also be the last answer—not weakly changed to yes after a child has coaxed and teased and wept to get his or her way.

The other kind of treatment which is not good for a child is, on the part of a mother or father, an absolutely unconscious thing. I am sure they don't even realize they are using it. It consists in saying no in a firm tone several times, and then going on to some other concern, leaving the command hanging in midair, not taking the trouble to follow it up and see that it is obeyed. Under these circumstances the child takes a natural advantage of the situation and finding that nobody bothers, does as he pleases.

If you are in any doubt as to just what I mean, her is a little scene which illustrates the point, and which unfortunately is often enacted in this particular child's life:

The hot English muffins are being passed. The dark-eyed little girl takes one. In a moment her mother notices it.

"Honey, you can't have these, you know."

Conversation goes on.

"Mary," says her grandmother, "those are too heavy for a little girl to eat. Give it to grandma."

"Of course not, Mary. I told you. Let me have it."

"But Mummy, I want it—I love dem."

Th telephone rings. Mother goes to the phone. Grandmother listens.

"Is that Barton's?" Grandmother asks. Mother nods.

"Mary splits her muffin, butters it, and takes a huge bite.

"Hold the wire a minute," says grandma. "I want to tell him about those hollyhook plants. And Mary, don't take another bite of that muffin."

Grandma leaves the table, Mummy sees Daddy off to the train, and Mary eats up her muffin with gusto. The matter is forgotten by every one—except Mary. She remembers for next time.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

A Sad Case.

"Do you think you could get an artificial limb for an old man I know? He is totally blind and lost his left leg some time ago, so it is pretty hard for him to get around. At present he is in a sanitarium. A. F."

To be old and in need is a sad enough situation to warrant the deepest sympathy, but when this is accompanied by almost total disability, surely we are moved to come to such a person's immediate assistance. Can you supply the limb which will be such a comfort to this unfortunate man?

OFFICIAL WEATHER FORECAST

The official forecast for today and tomorrow and yesterday's table of records follow:

Wisconsin—Generally fair, not quite so cool Friday; Saturday unsettled and warmer, possibly local showers.

Lower Michigan—Partly cloudy Friday; Saturday increasing cloudiness and warmer.

Upper Michigan—Mostly fair Friday; Saturday unsettled and warmer, probably showers.

Missouri—Fair Friday, not quite so cool; Saturday increasing cloudiness and warmer.

Now! a Bathroom Paper
20 times sterilized

Costs no more than ordinary paper

Northern Tissue comes to you as white, soft, absorbent, and sanitary as sealed hospital cotton—proved so by actual laboratory test. Used by hospitals. Recommended by doctors. Costs no more than ordinary toilet paper.

Doctors Advise the exclusive use of this sterilized Bathroom Paper (especially where there are children) because its extra hygienic protection safeguards health

Ask for WOMEN!

Read this important announcement, for which there is medical authority and the testimony of thousands of women:

There is no longer any need for any woman regularly to suffer pain.

No more painful periods. Not a particle of pain any part of the time. And this is done without narcotics. Feminex is a formula which must rate with the world's great medical discoveries.

Try to realize all that feminex means in freedom, comfort, health and happiness. The days you have set aside each month for suffering can be the same as any others, so far as any pain or even discomfort is concerned! Hard to believe, but very easily demonstrated. Feminex always works.

Most druggists have received their supply of feminex, and it costs a quarter.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking it according to directions. Ask your druggist. (Adv.)

A RECORD MAKING
SALES CAMPAIGN.

There's a reason. Our new big ten million dollar water front development started on Lake Michigan has never before been available to the public at our low pre-opening prices and easy terms. That's why it is proving a real "best seller." Increasing business makes it necessary to employ a few more over 25 years of age, with good references. With or without experience. If you are experienced you can start earnings at once. If you have no sales experience, but are willing to start in a small way, our veteran sales managers will give you personal co-operation and help you every step of the way. We will also consider a few men who have made a success in other professions.

SALARY, COMMISSION AND PERMANENT WORK WITH A FUTURE IF YOU QUALIFY. APPLY IN PERSON, 6TH FLOOR, 69 W. WASHINGTON-ST. FRIDAY, 10 A. M. TO 5:30 P. M.

A POSITION IS OPEN to a salesman with or without experience in our business; one that is seeking better than the usual and ordinary opening; or one that is familiar with Park Ridge. We have some very choice properties in Park Ridge and have a position for one man to assist me in showing them. Have more people than I can personally handle. Absolutely no canvassing or digging up of prospects. Call 11-12 a. m. Room 616, 29 S. La Salle-st. Mr. Redfield, or phone Franklin 6380 for appointment.

A MAN WANTED

to assist me in showing homes and bungalow sites on N. W. Side of city; have more people than I can personally handle; $60 weekly average; while sales experience is helpful, a real conscientious worker can fill this position, and he will be advanced as rapidly as his energy and capability will permit. Room 616, 29 S. La Salle. MR. WILSON.

ANY MAN

who is regularly calling on retail merchants can build up a permanent business on a product that is easy to sell and will repeat. Short interviews and quick sales for the high class men. Suite 517, 30 E. Randolph-st.

ARE YOU STILL LOOKING for a live one? Stop right here. This is a new deal and a good one. Not real estate. Every he-man a prospect. Sales resistance practically eliminated. If you can't hit here get a pick and shovel. This position is good for $30 a day every day. DON MILLER, 1509, 6 N. Michigan-av., 10-1 and 2-5.

ARE YOU TIRED OF ANSWERING ADS?

We are in need of a few good men. We don't know how to shoot the bunk, but we can and will tell you after a 10 minute interview whether or not we can employ you. Our product is a home necessity in large demand and sold direct to consumer on liberal installment terms. WE PAY THE HOUSEWIFE $1.50 FOR YOUR INTERVIEW. Salary and commission. Not real estate, electric appliances, or investments. Call 407 S. Dearborn-st., Suite 1380.

ASSISTANT TO MANAGER.

Clean cut, good appearance, over 25 years. Steady position with excellent opportunity for promotion if you can qualify. Man with selling experience preferred. Call at 180 N. Michigan-av. Room 707. Mr. Green.

AT WHAT RATE
DO YOU VALUE
YOUR TIME?

Commission salesmen have but one cashable asset—TIME spent getting cashable signatures.

The only reason we can assure topnotch straight commission salesmen more income—often double their present income—is because 100% of their time can be spent selling and signing up orders. We don't care whether you are now earning $10,000 or $3,000—it can be increased.

No time lost delivering goods, making collections, chasing down dissatisfied buyers or making service calls for the House. No three weeks pillar-to-post nursing before buyer is ready to say "Yes." No missionary work. No sitting around waiting for "another issue." No trips to town after town for just one or two picked prospects. No "designs" or "copy" to submit or long conferences to endure—ALL AT YOUR EXPENSE.

You see we KNOW how the straight commission, go-getter loses money; therefore, we know what will make him money.

Knowing your TIME is MONEY, how would you like to take your present sales ability, applying it 100% to commission paying effort, and thus double your income without being any better salesman than you are now?

Yes, you will become a better salesman later; we'll help you to do that—that's when your selling time pays you still more money.

Just figure out how little of your selling time, each day, is now spent actually closing business, then figure out how easily you could double your earnings with each day spent closing order after order at an average $45 commission per sale. Then you'll begin to realize what your TIME is really worth.

No red tape; you don't have to break down any doors for a man-to-man talk; nor go under a microscope. All we want to know is that you can SELL.

You'll miss something if you don't at least investigate right now.

Telephone Mr. H. G. O'Hara, Hotel Eitel, Superior 4568, and listen to the details of a business which will give you what you have been wanting all your life. Or write fully your selling experience. Address L S 56, Tribune.

MAN POWER
PLUS
AUTOMOBILES.

I want to talk in a serious way to several serious-minded men who realize they have come to a time in life where they should line up with a reliable concern and take a position that will be permanent, where advancement will be certain and the immediate income satisfactory.

I want men who want to make selling their lifework—men who are not too good to learn and who are willing to work a full 8 hours each day. I can truthfully show a real opening for the present and future to such men.

The men I place must use automobiles. If you own a car, I will arrange to pay you for its use. If you have no car, I will supply one without cost to you.

These positions are open now. The work is entirely city work. I will personally see that the men selected are properly trained and will have experienced men, successful men, go right into your territory with you to teach you the finer points of our business.

I don't care what your present work is—you may be an inside worker with no sales experience, but if you think you can qualify, I invite you to come in Friday afternoon and we will talk this opportunity over.

SALES MANAGER,
ROOM 919,
77 W. WASHINGTON-ST.

COLLEGE MEN.
AN UNUSUAL OPPORTUNITY.

An established company, the outstanding leader in its field, is desirous of adding to its selling organization a few college men [from 27 to 31], who feel that with adequate training they could qualify in selling work requiring poise, caliber, and a quick acting personality; and to whom an opportunity to earn from $5,000 to $7,500 a year immediately would be an incentive to hard work and serious study. The company's product is favorably known and has been advertised nationally for 20 years. Write a full letter and an appointment will be arranged. Give telephone number. Address K G 11, Tribune.

THOUSAND DOLLAR

for your efforts if you go to work and carry out my instructions a few hours each evening. Believe I am conservative when I say you can earn $1,000 commission between now and December 25th. BAKERY DRIVERS, ICE MEN, TYPEWRITER SALESMEN, BRUSH SALESMEN, BOOK SALESMEN, this work will not interfere with your present occupation. If you can qualify, will give you full time position. Do not apply unless you are 25 years or over. Call between hours of 9 a. m. and 8 p. m. and ask for the Manager, Room M-48, Mezzanine Floor, Morrison Hotel.

MEN OVER 45 YEARS OLD.

We have a special opportunity for men along in years—between the ages of 45 and 60. We do not consider these men as too old to start; in fact, for our special work they are just at the desirable age to cash in and make real successes.

We can place 6 men in permanent territories north of Madison-st. at once and will co-operate in a 100% way to insure immediate success. Call Friday afternoon.

GENERAL MANAGER,
ROOM 918,
77 W. WASHINGTON-ST.

WE WILL PAY SALARY and COMMISSION to intelligent, neat appearing men to call on people and book appointments. Big money to those who qualify. References required. Call and see MR. JONES, Suite 402, 6 N. Clark-st.

Men Who Will Work and Who Want to Make Money.

We manufacture and sell our own products. We do not care whether you have sold or not. Our business and selling can be mastered by the average man. You are taught how to learn while earning $40 to $60 weekly. In 3 months you can be making $75-$100 a week. If you want work and money see MR. GALLAGHER, Room 203, 537 S. Dearborn-st.

MEN — YOUNG, OVER 18; PERMANENT position; experience unnecessary; good pay. 127 N. Dearborn-st., Room 844.

Help Wanted with Investment.

MANUFACTURER OF METAL PARTS, ESTablished 6 years, needs more capital for expansion; we desire to make connections with a man who has $15,000 to invest for one-third interest with service; must have sales exec. or engineering experience; factory located in Chicago. Address K E 321, Tribune.

A RECORD MAKING SALES CAMPAIGN.

There's a reason. Our new big ten million dollar water front development started on Lake Michigan has never before been available to the public at our low pre-opening prices and easy terms. That's why it is proving a real "best seller." Increasing business makes it necessary to employ a few more.

AMBITIOUS WOMEN,

over 25 years of age with good references, with or without experience. If you are experienced you can start earning at once. If you have no sales experience our veteran sales managers will give you personal co-operation and help you every step of the way. We will also consider a few who have made a success in other professions.

SALARY, COMMISSION AND PERMANENT WORK WITH A FUTURE FOR THOSE WHO QUALIFY. APPLY IN PERSON FRIDAY, 10 A. M. TO 5:30 P. M., 69 W. WASHINGTON-ST.

ABILITY to work.

To follow instructions.
To appreciate opportunity.
To be capable of earning real money, is what we are looking for in five women. If you have had experience you can appreciate what a remarkable opportunity this is upon an interview with us, and if you have not had experience, but feel that you can qualify with the above requirements, we will give you unlimited co-operation and will help you to get started with leads and a nominal salary.

See General Sales Manager, 3615 Irving Park-blvd., after 11 o'clock.

Miscellaneous.

HERE IT IS! THE AD YOU HAVE BEEN LOOKING FOR. THE MOST AMAZING OPPORTUNITY IN CHICAGO TODAY.

If you want a real opportunity, if your wishbone has not switched places with your backbone, and if you DO realize the absolute necessity of earning more money each week and the practical advantages of becoming a member [either part or full time] of this well known institution, we will put you in good paying positions if you really devote a few hours of your spare time every day in our work. NOW, THEN, IF YOU ARE REALLY SINCERE, READ ON.

LARGE INDUSTRIAL EXPANSION PROGRAM has made it possible for us to create a new department and to open new positions for women over 25 years of age who are at present employed in some legitimate work, or those unemployed that can furnish references. Ordinary common sense the only educational requisite.

We will show you how our employes can make big money in their spare time.

NO EXPERIENCE OR RED TAPE.

Successful applicants should earn an extra weekly income from the moment their names are placed upon the pay roll, while still retaining their present positions. This is not an experiment, but a bona fide, dignified employment that every ambitious woman in Chicago would be glad to avail herself of if she knew the facts. NOW, IF YOU REALLY NEED MONEY and if you are really sincere in your desire to better your financial position, DON'T HESITATE. Apply in person only at the time mentioned below.

CALL AT ROOM 1512,
624 S. MICHIGAN.

Friday afternoon, Oct. 14th, 2:30 SHARP, or at 8 o'clock sharp Friday evening, Oct. 14th. Idlers, star gazers, and curiosity seekers, stay away. Remember the time, 2:30 sharp Friday afternoon or 8 o'clock Friday evening, Oct. 14th. None considered after the above mentioned time.

OFFICE OF THE CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND AND PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS.

Chicago, Illinois, August 24, 1927.

A special meeting of the stockholders of The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway Company, duly called by the Board of Directors, will be held at the office of the Company, La Salle Street Station, in the City of Chicago, Cook County, Illinois, at ten o'clock in the forenoon on the 31st day of October, 1927, for the purpose of considering, voting and deciding whether the stockholders of the Company will concur in, ratify and approve the proceedings and resolutions of the Board of Directors had and adopted at the regular meeting of the Board of Directors held August 24, 1927, wherein and whereby the Board of Directors authorized, and whether the stockholders will authorize,

[1] The creation of an authorized issue of Secured Gold Bonds of the Company to be issued in series from time to time and to be limited to the aggregate principal amount of $80,000,000 at any one time outstanding;

[2] The execution and delivery of a Trust Indenture, with The National City Bank of New York as Trustee, to secure the payment of said Bonds, which Trust Indenture shall provide for the issuance of a series of $40,000,000 principal amount of said Secured Gold Bonds of the Company to be designated as its Secured 4½% Gold Bonds, Series A Due September 1, 1952, to be dated September 1, 1927, to mature September 1, 1952, to be redeemable prior to maturity at the option of the Company on the terms stated in the Trust Indenture and to be issued upon the pledge under said Trust Indenture as security therefor of $45,000,000 principal amount of the Company's First and Refunding 4% Gold Bonds due April 1, 1934, and shall further provide for the issuance of additional series of said bonds thereunder from time to time, maturing at such dates, bearing such rate of interest and with such provisions for redemption and upon the deposit, as security for each series, of such collateral as may be determined upon at the time by the Board of Directors of the Company;

[3] The inclusion in said Trust Indenture of covenants to be made by the Company for itself and [in case of consolidation, merger or sale] for its successors and assigns of substantially the following effect:

[a] That neither the First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds of the Company nor any bonds prior in lien thereto will be extended;

[b] That on or before the maturity of the First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds, to wit, April 1, 1934, the Company, its sucessor or assign, will make a new mortgage which shall be a lien upon all the properties then subject to the First and Refunding Mortgage and will make provision in said new mortgage whereby all the Bonds then outstanding under the Trust Indenture to The National City Bank of New York, as Trustee, shall be secured by the said new mortgage equally and ratably with all obligations to be issued under such new mortgage;

[c] That the total amount of bonds to be secured by such new mortgage [together with all outstanding prior debts, after deducting the bonds reserved thereunder to retire the prior debts] shall not exceed three times the then outstanding capital stock of the Company, its successor or assign; and

[d] That pending the making of the said new mortgage the Company, its successors and assigns, will not make any new mortgage upon any of the property subject to the lien of the First and Refunding Mortgage, so that upon satisfaction of the latter the new mortgage may have the same rank as the First and Refunding Mortgage now has;

[4] The approval of the form of the Trust Indenture;

[5] The pledge at the present time under the Trust Indenture of $45,000,000 of the Company's First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds as security for the $40,000,000 Bonds of Series A;

[6] The issuance at the present time of $40,000,000 principal amount of said Secured Gold Bonds to be designated Secured 4½% Gold Bonds, Series A Due September 1, 1952, and the sale thereof upon such terms as the Board of Directors may determine;

[7] The conferring of power upon the Board of Directors and officers of the Company to take all such action as may be necessary or advisable in connection with the creation of said authorized issue of $80,000,000 principal amount of Secured Gold Bonds and the issuance and sale or other disposition from time to time of additional series of said bonds;

[8] For the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

By order of the Board of Directors,
J. E. GORMAN, President.
CARL NYQUIST, Secretary.

APARTMENT TOWN HOMES
8 and 9 Rooms—3 and 4 Baths
399 FULLERTON-PKWY.

Acknowledged as one of the finest home buildings in all Chicago, because of—

Right location and environment, facing Lincoln Park's most beautiful section with a permanent view of Park and far flung shore line, the best refinement of today in architecture, equipment, and appointment and highly accredited personnel already established.

We believe that if you will come and inspect this building, see the large sunlit rooms, the unusual number of large closets, tiled shower rooms, and the many other features that make for comfort and restfulness, that will commend itself to you as the one building in which to establish your permanent home.

For 4 Rooms.
Mechanical icing, lights, electricity for cooking and carpets are free.

Even the smallest unit has an electric stove with both broiler and oven in a kitchen entirely separated from living quarters. The sinks have drain boards as large as in a home. A real workable kitchen in a 1 room unit. It's new and different.

REAL ESTATE LOANS.

LOANS

Regardless of who holds your first mortgage, the Chicago Morris Plan Bank as agent for a substantial loan fund, will consider your second mortgage. We are confining our loans to homes, and we include up to a three flat building as a home [provided the owner lives on the premises].

We apply the same rate to all second mortgage loans, whether it be a home or a flat, and if you will compare the rate to which we have recently reduced you will certainly agree that the rate is a low one.

Effective October 1st rates on second mortgages were reduced to 6% interest and commission of:

8½% for 1 year.
6½% for 2 years.
9% for 3 years.

We have plenty of money, we have a well organized real estate department, appraisals are made promptly and all the conditions of our second mortgage loans are considered in the light of real helpfulness to home owners in this community.

AUTOMOBILES—GASOLINE.

DO YOU KNOW

That another "BUTLER" used car sales event is now in progress?

Do you know that we are naming positively sacrifice prices on our entire stock of used and rebuilt cars?

Do you realize that we have always met the serious considerations of all used car buyers from the standpoint of year, price, value and condition?

We are going to turn our used cars into cash. We are willing to sell them for less than cars of same make and model were ever sold before—hundreds of dollars less.

A Genuine Opportunity

Your Choice of

77 SPARKLING BEAUTIES

In our stock you will find practically every make and model—one or more in every class—77 beautiful cars in all. The prices are CUT, not "SHAVED" to tempt the wary buyer, but, ACTUALLY CUT. They will sell—they are bound to—at these prices.

THESE CARS ARE ON OUR MAIN FLOOR.

To pave the way for this successful event, every new Peerless car has been removed to our second floor. You'll find the used cars on the main floor. Our entire sales staff to serve you. Think of it—no waiting—no hurry. Expert instructors are at your beck and call. Point out the car of your choice. Any car gladly demonstrated without obligation. Come in early.

SPECIAL $1-$1-$1-$1 FEATURE

At each of our stores is a used car of a well known make that we will sell for the price of $1. No drawing; no lottery; no element of chance whatever involved. Each will be sold when a large number of people have had the opportunity of seeing them. They are on the main floor, one at each store, displayed together with the rest of the other bargains. Come in. Try to pick it out.

OPEN CARS: $165 AND UP.

CLOSED CARS: Proportionately Priced.

ONLY $795!

FOR AN ERSKINE DEMONSTRATOR

WITH A NEW CAR GUARANTEE

Think of it—the Erskine Six, Studebaker's famous 2 1-3 litre car, offered at the amazing price of $795—a saving of $270 a car!

We have a few sedans and sport coupes that were driven only a few hundred miles and are absolutely in brand new condition—and these "Little Aristocrats" will be sold immediately at this new amazing price.

The Erskine dominates its field because of its sensational performance and distinctive appearance. Each car sold is equipped with 4 wheel brakes, snubbers, oversize balloon tires and 1 extra, bumpers front and rear, and many other valuable accessories—and carries a 90 day new car guarantee.

LIBERAL TERMS

Remember, we have only a few of these demonstrators left. First come—first served!
